Christian Reid Book Club.

Unusually delightful was the meeting of the Christian Reid Book Club Saturday afternoon with Mrs. H. W. Woodhouse, at her home on Georgia avenue.

The topic for the afternoon was "New Year's Day," and an interesting paper on "The Observance of New Year's Day in Different Countries" was read by Mrs. G. B. Lewis. And a beautiful poem on the New Year by Father Ryan was read by Mrs. Bernard Fetzer.

Following the program, Mrs. Woodhouse, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Woodhouse and Miss Margaret Bell, served a delicious course of refreshments.

The Kings Daughters.

The postponed meeting of the Kings Daughters was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Cannon Saturday evening, to hear the final reports of the old year and to make plans for the new year.

Mrs. G. B. Lewis, chairman of this Christmas Cheer Committee, gave an itemized statement of all money received and disbursements of the same. The amount of money contributed for this purpose from all sources was $343.

Her report was as follows:

There were ninety-four opportunities, or families worthy and needy reported fifty-five of these were taken by private individuals and personally cared for; from the funds 250 bags of candies, nuts and fruits were distributed to the infirm of the county home, the inmates of the convict camp and jails; twenty-five families received baskets filled with food, and wood and coal were delivered to fifteen homes.

Miss Lottie Boyd, chairman of the Samarcand Committee, reported four Christmas boxes sent to our girls, and in each box were Bibles and stationery.

Prior to the Christmas holidays there were several families fitted up with good warm clothing from the Kings Daughters' closet.

The local circle sent $10 to the Training School boys Christmas Cheer budget.

Resolutions of appreciation for the fine and systematic Christmas work done by Mrs. G. B. Lewis and Miss Stockton were read by Miss Janie Kluttz. The two resolutions were unanimously adopted. There was also an expression of appreciation for the splendid results achieved in the sale of Red Cross Seals by our efficient recording secretary, Mrs. Hicks. This sale was sponsored by the welfare department of the Woman's Club.

The report of the State convention at Greenville of December 6-7, was given by Miss Margie McEachern.

The circle adjourned to meet with Mrs. Ada Rogers Gorman the first Monday in February, 1923.

The visiting committee for February is Mesdames J. E. Davis, L. A. Fisher, W. A. Foil and Miss Lottie Boyd.

Burned to Death at Christmas Carnival.

Easton, Md., Gazette, Dec. 27.

The awful intelligence of the accident to young Rudolph Neeser reached his aunts, the misses Beebe, and his grandparents in Easton yesterday morning.

The little fellow, aged ten, son of Mrs. Rudolph Neeser, (nee Miss Minnie Beebe, a popular young lady of Easton) was attending a party at the Morristown, New Jersey Country Club and was dressed in cotton to represent the "Snow Man." From one of the candles upon the tree his costume caught fire and before it could be smothered he was horribly burned. Though rushed to the hospital and receiving every attention known to science, he died at five o'clock Wednesday morning. The family in Easton were called by phone at one o'clock and aprized of the accident, and a few hours later notified of the death of the child. Misses Heloise and Nan Beebe hastened to Morristown on the morning train.

(Mrs. Neeser visited in Concord several times before her marriage and is a relative of Mr. N. A. Archibald, Miss Kate Archibald and Mrs. T. T. Smith.—Ed.)

Friday Afternoon Book Club.

Mrs. F. C. Niblock was hostess Friday afternoon to the Friday Afternoon Book Club.

The home was artistically decorated with narcissus and pink carnations.

Mrs. R. V. Caldwell, Jr., a recent bride, and Miss Clara Gillon were guests of honor.

After the roll call and discussion of Current Events Mrs. P. R. McFadyen read an excellent paper on Revolutionary Days of North Carolina. The hostess then had the members engage in an interesting advertisement contest, which created quite a lot of merriment.

At the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her two attractive daughters and Miss Gillon.

Miss Mund's Election Pleases.

The election of Miss Rosa Mund of this city, to be engrossing clerk of the State HouHse of Representatives is well received throughout the State as shown by various newspaper stories and editorials. The Salisbury Post says editorially: "Miss Rosa B. Mund was named by the Democratic caucus at Raleigh last night for engrossing clerk of the House by a very substantial majority. Miss Mund is a very capable woman and will make an excellent servant in this place. She is deserving in all respects of this recognition. We predict that she will prove a very efficient clerk and leave a record for future holders of the title to match."

