B. F. LONG, JR. KILLED.

The Chapel Hill Train Strikes Him While He Is Waiting for the Train Going to Raleigh—He Was Crushed Badly and Died From the Effects.

A sad and horrible accident occurred at Chapel Hill station Thursday morning when Mr. B F Long, Jr., of Statesville, was struck by the Chapel Hill train while waiting for the train to arrive going to Raleigh.

The train knocked him to the ground and dragged him some distance, but fortunately the wheels did not go over his body. When the cars were stopped he was fastened and could not be released for a considerable time. Before he could be released from under the car, suffering most intensely by the breaking of his right thigh, left arm, and collar bone, he begged most pitifully that he be killed rather than suffer such pain.

All aid could not save his life and at 8 o'clock Thursday night he died at the Watts hospital at Durham. A gloom is cast over the body of students at the University by the loss of their mate, who was a bright and promising young man. His father reached his bedside before he died, but his mother did not reach there until about 2 o'clock that night.

Brandon Means, who is attending school at Mebane, and the young man Long, had both been telegraphed by their fathers to come down to Raleigh, where Mr. Means and Mr. Long were attending supreme court. Brandon was present when the young man was taken from under the car. As a relief from his awful pains he begged Brandon to kill him.

Remember the Orphans.

When the gratitude of your heart prompts you to make a thank-offering to God on Thanksgiving Day, don't lose sight of the work being done in our orphans' homes throughout the State. Don't overlook the claims upon you of these little, destitute, fatherless or motherless ones.

Send them a contribution or help to get up a box of provisions or clothing for them. The work appeals to all of us. No offering will be more acceptable and pleasing to God.

High Commendation.

Mr. Wm. Latta, chairman of Lecture committee of Wilmington writes to Mr. H B Thearle, manager of the Louise Brehany Company as follows:

"It may be pleasing to you to know that in my opinion nothing has ever been upon our platform that has given me so much pleasure as the Louise Brehany Company; all parts are grand. I would desire nothing grander.

Mr. Emmitt Fisher Married.

On Thursday afternoon, the 16th, in the Methodist church at Hickory, Mr. Emmitt Fisher, who lives near Salisbury, was married to Miss Ethel Harris, of that place. After the ceremony the couple boarded the train for the groom's home.

Sudden Death of a Kentucky Congressman.

A Frankfort, Ky. dispatch of the 16th says: Congressman Evan E. Settle, Democratic member from the Seventh Kentucky at Owenton, died of heart disease, at 5 o'clock this evening.

Wrecked the Safe But Got Nothing.

A Cleveland Dispatch of the 15th says: "An unsuccessful attempt was made by cracksmen to rob the Garfield Savings Bank at Euclid, an eastern suburb. The safe in the bank was completely wrecked and the front of the building blown out by a powerful explosion.

"So far as can be learned the robbers secured no money, although a large sum was in the safe. There were two heavy explosions which awakened people living near by.

"A citizen opened fire on the robbers, some four or five in number, and they fled, all escaping without injury so far as known."

Close After Aguinaldo.

Manila dispatches of the 16th express the belief that Aguinaldo has made his escape but so narrowly that his wife's wardrobe has been captured and it is believed the secretary of war is inside our lines. Among the stores captured are several thousand pounds of rice, 7,500 pounds of salt, 5,500 pounds of flour marked "Dayton, O.," 2,500 pounds of sugar, 1,300 new uniforms and hundreds of thousand of mauser shells.

The dispatch further says the names of Lieutenant Gilmore and seven of his men were found written on the walls of the convent of San Quintin. The garrisons of all the towns surprised resisted feebly. Gen. Wheaton has not yet appeared.

The Meteors Capricious

It seems we have had a pass-over by the shooting stars that gleefully may have played a rubber-neck game on us. In Russia, however, they were in all their glory Thursday morning, and scared many of the natives, who thought the judgment had come. The display was fine in Berlin. In Crescent City, Ill., one failed to burn out in its descent and the aerolite struck the corner of a dwelling on its angling course and knocked off part of the upper story and buried itself in the ground near the foundation. The things seem rather capricious.

The Stanly Enterprise Again Reiterates.

In the last issue of the Stanly Enterprise in which is the card in defense of Rev. N R Richardson, of that place, Editor Bivins adds the following in addition parenthetically: "We wish to again reiterate that the evidence referred to above relates only to individuals and there is no proof that they were Pythians."

The Means-Winecoff trial has not been held yet.

FATAL MISTAKE.

A Doctor Who Was Poisoned by His Own Medicine.

The Eastbourne police have just received information of an extraordinary fatality, of which the victim was Dr. John Dick. Mrs. Eliza Jane Geer, of Eastbourne, consulted the deceased at his surgery. He prescribed for her and made up a bottle of medicine which Mrs. Geer carried home. The next morning Mrs. Geer took a dose of the medicine and became so very ill that Dr. C H H Cameron, of Old Town, was sent for and attended her.

At about 1 p. m. the same day Dr. Dick called and Mrs. Geer informed him that the medicine he gave her had made her ill and that she believed it had poisoned her. The suggestion angered the deceased, who exclaimed, "You could understand a man who drinks poisoning people, but not a man who is always sober. It is only iron and bitters, and to show you it is not poison I will take some myself."

Deceased then put the bottle to his lips and drank some of the contents and then said: "It is nasty, but you should not think it poison. I will take some more before I go." This Dr. Dick did after some further conversation, and then rode away on his bicycle.

He apparently proceeded direct to his home, whereupon his sister, Miss Kate Dick, opening the door to let him in she found him foaming at the mouth and he fell against the door. He asked for the stomach pump, which he used with some effect, and he was afterward attended by two other doctors. It was at one time hoped that his life might have been saved, but he expired on Sunday.

The contents of the bottle stated to have been given by the deceased to Mrs. Geer have been analyzed, and it is reported that they contain a large quantity of strychnine.—London Globe.

While There is Life There is Hope.

I was afflicted with catarrh; could neither taste nor smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marcus G. Shantz, Rahway, N. J.

The Balm reached me safely and the effect is surprising. My son says the first application gave decided relief. Respectfully, Mrs. Franklin Freeman, Dover, N. H.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

"Why, Harry, what is the matter?" asked a lady of her small nephew who was crying bitterly. "M-mamma whipped m-me," sobbed the little fellow, "an' I'm cryin' c-cause I wasn't b-born an orphan."—Ex.

All persons violating this notice will suffer the full penalty of the law. W. L. MORRIS.

A Negro Row at a Festival.

Sheriff Peck and Deputy Townsend went out in the country this afternoon in search of some negroes wanted for bad conduct at a festival last night. It's the same old story that always results from these occasions. Pistol shots and rocks went through the air, and a bountiful amount of cursing, of course. The affair occurred over beyond White Hall.
