Missing Valise Sent to the Owner.

About a week ago Mr. Wade Walter, of Concord, N. C., was at the Southern depot, passing through the city. He left his valise in the waiting room and when he went in to secure it prior to boarding his train, it was missing. He could not find it. Some one had carried it off through mistake. Officer Jackson, of the city police force, after Mr. Walter's departure found the valise, but had not ascertained his address until a few days ago, when he expressed the missing valise to Mr. Walter.—Spartanburg Herald.

Fire From Linseed Oil.

The steamship, Patria, burned in the North Sea on Thursday. The remarkable part is that the fire was from the spontaneous combustion of linseed oil. We remember to have read a warning that a rag, with which linseed had been applied, dropped into shavings or other combustible matter is liable to ignite and produce a fire.

Seemed Like Prophecy.

Major Logan said to a friend when he accepted his commission as major to serve in the Philippines, "If it is my fortune to lose my life in the war I hope it will be at the front, leading my troops." It was fulfilled as prophecy.
