TOO AWFUL FOR IMPUNITY.

One sickens with horror at every recurring thought of the consequences so narrowly averted by Mr. John Moore's finding the dynamite on the railroad track. Who can be such a misanthrope as to plot the death of those who have never wronged him? Is there loose in the world one so idiotic as not to know that complete wreck would most probably have been the consequence but for the fortunate find? What punishment can be adequate for such a crime? There is an eye without whose notice a sparrow doth not fall and by whose reckoning the hairs of the head are numbered. The staying hand of Omnipotence was laid upon this most despicable design in the history of our county, and there can be no case for such a conscience. If legal justice does not reach this villain a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation must haunt the miscreant. It was a crime conceived in the madness of evil that calls down destruction on such as evolve it.

TO KNOW THE SOIL

State Chemist Dr. B W Kilgore is at work in the eastern part of the State to ascertain by chemical analysis and scientific investigations the adaptability of soils for the different crops and the make-up of fertilizers most suited for them. It will take some years for him to get over the State. He will make a map, too, which will give immigrants the advantage of choosing the location adapted to their wants.

There are only two Southern States, Georgia and Louisiana, says the Raleigh Post, that have advanced to this high stage of scientific soil study.

While a very advanced step, it is none the less a much needed aid.

Practical experience is of great value in agriculture, but experiments without intelligent theory or the foundation of knowledge are often very unsatisfactory, and it is not certain sometimes whether results are due to or in spite of the course pursued.

How much better that every agriculturist should know what crops are suited to the soil or what fertilizers are needed.

THE BEST PRESCRIPTION FOR CHILLS and fever is a bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Never fails to cure; Then why experiment with worthless imitations? Price 50 cents. Your money back if it fails to cure.

The rooters are now rooting in great force to root Eihu Root into the Vice-Presidential Route. Poor Pritchard, he did not quite get troops into the state in '98 to control the election. It is a foregone conclusion that he won't be Vice-President, and if he does not succeed in getting the United States Senate to instruct the Supreme court on the proposed amendments it will look like that luminary is waning.

The Christmas exercises of Georgeville Academy will be held on Friday night, the 22nd.

Mrs. H T Sawyer has returned to New London after spending Monday at Mr. J L Crowell's.
