Mr. John D. Bellamy of Wilmington, according to the Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, said Tuesday that the sound money men had business in the Democratic party and ought to leave it. If they should follow Mr. Bellamy's dictation, there would be precious little of the party left.

The minutes of the last meeting of the North Carolina Press Association have been issued from THE TIMES job office. It makes a book of 64 pages, which fact accounts for the delay in issuing.

THE TIMES learns that Rutherford College has only about 20 students. A few more escapees like that up there last week, and even this small number will no doubt be materially decreased.

An article in our paper last week entitled "The State Fair," should have been credited to the Biblical Recorder.

Out of 136 members of the Kentucky Legislature the Populists elected 21.

An Illinois Incident.

Atlanta Journal.

A Democratic faction in Illinois led off in the business of holding a convention to declare free silver a cardinal Democratic doctrine. The sound money Democrats in Illinois refused to participate in the primaries for delegates at that convention and less than 2 per cent of the Democratic voters in the State voted in response to Henrietta's call. The convention met and assumed to speak for the Illinois Democracy. It adopted the most extreme free silver resolution that could be drawn and its leaders announced their intention of sending a free silver delegation to the next Democratic national convention. One of these buoyant silverites was ex-Congressman Lane of the eighteenth Illinois district. A few weeks ago the congressman elected in that district died and Lane was nominated on an out-and-out free silver platform. He made his campaign almost solely on that issue and was left at home by a majority of 3,000. What makes the defeat of Lane especially significant is the fact that in 1892 when he was elected by a majority of 5,000 in the same district where he has just been defeated.

Mr. John J. Cook, of Mineola, Texas, arrived at his home in No. 5 on last Friday from the Lone Star State. His photograph gallery and outfit was destroyed by fire in July, 1894, when the town of Co. Texas burnt down in smoke and heat. Then he hired himself to a man by name of Tunc. Tunc was a merchant and edited two papers in Wills Point. Just about the time he had worked two months in the photo work for Tunc he (Tunc) made an assignment and thereupon lost the value of his labor. John says his advice to one and all who are going to leave their home to subscribe for THE TIMES. He said he could not express the joys and sorrows one could learn each week from his far off home. He says he never knew the value of a newspaper until he had subscribed in the Texas State Fair at Dallas and the Atlanta Exposition on his way home. He is at this writing in Mt. Pleasant.

The farmers of Texas say that the cotton crop is one-third, and the price is about the same as here. The price of corn here is fifteen and twenty-five cents per bushel.

GENERAL NEWS.

As a result of Tuesday's election the Populist representative in the Mississippi Legislature will be reduced from 55 to 8.

Senator Chandler predicts war between the United States and England. He gives much time—twenty years—for it to begin, and says it will result in the annexation of Canada.

The Sultan of Turkey seems to be defying the European powers in regard to Armenian reforms, while reports from Turkey in Asia indicate that affairs are growing worse.

Affairs in Cuba are said to be approaching a crisis. The insurgents are making great progress and are well supplied with arms, but the approach of dry weather will allow opportunity for military operations, and some decisive battles are expected.

Much interest has been created among Nebraska Democrats as a result of election returns showing the relative vote of the two wings. Mahoney, administration candidate for supreme court, received 14,500 and Phelps, silver man, 5,000.

The South Carolina Constitutional Convention has passed a section providing that a prisoner be lynchable through the negligence of the officer who has him in charge, the officer shall be removed and be ineligible to office after conviction.

A special from Rome, Ga., to the Constitution says that Dr. Robt. Battey died there Friday. Dr. Battey was one of the most distinguished surgeons on the world. He was the originator of the "Battey operation" which is performed all over the world and especially in Paris. He was born in Augusta, Ga., in 1828.

Under the new constitution of Utah, eight men instead of twelve make a jury. Women can vote and serve on juries. Polygamy is prohibited, but it is not at all certain that the Mormons will not control the politics. They made a trade with the republicans at the last election by the republicans succeeded on Tuesday.

The campaign of 1894, which resulted in the defeat of the free-silver democrats in Alabama, will be fought over. Governor William C. Oates, the Democratic ex-Congressman who was nominated and elected last year in the sound money platform, will head the sound-money forces again in a campaign for renomination. His term will expire next November. The election will occur on the first Monday in August next.