A marriage of much interest was solemnized in St. James Lutheran Church at 8 o'clock on Friday evening when Mrs. Helen Archey Wallace became the bride of Dr. T. N. Spencer. Rev. L. A. Thomas, pastor of the bride, officiated. The bride was charming in a going-away costume of mid-night blue duvetyne with squirrel trimmings. SANFORD WILL BE GIVEN SUPREME COURT SEAT

Justice Von Moschzisker's Chances of Succeeding Judge Pitney Fast Fading Out.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 7.—Prospects for Chief Justice Von Moschzisker, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, receiving the nomination for the United States Supreme Court to succeed Justice Pitney, retired, were dimmed somewhat today. News trickling out of the White House through Administration Senators who have discussed the situation with the President is to the effect that Judge Edward T. Sanford, of Tennessee, has practically been decided upon for the appointment.

This information comes through Senators backing other aspirants, and who have been informed within the past 24 hours that Sanford is the man. Unless the Executive exercises his prerogative of changing his mind, the Sanford nomination is expected to be sent to the Senate within a few days.

Judge Sanford is a Republican and was appointed to the District Judgeship in Tennessee by President Roosevelt during the latter's first term. When he received this appointment he was serving as Assistant Attorney General at Washington, and when factional trouble among Tennessee Republicans prevented an agreement on candidates already in the field Rosevelt named Sanford as a compromise.

LIMBLESS BABY DIES.

Infant Had no Arms or Legs Although Parents Were Normal.

Baby Lebrasca, born several weeks ago in Chicago without arms or legs, has ceased to be a problem. The infant died recently following a short illness of pneumonia, thus ending a controversy that has raged with more or less intensity since the day of her birth.

Public attention to the case first was attracted by a published statement that the father, James Lebrasca, had asked physicians to allow the deformed baby to die. The physician in charge of the case refused, saying that the baby was mentally normal.

The baby even might have become a mental celebrity, nature's way of recompensing it for the missing arms and legs, the doctors said.

The father denied that he had asked that the baby be permitted to die of inattention and declared that he and his wife, Dorothy, would give it the best of care. The mother was not told of the baby's condition for several days. Numerous requests were made by persons eager to adopt the baby.

Stedman Advocates Shaft to "Mammies."

Washington, Jan. 6.—The government of the United States was asked today to pay a belated tribute to the "faithful colored mammies of the south" by providing a site in the national capital for a monument in their memory.

Representative Stedman, Democrat, North Carolina, the only Confederate veteran in the house, proposed in a bill that Congress grant permission to the Jefferson Davis chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, for erection as a figt to the people of the country of the monument on public grounds here.

The old colored mammy, enshrined in the hearts of a multitude she led through the turbulent and trying period of childhood, has been praised in song and story, but there is no marble shaft testifying to her faithful service generations ago.

Cotton Meeting at Memphis Soon.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Announcement of a cotton conference at Memphis, Tenn, early next month to consider the use of calcium arsenate and other means in fighting the boll weevil was made today by Secretary Wallace, of the Department of Agriculture through Senator Harris, democrat, of Georgia.

Advertisements in newspapers were not general in England till the beginning of the 18th century.

MOVEMENT LAUNCHED FOR NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Methodist Protestant Congregation Appoints Committee For That Purpose.

At a congregational meeting of the members of the Methodist Protestant Church several days ago a movement was launched for a new church building, the present one being inadequate for the present membership, especially the Sunday school, which is the main purpose in the movement for the new building. A committee, composed of the following, was appointed to get plans and specifications, cost, etc., and report at a later meeting: Messrs. P. H. Scarboro, R. H. Haupt, W. L. Little, J. M. Blackwelder, D. A. McLaurin, Mrs. Lee Reed, and Mrs. D. A. McLaurin. The committee, without any solicitation, have already had pledges amounting to about $3,000. It is proposed to move the present parsonage to the lot in the rear of the church, and put the new building on the lot beside the present church building, and when the new church is completed to arrange the old building for Sunday school rooms, and also to provide for a banquet hall, with kitchen and other necessary rooms.

