DENTAL SOCIETY BACKS SCHOOL DENTAL CLINIC

Cabarrus Society of Dentists Puts in a Good Word for Clinic Being Held in the County Now.

At a meeting of the Cabarrus County Dental Society Thursday night the Society went on record as endorsing the school dental clinic. Dr. H. B. Foster, who is conducting the clinic, was present at the meeting and gave an instructive talk in regard to the objects of the clinic and the gratifying results obtained where these clinics have been conducted.

The Cabarrus Dental Society, it was brought out at the meeting, has been co-operating with the county health department for the past two years in an effort to secure this clinic for Cabarrus County, and the members of the society declared that now the clinic has been started here they are desirous of having it conducted in the most effective way. In order to complete the clinic in all of the schools, it was pointed out, it will be necessary to supplement the fund donated by the State with a local fund, and the Society members went on record as favoring any steps that will assist other organizations in the county in securing this fund.

Many of the holes on various streets in this city, which had made travel on the streets unpleasant, have been patched, and the work has been done in such a fashion that the holes probably have been fixed for all time. Instead of filling the holes with cement, asphalt has been placed in them, and this is calculated to last as long as the streets last.

KIWANIS MEETING

Weekly Meeting of Concord Club Proved One of Unusual Interest.

The meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Concord at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening was featured by the program arranged by Team No. 4, Brevard Harris, captain.

There was but little business brought before the meeting, which was presided over by the new President, Tracy Spencer. The hotel committee appointed at the last meeting of the club made no report, but one of the members stated that the committee is busy, and will have something definite to report shortly.

The entertainment program offered by Team No. 4 was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Elizabeth Lord, of the Standard School faculty, delighted her audience with two vocal selections, with accompaniment by Miss Nell Herring at the piano. Miss Lord sang with her usual ease and charm, and was heartily cheered after each number.

Rev. L. A. Thomas, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, and an honorary member of the Kiwanis Club, made an instructive talk on the value of organizations like the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, and their effect on the nation's life. He declared that there is a power and a soul and a heart in these organizations which are making themselves felt throughout the world.

Rotarian Kay Patterson, a guest at the Club at the meeting, rendered two flute solos, which were very much enjoyed by the Kiwanians. Upon motion of Brevard Harris, it was voted that the attendance prize be awarded by having the entire membership present at a meeting draw for it, instead of by teams, as in the past. The prize was won by J. W. Pike, Team No. 3, Lee Crowell, captain, contributed the attendance prize.

The silent boost was given by Joe Gaskel, of Team No. 4.

ROTARY MEETING

New Hotel Discussion and Introduction of New Members Features of Weekly Meeting of the Club.

Discussion of a new hotel for Concord, introduction of two new members, and discussion of plans for the district meeting in Charleston were the most important features of the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club at the Y Wednesday.

The new members present were Thomas Lewis, President of Scotia Women's College, and J. Leslie Bell, of The Muserte, Inc.

The hotel question came up soon after the meeting started, when President Richmond asked if the hotel committee, appointed last year, had a report to make. The committee chairman had nothing to report except the fact that the committee is still working, but one member stated that he hoped to have something to report before the week is over. The committee has been at work all of the time since its appointment last February, it was pointed out, and expects to have something definite to report at the meeting next week.

Gus Hartzell, chairman of the "On to Charleston" committee, stated that the district meeting would be held in the "city by the sea" on March 20 and 21st. The full program, he stated, has not been published, but from facts he was able to gather the meeting will be a fine one. Gus asked that each member be able to report at the next meeting whether or not he could attend, so that he could make hotel reservations or Pullman reservations. He stated that he hoped the local club would charter a Pullman for the trip, and make the Pullman its headquarters during the convention. There are 27 clubs in the district—15 in North Carolina and 12 in South Carolina, with a membership of about 1,400.

The two new members, who made their bow Wednesday, together with Parks Lafferty, who attended his first meeting last week, were welcomed into the club by Bill Jenkins. After much study, Bill stated, he had come to the conclusion that the word "opportunity" seems to sum up Rotary. The word opportunity, he stated, comes from the Latin word which means "before port," and he told the new members they were now "before port," or better, at the open door which will lead them to many fine things of life. St. Paul, Bill pointed out, said, "as ye have opportunity do good to all men" and Rotary offers everyone a chance to do this.

"You are at the gateway that leads to a larger and bigger life," Bill said. "You have been given a high honor by being asked into the club. You have been given the privilege of being a member of an organization that puts service above self, and I think from the organization you will gather: 'Ability to see the fine points of the men with whom you are associated here. Usually we see the unusual in the man, the odd things about him, the rough corners, so to speak. Rotary teaches us to see the finer things, the things that really make the man.' 'Real friendship, which means more to you as you grow older.

"A knowledge and understanding of other men's business and problems. This leads to a knowledge of business methods, and when we better understand what a man has to contend with in a business world, we are better able to appreciate him and know him. With the better business knowledge we become better servants of the people, and that's Rotary. 'An opportunity to add dignity to your classification. I think it makes any man feel a notch higher to feel proud of his profession. You are the chosen representative of your profession in this club. You should aim to live up to the things expected of you.' 'Let brotherly love and good will be our motto, and we will grow as individuals and as an organization,' Bill asserted. After his charge to the new members Bill presented each with a membership card, a button and a copy of the constitution and by-laws.

Praises Work of Miss Mund. Mr. W. C. Lisk, of Rowan County, who made his home here for a short while and who is now assistant clerk in the State Senate, was in Concord Saturday on business.

When asked about the work at Raleigh Mr. Lisk grew very enthusiastic, and devoted most of his remarks to a praise of Miss Rosa Mund, engrossing clerk in the House. "Miss Mund is the best engrossing clerk the House has had in many years," Mr. Lisk stated. "She is filling the job to perfection, and persons familiar with her work are realizing that the lady from Cabarrus can certainly deliver the goods."
