Letter From Lady Dickens.
English customs and the Anglo-Saxon traditional interest in holiday gaieties were not dulled by the world war, according to a letter reflecting the spirit and cheer prevailing during the holiday season in London, from Lady Dickens, wife of Sir Henry Dickens, son of the novelist, to Mrs. William H. Gorman, of this city.

The letter follows a delightful association between Lady Dickens and Mrs. Gorman, when the latter was in Europe last summer. Lady Dickens and Sir Henry Dickens were touring Switzerland, where Mrs. Gorman spent some time before going to Oberammergau to witness The Passion Play. Mrs. Dickens says:

"Dear Mrs. Gorman: I was so pleased to hear from you, though I had hoped to see you again before your left for America. I was away from home till the middle of October and enjoyed my holiday very much.

"We are still in the midst of Christmas and New Year's festivities and this evening are going to a black and white fancy dress ball at one of our married daughters'. We are really to old a couple to 'dress up' and I didn't want to disappoint the daughter and happily have a brain wave. We shall go, Sir Henry and I, in ordinary evening dress, and over it wear a white cloak, I as 'grammy' with names of my fifteen grand-children embroidered on the back and all their photos tied on with tiny white and black ribbons on wide sleeves and on each front. My husband goes as the 'family tree,' painted in ink all over the back of the cloak. He begins with his grandfather, his children, his father and his ten children, my husband and his seven, and then our fifteen grand-children. He makes quite a good show.

"My husband and I wish you and your friends a very happy 1923."

Duplicate Bridge Club Meets.
Mrs. R. S. Young entertained the Duplicate Bridge Club Thursday afternoon at her home on North Union Street.

Prayer Service.
Friday, February 10th, is the annual day of prayer for missions, and all the women of all the churches in Concord are invited to attend the services at St. James Lutheran Church at 3:30 o'clock on that afternoon. Churches all over the country are asked to observe this day and it is hoped that as many women as possible will attend the service at St. James.

George Washington Party.
The teachers of the primary school and the Parent-Teachers' association are going to give a George Washington party February 22nd at the primary building from 3 to 5 o'clock, and all the children in Concord are invited. There will be a small admission charge as the party is to be given to raise money for the milk fund. Full details will be given later.

Son Born.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gibson, February 8th, a son.

Child Ill.
Charles, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Meis is confined to his home on Marsh street with the flu.

Home From Hospital.
The many friends of Mrs. W. M. Morrison will be glad to know that she has returned from the Presbyterian Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis two weeks ago.

Will Move to Memphis.

Study Club.
Mrs. C. A. Cannon was hostess Thursday afternoon to the Study Club at her home on Spring street.

Mrs. W. M. Sherrill read a paper on Henry Timrod and James Ryder Randall and Mrs. C. B. Wagoner read one on Novelists of the South.

At the conclusion of the program a salad course was served by Mrs. Cannon.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting.
The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Thursday evening at the Legion club rooms and was characterized by a splendid attendance, more than twenty-five members being present.

After routine business was dispensed with Messrs. Joe Bost and J. A. Goodman, representing the American Legion, asked the help of the Auxiliary in putting on the Minstrel to be given by the Legion the latter part of the month and hearty support and cooperation was promised by each member.

Mrs. W. M. Sherrill, who has charge of putting on the picture of the Auxiliary Convention in New Orleans was unable to give a full report because the proceeds from the picture have not been finally determined but she did report that everyone has been most generous and helpful. The members then adjourned to meet again the second Thursday in February.

Party Friday.
Mrs. J. F. Goodson entertained quite informally Friday afternoon, having as her guest Mrs. S. E. Hutchinson, of Baltimore.

The home had been beautifully decorated with cut flowers and was indeed a scene of beauty. Receiving with Mrs. Goodson and Mrs. Hutchinson were Mrs. T. E. Smith, of Charlotte, Mrs. D. B. Morrison, Mrs. P. B. Fetzer, Mrs. H. I. Woodhouse, Mrs. H. Herring. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell, Misses Mary and Adeline Morrison and little Miss Elizabeth Hopkins.

With Our Sick.
The condition of Miss Velma Goodman who returned Friday from the State Sanatorium is reported today as somewhat improved.

Mrs. W. H. Gibson, who has been confined to her home with the flu for several days is now able to be up but is still unable to be out.

The condition of Mrs. R. C. Boger who has been confined to her home near St. John's with the flu for ten days is reported today as much improved.

The many friends of Mrs. J. C. Gibson will regret to learn that she has been ill for several days and her condition today is reported as unchanged.