NEGRO TAKEN TO CEMETERY AND KILLED BY FLORIDA MEN

Was Accused of Being in House From Which Negroes Fired on White Men.

Rosewood, Fla., Jan. 6.—A new grave was dug in the negro cemetery at Sumner near here late today and in it Sheriff Elias Walker placed the body of James Carrier, whose death at the hands of several white men this morning was the sequel of the clash between the races at Roosewood Thursday night.

He was shot to death while standing on the grave of the four other negroes who fell in the fighting that followed an attempt of a crowd of white men to enter a negro house in search of Jesse Hunter, wanted for alleged implication in an attack on a white girl at Sumner.

Idea of Returning Home at An Early Date Depresses Yankee Doughboys.

Coblenz, Jan. 7.—French troops under the command of Major General Allen in the American area have been ordered confined to quarters to prevent clashes between them and the Germans.

The American forces here, numbering 101 officers and 1,080 men, are carrying on all the duties of occupation.

Today there was a general feeling of tension and depression among the Americans, for the resolution of Senator Reed, passed in Washington Saturday was quickly accepted as meaning the beginning of the end of the American occupational forces on the Rhine. The men are giving themselves 60 days more of life here, with their incomes of 3,000,000 marks a year and upward.

There are 280 officers and 1,423 men in the French forces at Coblenz under General Martin, who reports to Major General Allen. The orders for the French troops to remain off the streets came from General Degoutte, the allied commander-in-chief at Mayence.

The American forces on the Rhine comprise 41 officers and 850 men of the Eighth infantry, in addition to quartermasters', signal and hospital sorps and engineers and motor repair units. The force is to be further reduced in February by the return of a casual detachment of enlisted men whose time has expired. The American forces now have only 465 horses left for mounts and wagon trains.

Water Outfit Explodes: Two Men Badly Burned.

Sanford, Jan. 7.—Tom Cole, 25, and Henry Lamb, 35, employes at the Green Top filing station in this city, narrowly escaped death Saturday morning when an outfit for distilling water, which they were operating, exploded. They were badly burned about the face and body, but it is thought that they have a chance of recovey.

But for the friendly aid of bystanders in helping to extinguish the flames they would have been hopelessly burned. A physician happened to be near, and the young men were carried to the hospital at once.

It was a new distilling apparatus they were operating, which requires air heated by a gasoline torch to be pumped through it. It is thought that too much air was pumped in, which caused the explosion.

Death of Vance Cline.

Vance Davis Cline, a World War veteran, died of tuberculosis at his home on Muse street at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, December 30th, and was buried Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Oakwood cemetery. The funeral service was conducted in the home by Rev. G. W. Rollins.

Mr. Cline was a member of Co. D, 118th Infantry of the famous 30th Division and was severely gassed while in France, so severely in fact, that that his name was included in the list of the killed in 1918.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cline: a wife and small child, and a brother, Jesse Cline, who is also a World War veteran.

Death of R. C. Puryear.

Richard Clingman Puryear died at Dr. Stokes' Hospital in Salisbury, on Sunday night at half past eight o'clock. He was a brother of Mrs. James C. Gibson and of H. S. Puryear, of Concord, and of T. L. Puryear, of Homestead, Fla. He was 75 years of age and had been in the active practice of law, in Yadkinville since the war.

The funeral services will be held at three o'clock from All Saints Church on Tuesday afternoon.

Four of the State Officials Are Ill at Raleigh Homes.

Raleigh, Jan. 5.—Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes, who has been ill for several days with influenza, has developed pneumonia and considerable concern as to his condition is felt by close friends. He has been quite sick for the last three or four days.

Three other State officials are confined to their beds, State Auditor Baxter Durham, Treasurer B. R. Lacy and Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham. Mr. Durham and Major Graham are suffering from flu, it was said.

A NEW YEAR'S AGREEMENT.

"Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself."

"Hello Folks! Happy New Year."

No new greeting will ever take the place of this one and fill it so completely as does this one.