In the Exposition grounds at Atlanta is a kind of nursery where small children and babies may be checked like baggage and properly cared for while their mothers see the sights. Gastonia lady just returned says there are two babies in the nursery that haven't been called for. No trace of their owners can be found, nor do any of the nursery people remember any clue on which to base a search. The unwilling mothers appear to have adopted a pretty effective way of getting rid of their unmanageable luggage, says the Gastonia Gazette.

A Greeny Fleece out of $800.

Washington Dispatch, 9th.

North Carolinians here sympathize with Mr. J. N. Cartwright, the merchant from Shiloh, Camden county, whose confidence in a stranger caused him to lose $800 yesterday, particulars of which were telegraphed you. It seems that Mr. Cartwright started two days ago with $800 cash to purchase his winter stock of goods for his country store. While waiting in Norfolk for the boat he was approached by a stranger, and so entertaining was the stranger that he soon made friends with Mr. Cartwright, and as they strolled along the wharf, Cartwright told the stranger that he was going to Baltimore, Va. to purchase a stock of goods, and that he was carrying all his money, $800, in his valise. The stranger said he was going to Washington also.

When they arrived they both registered at the New Hotel, deposited their valises with the clerk and received checks for them. The stranger, by some slight of hand, reversed checks and took Mr. Cartwright's. Mr. Cartwright went into breakfast, and a few minutes afterwards the stranger came and asked for his valise. As the check corresponded with the one on Mr. Cartwright's valise he took the valise with its contents. When Mr. Cartwright learned a short time afterwards of the robbery, he was so overcome that he cried like a child, for he said it was all the money he possessed. Detectives were put on the case and Mr. Cartwright returned home on the next boat.

Populists Decide to Quit.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., November 8.—The indications are that within the next month the Populist party organization in this State will disband. The men who have been carrying on the agitation for four years have about decided that there is no future for the party in this State and that they might as well abandon it.

E. B. Cummings, the secretary of the committee, has tendered his resignation. The other officers and members of the State committee will, it is said, follow the example set by the secretary. The men who have been leading the party here say they have information that the members of the executive committee of the national committee have decided to resign. There is some talk of organizing a labor party, which shall take up and advocate Populistic principles.

Released by a Mob from Jail.

NEW ORLEANS La., Nov. 11.—A special dispatch from Purvis, Miss., about a hundred miles from New Orleans, says the jail at that place was broken into about midnight Sunday and Will Purvis, convicted whitecapper under sentence to be hanged, was liberated. Purvis was sprung up by the sheriff at Columbia but was saved by the breaking of the rope. The sheriff was persuaded to postpone any further attempt to execute the sentence of the law until the courts could review the case. The supreme court last week re-sentenced Purvis to be hanged December 11th. Many doubt the guilt of the prisoner and Governor Stone has been deluged with petitions to commute the sentence to imprisonment.

Of course the cheap moneyites blame it all on Cleveland. Their theory falls down, however, when they come to account for the result in Maryland, where Gorman, the President's sworn enemy, was the conspicuous figure, and Kentucky, where the fight was led by Blackburn and Hardin, who devoted the most of their campaign to blackguarding Cleveland and the administration.

STATE NEWS.

Judge Coble Saturday morning gave an oral decision in the penitentiary case, answering only the first issue: "Was the plaintiff legally elected?" "No."

The Charlotte graded school, with its 1,100 children and its corps of teachers, along with a large delegation of citizens will leave for Atlanta on the morning of November 24.

Frank Townsend, of Richmond county, made this year with one mule 24 bales of cotton, 210 bushels corn, 100 bushels peas, 2,400 bundles fodder, 110 gallons sorghum and $30 worth of watermelons.

Reports made by cotton-ginners in the State are that they cannot get the usual number of pounds in a bale owing to the peculiar lightness of the cotton, and they estimate that bales weigh on an average ten pounds less than usual.

A Nash county negro who had served eight terms in the penitentiary for stealing chickens and pigs got home from that institution, at 3 p. m., on a recent day, says the Rocky Mount Argonaut, and at 9 p. m. was caught robbing a hen house.

