INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 1. Arrival of the period for filing income tax returns—January 1 to March 15, 1923—presents to American citizens and residents the question "Am I required to file a return?" and "How shall I be assured of making a correct return?"

To every person who last year filed a return will be sent a form for making a return of income for the year 1922—Form 1040A for reporting net income of $5,000 and less, and Form 1040 for reporting net income in excess of $5,000. Careful study of the instructions on these forms will solve many difficulties which, at first glance, may seem perplexing.

As a further aid, the Bureau of Internal Revenue has prepared a series of newspaper statements based on the latest rulings and decisions governing the administration of the revenue act. Answers to the questions, which from the bureau's correspondence during the last year appear perplexing, will be presented daily. Taxpayers are advised to preserve these articles as they appear, in order that when they begin preparation of their returns they may have before them a comprehensive summary of the requirements of the revenue act.

The tax is imposed upon net income, which is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, etc., to be fully explained later. Single persons may subtract from net income, before calculating the normal tax, an exemption of $1,000. The exemptions for married persons and heads of families are $2,500 on incomes of $5,000 or less and $2,000 on incomes in excess of $5,000.

Taxpayers are allowed, also, an additional credit of $400 for each person dependent upon them for chief support, if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

Requirement to file an income tax. For example, a man and wife with two children 12 and 14 years old had a net income for 1922 of $2,700. Their exemptions and credits amount to $3,300. A single man whose net income was $1,800 supports in his home an aged mother. His exemption is $2,500 as the head of the family, plus a $400 credit for a dependent. In both cases returns must be filed, though the incomes are not taxable.

LOCAL LEGIONNAIRES HAVE BIG BARBECUE

James A. Lockhart, R. E. Denny and E. J. Hanson Were Honor Guests at the Meeting Tuesday Night.

James A. Lockhart, of Charlotte, and R. E. Denny, of Greensboro, State Commander and State Adjutant of the American Legion, respectively, and E. J. Hanson, of Charlotte, representing the Veterans' Bureau at Washington, were honor guests at a barbecue given Tuesday night by the Fred Y. McConnell Post No. 51, American Legion. The meeting was held in the club rooms of the post on West Depot street, and proved one of the biggest and most interesting the local post has ever held.

In addition to the Messrs. Lockhart, Denny and Hanson, their guests all city and county officials, all ministers of the city, members of the school board, Confederate and Spanish-American War Veterans, officers of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, and every ex-service man in the county. The invitation was accepted generally and every organization or group named above was represented among those present.

This was the first visit to Concord for the State officers, and they made many new "buddies" by their fine talks and pleasing manner. That they are interested in the Legion and the former service men is clearly demonstrated by the earnest manner in which they have conducted their offices, and their visit here served to strengthen the faith local Legionnaires have in their State officers.

In addition to the three out-of-town speakers, there were short talks by various other guests. J. Lee Crowell, Jr., welcomed the visitors for the post, and responses were made by representatives of the various groups of invited guests.

Among the speakers were: Rev. W. A. Jenkins, for Rotarians; M. H. Caldwell, for city; A. B. Palmer, for Kiwanians; A. S. Welch, for school board; Dr. G. A. Martin, for ministers; and D. B. Coltrane, for Confederate Veterans.

The hall was decorated by Roy Sappentfield and Vann Walter, and made a very attractive appearance. Large American flags were used in profusion in the decorations, which were tastefully arranged.

The biggest feature of the evening proved to be the barbecued pig, which was prepared under the supervision of Fred Bost and "Col." Giles Crowell. The pig was served with kraut, cheese, crackers, bread and Bevo, and there was enough of everything for "seconds." When mess call was sounded the men "fell in" with a snap and briskness that showed true army training, and the shouts of "seconds" and "P. more food," brought back vividly scenes of army life.

The barbecue was staged by the post as the biggest feature of its membership campaign, which is now being conducted. Every ex-service man in the county was an invited guest, regardless of whether or not he was a member of the Legion, and the addresses made by the officers stressed the importance of every former service man enlisting his support with the organization.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the musical numbers given by the Forest Hill Orchestra, which offered its services free for the occasion.

The occasion was easily the biggest pulled off by the Legion here in years, and the officers and committeemen who made it so successful have received much praise for the manner in which the event was conducted.

TRAINING OF BOYS SUBJECT OF ROTARY

Local Club Devoted Weekly Meeting to a Discussion of How the Boy Can Best Be Physically Trained.

Bill Caswell and the members of his boys' work committee had charge of the program at the regular weekly meeting of the Concord Rotary Club at the Y Tuesday night. Boys, their physical training and ways to best influence them, were discussed at some length by several speakers. The program followed was one mapped out by Rotary International, and the last meeting in January was devoted to a discussion of "Physical Training of Boys" by Rotary Clubs all over the world.

The club had a 100 per cent. meeting. The club had a 100 per cent. meeting. The club had a 100 per cent. meeting. The club had a 100 per cent. meeting. The club had a 100 per cent. meeting.

John M. Oglesby, chairman of the publicity committee, stated that the Rotary sign just north of the Locke Mill is to be repainted at once.

Bill Caswell started the program with a statement of facts relative to the importance of training the youths of the country in a physical way. He declared that about one-half of the people in the United States now have physical defects, and that this condition should be remedied by giving physical training to the boys and girls of today, to keep them from growing up with defects.

"We need physical training made democratic, as everything else should be made democratic," Bill stated. "We would never have a great nation if we just selected a few men and developed their minds to the highest degree. Neither can we have a great nation if we just select a few bodies and train them to the highest degree. We must train every mind and every body."

Shipp Webb spoke briefly on "Physical Training as Relative to National Efficiency." Charlie Ritchie spoke on "Recreational Facilities in Our City," and Martin Verburg spoke on "National Investments for Community Development." Each talk followed the general theme of the meeting: Shipp pointing out the fact that the child who gets recreation makes the best student; Charlie declaring that the Y and the new high school site afford fine facilities for recreation here; and Martin recommending a playground for the Y and large attendance at the summer camp conducted by the Y.

After the speeches chairman Bill offered the following recommendations by his committee: That the Rotary Club send members once a week to conduct the devotional exercises at the high school; That the club in the near future entertain the boys of the Senior class of the high school.

That the club endorse the Y camp and try to provide ways by which deserving boys and girls can be sent to camp.

That the club endorse the "Win You a Chum" campaign to be conducted by the Y in the near future.

The recommendations were accepted, and in addition the club voted to entertain the girl members of the Senior Class of the high school the week following the meeting at which the boys will be present.

The meeting next week will be held on Wednesday with Bob Ridenhour and his music committee in charge.

Learn the Government way to poison

For years the experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have been seeking a dependable and profitable way for the farmer to poison the boll weevil. After innumerable experiments and demonstrations, the Government announced the discovery of a method of poisoning with calcium arsenate, which, if properly done, will control the weevil and make cotton growing profitable in badly infested sections.

The Government work has been carried on in the far South where the weevil first appeared and where the infestation is worst. But the weevil is in North Carolina now, and our farmers can save their cotton if they use the knowledge gained in Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi.

Like everyone else whose prosperity is wrapped up in the growing of profitable crops, we are most anxious that Carolina farmers should be shown this Government method of poisoning before the weevil destroys our cotton.
