FOR THE "TAR HEELS."

The North Carolina talent met at the interstate oratorical convention at Messrs. Whitehead Kluttz and Wm. S. Bernard, of Chapel Hill, Messrs. E. B. Crooks and Carl Monk, of Vanderbilt University, Tennessee, on Friday night, the 20th, in that institution, in discussion of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should not maintain permanent possession of the Philippine Islands." The North Carolina boys had the negative and won. It seems the more creditable to the talents of these young men that in the nature of the question they won against the popular sentiment, at least in Democratic circles. The preponderance of the logic was that the United States should maintain permanent possession of the Philippines. That's funny enough that the Populist convention declared that the amendment is above party and is left to the judgment and conscience of each individual and that the Populist party is more than any other a distinctively white man's party and, in its great anxiety to solve the race problem, it proposes an amendment to the constitution to prevent negroes from holding any office in the State as long as the 15th amendment of the constitution of the United States stands. It's clear enough that if Butler and Thompson could put the party lash on sensible Populists and whip them into line they would do it, but they know too well that they can't. It is also clear that the negro is wanted to place others in office who can't be elected by the best citizens, but none of the pie is intended for him.

Newspapers the Best Detectives.

Speaking of newspapers, Sam Jones says: "If I wanted to get a right square judgment, I'd rather go in a newspaper office than a court of justice. No man whose life is true, pure and just is afraid of all the newspaper presses in America. They are the best detective force in the country today. They have punctured more shams, and, so far as I am concerned, I say take the bridle off and let them go. The only ones that will be hurt will be the shams and frauds. And if you think the newspapers print too much of a sensational kind, don't you read it. The papers need to be reformed, but the people have got to reform first. Newspapers are printed for money, and to suit their patrons. If you think they are run on a high moral platform, like Mr. Barnum's circus, just reform yourselves, and the paper will follow suit."

Rhyme and Reason.

If you toot your little tooter, and then lay aside your horn, there's not a soul in ten short days will know that you were born. The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day, and the man who keeps a-humping is the man who employs pay. The man who advertises with a short and sudden jerk is the man who blames the editor because it didn't work. The man who gets the business has a long and steady pull and keeps the local papers from year to year quite full. He plans his advertisements in a thoughtful, honest way, and keeps forever at it until he makes it pay. He has faith in all the future, can withstand a sudden shock, and like the man of Scripture has his business on a rock.—Ex.

One of the young men who will be among the richest of the rich men of the first decade of the 20th century is Harry Payne Whitney. He is at present the heir of three great fortunes. His father, William C. Whitney, is worth probably no less than $75,000,000; his uncle, Col. Oliver Payne, has nearly as much, and it will go to him. His wife, who was Gertrude Vanderbilt, will receive something like $15,000,000 from her father; so taking in all in all, Harry Payne Whitney is liable to be one of the richest men in the United States a quarter of a century hence. He is a fresh-faced young man, is a lover of all athletic sports and is not averse to the club and social pleasures, which he can so well afford.—Anderson Intelligencer.

Crip makes one sick, weary and restless. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine brings rest.

The State Journal, a weekly periodical published in Raleigh is again before the people under the unique motto: "White Supremacy, Administered by the Republican Party." The Journal comes out boldly, independently, and we think, logically for the constitutional amendment, fully anticipating that its party platform will oppose it emphatically. It is right pleasant to have on our desk a Republican exchange that is even half way right and we gladly put the Journal on our list hoping that the amendment carried will greatly improve the chances of good journalism for those of our opponents who can't come all the way.

Butler, in his speech before the Populist convention yesterday accused the Democratic convention of being made up of lawyers, office seekers and their friends. If Marion Butler is not a lawyer and an office seeker himself what is he?—Monroe Enquirer. [We don't know so much about the lawyer part but he's certainly an office-seeker and a biather-skite and scamp thrown in.]

Rutherford College to Be Opened in the Fall.

The committee appointed by the Western North Carolina Conference to buy Rutherford College was constituted a board of trustees in case the purchase was made.

The purchase having been made the board met in Morganton on Wednesday last, members present, Rev. D. Atkins, D. D.; Revs. R. M. Hoyle, G. O. Little, L. L. Smith, J. W. Jones. Messrs. B. F. Davis, J. D. Glass and J. A. Lackey. The board decided to open school next September or October. A president was selected but his name is withheld from the public until it is known whether he will accept. Prof. G. P. Jones, of Catawba High School, was elected to fill the chair of the commercial or business department. Other members of the faculty will be selected by the executive committee after consultation with the president.—Morganton News.

A Washout Near Gaffney.

We learn today that No. 74, a northbound freight train, was wrecked last night at a small place called Thickety near Gaffney, S. C. A washout was the cause of the wreck. It was not learned whether or not anyone is badly hurt.

Good Gravel Mixture.

A gravel mixture containing ten parts of pebbles ranging from an eighth of an inch to an inch in diameter, six parts of sand and four parts of clay is said to be an excellent material for surfacing roads. Experiments have shown that this combination as a whole will neither "run" nor crumble under the wheels of a wagon.—Pneumatic.

Questions Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by all dealers in civilized countries.