A correspondent of the Statesville Landmark says that Rev. C. M. Ayre, a Baptist preacher of Mt. Airy, is known as a great dreamer. If, while he is conducting a meeting, or any time previous to its beginning, he dreams of fishing and catches many his success in the conversion of souls will be great, but if on the other hand he dreams of catching none his success is little.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer tells of a case which occurred before a magistrate at Pineville, Mecklenburg county. When the case was called the defendant asked for removal on the ground that he could not get justice. Whereupon the "court" remarked that any man that said he (the court) would not give him justice was a liar. The defendant replied that if the court said that he would swear a lie he was a liar, and picked up his hat and walked out.

The Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer says the interesting case of Miss Edna Halsey vs. the Great Falls Manufacturing Company, of Rockingham, was disposed of in the Superior Court of Richmond county last Saturday. The plaintiff was an operative in the Great Falls Cotton Mill at Rockingham, and in April, 1893, was injured by the elevator, on which she was going from the second to the fifth story, falling with her. After a trial of three days the jury rendered a verdict in favor of Miss Halsey, judging her damages at $2,250. Judge Hoke, who was presiding, reduced the verdict to $1,500, which amount the company will have to pay.

Live Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 9th. The result of last Tuesday's election should teach the Democratic party the immediate and absolute necessity of organization and a spirit of conservatism. The Republican majorities in certain States were so large that several Presidential possibilities were perhaps forever eliminated from the contest of the future. Among these are: Gorman, Hill, Carlisle, Bruce, and Campbell.

Wm. F. Harity, chairman of the Democratic committee, is here. He says the National Committee will be called to meet in this city early in January to decide where the nominating convention will be held. He says the election of last Tuesday, while they showed great Republican victories have not disheartened us, by any manner of means. We shall get together again by next November and we will make a good showing in the next campaign. We will select a good candidate. I don't know who it will be—and we will show the country that the Democratic party is still very much alive.

Senator Marion Butler has rented a beautiful house here 1741 Q St. N. W. While I have never had any patience with the Populists I have always thoroughly respected their cause, and personally. His wife is one of the finest women in the state. North Carolina will have reason to be proud of her, from a social standpoint, before six years have passed, or I am no prophet.

How Populism Was Affected.

The report comes from Kentucky that the Populists helped the Republicans to carry that State. They had been declaring that they would never permit Gen. Bradley, a strong gold-bug, to be elected Governor. And yet they helped to elect him Governor. They did worse than that. They helped to elect a Legislature that in all probability will send a gold-bug to the United States Senate in place of Senator Blackburn. The Populists howling for "free silver" thus helped to drive a nail in silver's coffin.

In Mississippi the Populist representation in the Legislature was reduced from 28 to 8.

In Kansas, the home of Populism and the scene of its earliest triumphs, the Republican majority was in the neighborhood of 80,000.

In Utah, where there was a chance of making a new, good start, Populism practically did nothing but help the Republicans win.

The truth is that as a national force the Populist party is dead. It only awaits burial.

Stany County News.

ALBEMARLE Enterprise.

We are glad to note that Dr. F. E. Hartsell of Georgeville, Cabarrus county, has decided to locate in Albemarle. Dr. Hartsell is a very energetic young man of 40 years, a splendid physician and will be quite an addition to our town and community.

The county commissioners were in session Monday and in addition to the regular routine of business usually gone through with at such times. County Treasurer Mr. George D. Palmer, to the surprise of all, tendered his resignation which was accepted, and Mr. I. W. Snuggs was elected by the board to fill out the unexpired term.

Dr. J. N. Anderson also tendered his resignation as Superintendent of the County Board of Health Monday which was accepted and Dr. D. P. Whitley, of Millington, was elected to fill out the unexpired term.

An Anti-Lynch Law Passed.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 9.—The principal action taken by the convention today was the passage of an anti-lynching provision. It provides that if any prisoner in charge of a sheriff or other State and county or municipal officer is seized and taken from such officer through his negligence, permission or connivance and suffers bodily harm or death, such officer shall be removed from office and shall be ineligible to hold another if upon trial he is convicted.

In Dead and Done For.

Charlotte Observer.

