GALVESTON BEING RELIEVED.

Provisions and Money Flow in—Bodies Buried in the Sea Wafted Back—City Will be Rebuilt.

The Galveston situation is being relieved as fast as possible by the rolling in of supply and clothing trains and money contributions. The latter has now gotten up to $300,000. More than $25,000 was raised in New York Thursday.

A new horror and menace to health has risen for those distressed people. The dead bodies that were taken to sea for burial are now being wafted up on the shores by the tides.

They must be disposed of again. Thousands of barrels of lime are being used for sanitary purposes.

The probability now is that the city will again be built though many will not return to the scene of so great distress and loss.

Placed There in 1839.

Mr. Jim Brown says that the old elm tree that was cut down in front of the court house yard the other day was placed there in 1839, and that he assisted in putting out that one and the rest of the row that stands along there.

Came Over This Morning.

Hall Taylor came over from Charlotte this morning and says his brother Jim, who had his foot mashed about two weeks ago, may have to have it taken off, the doctor will decide today or tomorrow.

Came Back Last Night.

The Colored Fire Association that has been in session at Salisbury broke up yesterday, and a car load of darkies passed through here last night, from that place. A few from here that went came in last night.

WASHINGTON'S AWFUL FIRE.

Town Literally in Ashes—Worst Since the Civil War—May Reach $200,000 Damage.

The town of Washington, N. C., suffered a terrible fire scourge Thursday. It is said to be worse than that by the "Yankees" during the Civil War.

The loss is estimated from $150,000 to $200,000.

It started from a defective flue about 1 o'clock and raged at 5 o'clock. The town is literally in ashes.

Memorial Service Will Be Held.

Memorial service in honor of Dr. C M Payne will be held at the First Presbyterian church this evening at 5 o'clock. Dr. Rumpel of Salisbury, will officiate.

Chapel Hill's Blaze.

A special of the 13th to the Morning Post says:

"Chapel Hill was visited by a destructive fire this afternoon, the total loss being about $6,000 or $7,000.

"The fire originated at 1 o'clock in a two story frame residence occupied by Editor W H Thompson, of the Chapel Hill News, and owned by W G Peckham, of New York. It was a ten room building and in a few minutes was a mass of flames. The building was worth $1,500, covered by insurance. Mr. Thompson's loss by fire and breakage is about $200; no insurance.

"The fire next caught the new store of J D Webb, a frame building. The stock was valued at $5,500. It was partly saved, but damaged about 50 per cent. The building cost $2,250 and is a total loss, with no insurance on stock or building. In the second floor of this building were the halls of the Masons and Knights of Pythias. Both were destroyed. The Pythias' loss is $350; insured for $225. The Masons' loss is $150; no insurance.

"A two story frame building owned by Mrs. Julia Graves and occupied by P L Herndon's undertaking establishment was also burned. The stock was saved, but damaged; insurance $500. The building was worth $1,200; not insured.

"Hard and heroic work of citizens and students saved half the town being burned. Soon after the fire started Mayor Barbee wired Durham, asking for help. In thirty minutes two pieces of apparatus and thirty men were ready to go on a special train, but a message came saying the fire was under control."

NEWS CULLINGS.

Col. A B Andrews gave $2,000 to the auditorium committee of Asheville.

Mayor Lord, of Salisbury, has also asked the citizens to refrain from watering lawns, as the supply of water is inadequate.

The Truth-Index said Thursday morning that the Salisbury Cotton Mill would close Friday evening and remain closed till Monday a week on account of lack of cotton.

Governor Russell Thursday respited Medlin, who was to have been hanged next Tuesday at Dallas for the murder of Mr. Brown, and fixed the date for Medlin's execution for October 18th. This is Medlin's third reprieve. It was for the purpose of securing clemency for him that F I Osborne, Esq., of this city, went to Raleigh Wednesday to see Governor Russell. Mr. Osborne returned home yesterday.—Charlotte Observer.

Found $4,000.

Parties in Lexington Monday reported a remarkable find of Mr. Ben Snider about ten days ago. While out plowing on the old Jack Finch farm, in Conrad Hill township, Mr. Snider unearthed a bar of metal weighing something like fifteen pounds. He didn't know what it was, but carried it home and threw it aside. Later a neighbor was examining it and offered him $50 for the bar; Snider refused the offer and it is now said the bar is gold and is worth at least $4,000.

Various theories are advanced as to how the gold came to be buried in the ground. One is that a negro, named Fred Payne, who worked in the old Conrad Hill mine years ago, stole the bar and buried it. A few days after the theft he was taken sick and died without divulging the secret as to the whereabouts of his buried treasure. Whether this is correct or no we are not prepared to say.—Davidson Dispatch.

Endured Death's Agonies.

Only a roaring fire enabled J M Garrettson, of San Antonio, Tex., to be down when attacked with asthma, from which he suffered for years. He writes his misery was often so great that it seemed he endured the agonies of death; but Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption wholly cured him. This marvelous medicine is the only known cure for asthma as well as consumption, coughs and colds, and all throat, chest and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Fetter's drug store.

A woman listens to the advice of her husband, but she invariably does as she pleases just the same.—Aurora News.

A woman's idea of studying a man's character is to hint around to try to find out if he has ever been in love.—Galveston News.

Character.

Character is greater and higher than money, intellect, or love, because it determines the use and direction of these three. It is the character of the rich man which determines whether he shall be a benefactor or a curse to society. It is character which determines whether the learned man shall use his knowledge as a destructive or as a constructive force in society. It is character which determines whether love shall be a passion working havoc in human life or a grace beautifying and ennobling life. Character is the determining force behind money, intellect, love, and so it is the greatest force in human life. Realizing this, all will appreciate the necessity of careful thought and thoughtful care in building character.—Great Thoughts.

Mr. Franklin Sherman Arrives to Succeed Mr. Cooper Curtice.

Mr. Franklin Sherman, the newly elected State entomologist, arrived this morning and will immediately assume his duties in the agricultural department. Mr. Sherman is from Halifax county, Virginia, and is a graduate of Cornell University. He comes highly recommended by the president of that university; the State entomologist of Maryland and other prominent scientists.

Mr. Sherman succeeds Mr. Cooper Curtice, who has been State entomologist here for the past two years and has done a wonderful work. Mr. Curtice came here from New York and he now returns north to become professor of biology in the University of Rhode Island.

Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson, in speaking of Mr. Curtice this morning, said: "We regret to lose him. He has done a great work in North Carolina in discovering and preventing disease among cattle."—Times-Visitor.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. For sale at Marsh's drug store.
