Under the new ratio, after 1834, even fractional currency was worth more when melted than its coinage value, and therefore in 1853 it became necessary to provide a fractional currency, containing a reduced number of grains to the dollar, and their legal tender was limited to $5. The Spanish milled dollar was still in circulation, but the highest amount of foreign silver by the estimates of the treasury department in circulation at any time was $50,000,000. In 1860 the gold circulation was $214,000,000 and subsidiary silver $21,000,000. While 4,000,000 silver dolcome a fad, and if it does and strikes lars had been coined they have all gone out of circulation, being worth more when melted as bar silver than their

If 68 years of experience with free and unlimited coinage of both metals showed that by free and unlimited coinage we were unable to affect, first, the unlimited coinage now will so increase is 50 per cent?

It cannot be claimed that the legisla ously affected the commercial value of silver, for since that time we have furnished a market for $600,000,000 of silver, very much more in proportion to our increasing commerce than went through our mints during the days of free and unlimited coinage of silver.

The fall in the price of silver can easily be accounted for. In 1878 the world's product of silver at coinage value was $81,000,000; in 1892, it was $196,450,000; in 1893, $209,165,000, from Mammoth Cave, Ky., was sum- and in 1894, $214,481,000.