The wayfarer man though a fool can find no excuse for not seeing, in the light of the returns from the recent elections, that the free coinage of silver is a dead issue. Even the Richmond Dispatch, a paper which has occupied an exceeding conservative position upon this question says:

"The free silver movement is dead, and will soon show that it is dead. So large and respectable a party as the free silverites will not die in a day, we may be sure; yet we may be confident that it has received its death wound. The field may be considered as open to the national Democratic party and closed to the men who would have the coinage ratio at 16 to 1 with the co-operation with other countries. Campbell, Whitney, Hill, Carlisle, and all the rest of the Democratic aspirants to the presidency, will be glad to see the death of the silverites may show some signs of life, but their career is practically ended."

In no state or locality where the ground was contested on this question Tuesday did free silver black the board. Even in Nebraska, supposedly a free silver State, and where the Democratic party divided on the issue, each faction running a ticket, the sound money Democrats polled nearly two votes for every one cast by the cheap moneyites. The cause is yet alive and active in North and South Carolina and Mississippi but it is to be hoped that this will not be so long. We call upon the free silver Democrats of North Carolina to abandon this discredited fall, this hopeless and dying cause, and put themselves in line with the national Democracy and with the enlightened sentiment of the country.

Killed By a Cotton Gin's Saw.

PINEVILLE, Nov. 8.—A most distressing and heart-rending accident occurred last night here. Mr. Whitefield Blankenship, son of Mr. S. P. Blankenship, while attending to his father's gin, was caught by the gin, and literally cut to pieces.

His brother was in the house and heard the gin stop with a sudden thud and the belt fly off. He looked around and saw White's legs protruding from the gin. He got help at once and as possible and removed him from the gin. The right arm was torn into shreds; the right side of the body, from the waist up; both of the jugular veins on one side of the neck were severed and the face horribly mutilated. He died in about half an hour. Physicians were hastily summoned from Pineville but he was dead when they got there. His father and mother were away from home. When they left that morning their boy, their youngest, the Benjamin of their home was well, bright and happy. When they returned he was a cold, mangled corpse. The deep grief and unexpressed anguish that filled their hearts is beyond the power of words to tell. When the father entered the room where lay the torn and bleeding body of his idolized boy, he was completely overwhelmed and crushed fell prostrate on the lifeless form and had to be carried from the room and given medical attention.

Silver and the Elections.

The Washington Post says: The opponents of the free coinage of silver are taking a great deal of gratification in the result of the election. In Kentucky the Democratic candidate for Governor, a rampant free silver advocate, has been defeated, and so has Sen. Blackburn, who made his campaign solely upon the silver issue. An incident of equal note is the defeat of Edward Lane by Mr. Hadley in the 18th Congressional district of Illinois. Mr. Lane is a silver man pure and simple, and his election was advocated by such well known opponents of the white metal cause as Mr. Brand, of Missouri, and Mr. Bryan, of Nebraska. "Buck" Heinrichsen, who was responsible for the silver convention in Illinois, also espoused Mr. Lane's cause quite vigorously. Notwithstanding this, and despite the fact that the Republican nominee was only named a couple of weeks before election day, Mr. Lane has been defeated in a district which was usually safely Democratic.

The Illinois sound money men were yesterday very happy over this outcome. Comptroller Eckels, who had been watching the fight with extreme interest, expressed his pleasure at the blow which had been given to free coinage, and Assistant Secretary Scott Wike said that his only regret was that the majority for Hadley was not larger.

Silver was not an issue in the election except in the two instances named, and in both of these the sentiment seems to have been decidedly against it.

The Kentucky Legislature is a tie and Blackburn's defeat for re-election to the Senate is assured.

Rutherford College Feud.

The trial of Prof. W. E. L. B. and A. T. Abernethy, who stand charged with threatening the life of A. C. Gunter, was held at Morganton Friday before Magistrates Beck and Somers. Prof. W. E. Abernethy admitted and pleaded that what he had said should not be used against his brothers. This was overruled by the court.