Mrs. C. W. Brown and her daughter, Miss Helen Brown, are confined to their home on North Church street by an attack of the flu.

Mrs. Henderson to Undergo Second Operation.
Charlotte Observer: The Confederate Veterans and scores of friends beside, will regret to know that Mrs. Ellis Henderson will have to return to the Charlotte Sanatorium for another operation, and rather serious one. She recently underwent an operation at the Sanatorium, and returned to her home on Velvedere avenue two weeks ago.

Mrs. Henderson is leader of Julia Jackson chapter, Children of the Confederacy, and as such has made fame for herself and the chapter throughout the south. She has done a wonderful work with, and for the children. With her as the dynamic force, the chapter has won the highest prizes—and many of them—offered to the Children's chapter. She is beloved by the personnel of Mecklenburg camp, Confederate Veterans, and each old Vet. will regret to hear of her continued illness.

(Mrs. Henderson organized the local chapter of the Children of the Confederacy here last fall and made a number of friends who will regret to learn of her illness. Ed.)

Flora McDonald Branch Alumni Association Formed.
Thursday evening at the home of Miss Jean Maxwell on Grove street, the Flora McDonald Branch Alumni Association was formed and the following officers were elected: President Sarah Barnhardt, Secretary Mrs. R. V. Caldwell, Jr., Treasurer Mrs. M. R. Pounds.

It was decided that the Association meet three times a year—namely, the first Tuesdays in February, May and October and that the dues will be on dollar per year.

The purpose of the organization of a branch association is to give publicity to the college and to foster college spirit.

War Mothers.
The War Mothers will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. C. Fink at her home on North Union street.

Will Give Play.
"The Minister's Bride" a humorous play, will be given by the young people of St. Johns Reformed Church, Kannapolis, in the Central Graded School auditorium Tuesday night, February 13, at 7:45 o'clock. The Young Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of Trinity Reformed Church has charge of the tickets and will share in the receipts, placing them in the church building fund.

The play was written by a minister's wife for church performance. It is clean in all its suggestions, no unbecoming remarks, no flimsy slang. It was written to represent the experiences of a village church twenty years ago, a church that had the misfortune to lose three pastors by death, and also to have called a young unmarried man. The pastor has gone away to get married. There is such speculation as to the minister's bride, especially by the unmarried group in the church who have seen thirty and more. There are 18 characters in the play.

INCOME TAX FACTS.

No. 12.
Inquiries received by the Bureau of Internal Revenue indicate a mistaken impression in the minds of many taxpayers concerning deductions from gross income for personal expenses. Deductions for living or family expenses, such as amounts expended for food, clothing, education of children, rent for a dwelling, hire of domestic servants and similar items for the upkeep of a home are expressly disallowed by the revenue act.

A storekeeper may not clothe himself and family with goods taken from the store and deduct the cost of the clothing as a business expense. A restaurant keeper or hotel proprietor should make an allowance for meals for himself and family.

The same rule applies to a physician who conducts a sanitarium. A shopkeeper who dwells over his place of business should deduct as a business expense rental only of the portion of the building used for business. A farmer may deduct as a business expense wages paid a farm hand, but not those of a domestic employed in his household.

A physician who maintains an office in a rented home may deduct the proportion of such rent properly chargeable to the portion used for professional purposes. If, however, he maintains an office elsewhere and incidentally receives patients at his home, he is not entitled to deduct any part of the rent for his residence as a business expense. If a physician owns the home in which he has his office no deduction for rent is allowed.

The same general rulings in regard to deductions for home and office expenses apply to other professional men.

The Truth About Ourselves.

Charlotte News.
There are today 1,146 textile plants in the South, and North Carolina alone has 512 textile mills with 752,450 spindles. Many know the name and fame of Grand Rapids, Mich., but outside of the south there is probably not one person in a thousand who realizes that High Point is the second greatest furniture manufacturing city in the country nor that 50 per cent of the country's iron resources are in Alabama; that the largest damask mills in the world and the largest tire fabric mills in the world are in the south; that 67 per cent of the country's overalls and about 41 per cent of the soft-wood lumber and 35 per cent of the entire lumber output of the country is produced there; that the coal area of the South is twice as great as that of all Europe, including Russia, and that the South has developed 2,300,000 horsepower from its streams and rivers out of an estimated maximum water power of 9,000,000 horsepower which she can harness in the future for the use of her rapidly expanding industries. Southern mileage has quadrupled in thirty years, and the South will spend this year $100,000,000 in highway improvement.
