Sabbath Observance.

Yesterday we were gratified to see the advertisement of a meat market closing its doors against Sunday delivery. This is the right step. Outside of any religious principles, a man is not a law-abiding citizen who prosecutes his regular avocation on the Sabbath day. The Lord in mercy and wisdom set apart a day of rest, and our forefathers have bequeathed us a rich heritage in a civil law which protects that day against whatever disquiets the day or deprives any of their rest. Blackstone says: "A corruption of morals usually follows a profanation of the Sabbath," and our own observation bears sad testimony to the correctness of the statement.

It has been a matter of surprise to us through the past summer that ice wagons were on the streets, meat markets delivered their goods, and drug stores sold drinks, cigars, gum, etc., on Sunday in Concord. These things ought not to be, and we trust an aroused public conscience will soon develop a sentiment which will place not only a few women on record against it, but the whole community on the side of God and right.

All honor to the man who has taken the initiative.

Four Negroes Lynched.

A bad state of affairs exists in Tangiwoah parish, La. A group of negroes had burglarized a home and Mrs. Holifetter, the inmate, resisted them. They choked and beat her into insensibility, on which she became insane. Infuriated citizens went Thursday night and broke the jail and took out four negroes accused and hanged them. The feeling is fierce and order is difficult to restore. A promiscuous lynching is feared.

HORRID STORY MAY BE TRUE.

Chinese Provoke and Russians Resent With Barbarious Fair.

We copied a dispatch on Friday too horrible to believe, it seemed to us, with regard to Russians massacring 5,000 Chinese. The following New York dispatch of the 21st puts something of a plausible face to it:

Concerning the massacre of Chinese at Blagovestchensk, by Russians, The Evening Post contains an account from G. Frederick Wright, one of the faculty at Oberlin, O., College, who was erroneously reported killed at Peking. The letter is written from Stretensl, Siberia, under date of August 6. As soon as the Russian troops went down the river on transports, July 14, the fort at Aygun began without warning to fire upon passing boats and on the 15th fire was opened from Blagovestchensk, and some Russian villages were burned opposite the fort. The actual injury inflicted by the Chinese was slight, but the terror caused by it was indescribable, and it drove the Cossacks into a frenzy of rage. The peaceable Chinese, to the number of 3,000 or 4,000 in the city, were expelled in great haste, and being forced upon rafts entirely inadequate were most of them drowned in attempting to cross the river. The stream was fairly black with their bodies. Three days after, hundreds of the corpses were counted in the water. Mr. Wright says:

"In our ride through the country to reach the city on Thursday, the 19th, we saw as many as 30 villages and hamlets of the Chinese in flames. One of them was a city of 8,000 or 10,000 inhabitants. We estimated that we saw the dwellings of 20,000 peaceable Chinese in flames that awful day, while parties of Cossacks were scouring the fields to find Chinese and shooting them down at sight. What became of the women and children no one knew; there was apparently no way for them to escape to a place of safety. On our way up the river for 500 miles above the city, every Chinese hamlet was a charred mass of ruins. The large village of Motcha was still smoking and we were told that 4,000 Chinese had been killed. The wholesale destruction, both of property and of life, was thought to be a military necessity. Peace between the Russians and the Chinese has come to an end. Years cannot wipe out the enmity engendered."

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had severe attack of bilious colic got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured", says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicines from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured". BLOOD SHED BEGUN.

Shenandoah Mob Fired Upon and Two Killed—The Usual Starting Point.

Blood has been shed a ready in the mining regions. Affairs have taken their usual trend and at Shenandoah, Pa., on Friday the sheriff, with a squadron of men, was conducting some working miners home in the evening. A threatening mob had gathered on the way which made it necessary. At a point where men, women and children had assembled, composed of Poles, Slavs and Huns, a pistol shot was fired from the mob; which seemed a signal and a shower of stones followed with further threatening when the sheriff ordered his men to fire. One man and a girl were killed and a number were wounded. The mob then made a rush for the officers, who had to take refuge in a building.

Troops were telegraphed for and will be on hand.

NEWS CULLINGS.

Rock Hill, S. C., has had another scolding murder, this time among the colored folk. Will Watson, a tall and heavily built man, who is now a fugitive, shot and killed Mary Wingate, whom he had ruined and promised to marry.

Two shares of stock in the Eford Cotton Mill at Albemarle sold Friday for $150 each, while the par value is but $100.

A Raleigh Associated Press dispatch of the 21st says: "Mrs. Addie Bagley and Mrs. Josephus Daniels, mother and sister of Ensign Worth Bagley, the hero of Cardenas and the first officer killed in the Spanish-American war, left here today for Bath, Me., where they go to attend the launching of the torpedo boat Bagley, named in honor of the dead ensign. Mrs. Daniels will christen the new boat. The ceremony is expected to take place next Tuesday."

Fayetteville is still figuring on a bleachery with some hope of success.

The Anderson Intelligencer says that young men by the dozen are being turned away from Clemson College for lack of room.

A FRESH LINE OF NICE CANDIES, ALSO NICE FRESH SUMMER CHEESE AT S. J. ERVIN'S

Questions Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by all dealers in civilized countries.