The evidence, as reported in the Charlotte Observer, brought out the following facts:

Miss Viola Gunter, daughter of A. C. Gunter, testified that on the night of October 6th she was aroused by the breaking glass. She looked out of doors but saw no one. The next morning she went out in front of the house and found an obscene and insulting anonymous note, which she identified in court. She said that on the following Saturday night, October 22nd, she and her father were at home about 8 p. m., when they heard pistol shots all around the house. Her father left in search of assistance and just a few minutes after he left some one knocked. She went to the door and there saw W. E. L. B. and Arthur T. Abernethy. She said Prof. Will asked for her father, whereupon she said, "Yes, he is here. Prof. Will said, 'Yes, the damn coward is here, and just let him stick his head out.'" Prof. Arthur T. said, "Tell me where he is and I will go after him." She told them to search the house but they did not find him standing at the door talking at the girl for 20 minutes they left.

Miss Gunter said they were all drinking. She said further that Prof. Will said that he had some business to settle with Mr. Gunter and that if she could find him one of them would head a funeral procession and that if he (Prof. Will) felt his brothers would finish it up. A peace bond was required of W. E. Abernethy and the amount was fixed at $1,000 justified bond from each of the three defendants. They will each also have to file a bond for his appearance at the next term of the Superior court here.

Later the Abernethys' all gave bond, and were released.

Rob Ingersoll Cornered.

About fifteen years ago Colonel Bob Ingersoll was reported as saying in a speech that he would believe in hell when Kentucky went republican.

As soon as the result of the recent Kentucky election was made known the western papers came out with flaming headlines announcing that Bradley had converted Ingersoll. But the noted infidel kicked. He says that he has been misquoted. In fact, he maintains that the republican triumph in Kentucky will prove that there is no hell. It will disappoint thousands of people to find Ingersoll so hard headed. He had an opportunity to yield gracefully, but he has allowed it to slip. It will be very difficult to convince the country that he did not use the language credited to him. A republican majority in Kentucky is enough to make one believe in any possibility.

From 1,632 letters received by Latham, Alexander & Co., of New York, as to the probable total cotton crop of the United States for this year, the estimate is placed at 4,430,000 bales as against 9,901,000 bales for last year, or a decrease of more than one-third in the number of bales. It is estimated that this year's bales average 10 to 12 pounds lighter than last year, making the difference in pounds even greater.

When the Trouble Began.

The State, of Raleigh, said in its issue of last week:

"The platform of the Democratic party, in North Carolina has always been for the free coinage of silver ever since that matter became a pronounced issue, and at the last meeting of the State committee the vote in re-affirmation of that declaration was very strong."

Upon all which the Statesville of Landmark comments as follows:

"In order to be strictly correct it should be said that no Democratic State platform adopted in North Carolina prior to 1890—17 years after the 'crime of '73'—demanded the free coinage of silver. It was put in the platform of 1890 not because there was any special demand for it on the part of the Democrats of the State, but because the Alliance, or that portion of it which has since become the Populist party, demanded it, and this along with others of their demands was put into the platform in order to keep them in the party. That concession to an element which they were not satisfying failed signally, as men of wisdom saw in advance it must fail eventually. But certain men inside the Democratic party have insisted ever since on retaining this plank in the platform under the delusive idea that by it these Populists may be brought back. It failed to keep them in the party, and no sane man need for a moment think that it will win them back."

YEARS OF INTENSE PAIN.

Dr. J. H. Watts, Druggist and physician, Humboldt, Neb., who suffered with heart disease for four years, trying every remedy and all treatments known to himself and fellow-practitioners, believes that heart disease is curable. He writes: "I wish to tell what your valuable medicine has done for me. For four years I had heart disease of the very worst kind. Several physicians I consulted, said it was incurable. I was unable to do any work, and was constantly suffering with shortness of breath, palpitations, and nervousness, especially on the left side. No pen can describe my sufferings, particularly during the last months of those four years. I finally tried

Rheumatism of the Heart.

Dr. J. H. Watts.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and was surprised at the result. It put new life into me and made a new man of me. I have not had a symptom of trouble since, and I am satisfied your medicine has cured me for I have now enjoyed, since taking it, three years of splendid health.

I might add that I am a druggist and have sold and recommended your Heart Cure, for I know what it has done for me and only wish I could state more clearly my suffering then and the good health I now enjoy. Your medicine and other remedies also give excellent satisfaction." J. H. Watts, Humboldt, Neb., May 9, '94.