As age adds to wine, so does it add to this greeting. So happy New Year with all my heart, to everybody. How many of you have already made your New Year resolutions? Oh, you hadn't thought of that? Just made them unthoughtedly because it is customary. Very few of us think of entering the new year without resolving a few things, anyway, but very few of us mean to carry out these resolutions. We find them too irksome and we forget.

Such is the mortal being, but listen. Let's do something this New Year's that we haven't been doing. Most of us think the bigger the list of resolutions the better we are going to be. Wrong. The new plan will be like this. Let's think and make the resolution that we think will be the most benificient to us and to our neighbor, and that we know we will be able to carry out. Now you will try this plan one year, won't you? and next New Year's day we'll all compare our diary to the year previous and see if there is any improvement. Custom and form is running us today individually and as a country. We are following some custom or going through some form every day that really means nothing to us. We don't stop to consider what we are really doing it for. Now be honest, don't you sometimes find yourself praying, only in form and because it's a good habit to have? You have been taught to pray? But your mind is far from serious and earnest faith? When we pray or go through the habit of praying God should have our whole mind and heart undivided. So I suggest that one of our first resolutions and one of the most important we can make, to be sincere in all our undertakings to God and man. And whatever we are doing or planning to do, we shall do with all our heart and not just merely go through form. Shame, misrepresentation and custom are leading us to be careless and restless and when we check up at the end of each year we find something missing, the auditor goes over the account but cannot find the shortage, all the customs have been followed; all the forms have been met with but something is radically wrong. The net results are not near what they should be. Let's hunt for it ourselves. In this deed of charity we gave not because we really wanted to but our friends and others were giving and we didn't care to be different from them. So check off this for results to your closing account at the end of the year. If you didn't give with a free will and unselfishly, no good. You prayed every night and morning regularly, but you couldn't see that it did you any good. Well, were you really praying with earnestless and faith or just because you had been taught to pray and that prayer was the bread of the soul? That you had never stopped to consider it yourself, but because it was said to be so by others, you went through it in form. A large percentage can be deducted for just these two common habits. So let's resolve to think before we act and whatever we do let's put the best we have into it and see if it doesn't raise the interest next year from 4 to 6 per cent. I am going to quote somebody—I don't know who just now—but it doesn't make much difference. He or she were wise in this philosophy at any rate: "You get out of a thing just what you put in it." So let's follow the wise saying, and put our best in all we do this next twelve months, and expect more and better progress and we shall have it, I know.

Here are our resolutions in a group:

First. We are going to think and be sincere in all we do before we do it.

Second. We are going to put the best we have into all we undertake and expect the best out of it.

Third. That in all our dealings with others we are going to imagine ourselves in their place, and deal with them accordingly, as we would have them deal with us. That we are going to work for our employer just as we would expect him to work for us.

And if we follow the preceding resolutions we shall be obeying the commandment "love thy neighbor as thyself." Because if we give to our fellowman, honestly what we would give to ourselves, what more could we do? Listen folks, if we really do these resolutions this year, just think next year and all the following years we'll be free from making any resolutions because the old ones will bring such results that we won't need to make any more. Won't that be fine? C.

Some Appetite.

In a newspaper the following advertisement appeared.

"A lady, living privately, will take a gentleman for breakfast and dinner."

What Dope Will Do.

Neighbors breaking down the door of a cheaply furnished 3-room apartment in Chicago, Ill., December 30, found the body of Mrs. Maude Fuller Delius, eldest daughter of late Melville W. Fuller, chief justice of the United States Supreme court.

A Washington society favorite a generation ago, Mrs. Delius, police believe ended her life some time during the last three weeks. She was last seen alive on December 2nd.

The rooms still reeked of the odors of burned cigarettes and narcotics. Police base their belief in suicide on the fact that the door had been barred with a shovel beneath the knob.

Beside the body was a check for $535 and a bank book showed a balance of $97,000 in the bank.

Young Man Injured in an Auto Accident.

Salisbury, Jan. 4.—Francis Price, young son of A. H. Price, well known attorney of this city, is kept in his room suffering as a result of being struck by an automobile. One leg near the ankle is badly hurt.

The accident happened while young Price was delivering envelopes for his church and the identity of the person driving the car that struck him is not known.

This is the second time the lad has been injured by automobiles, the same leg that was hurt this time having been hurt several years ago.
