Bible Thought For The Day

FEAR DESTROYED.—Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.—Isa. 41:10.

EVERYTHING SHOWS PROSPERITY.

One day recently the Department of Labor and the Federal Reserve Board each issued a report showing the condition of business throughout the country, with each report based upon facts as brought out in the management of the two organizations.

INTERESTING OUTSIDERS.

We wonder how many readers of this paper ever heard of Bellows Falls, Vermont. We wonder, too, how many readers of this paper have any desire to move to that city?

SETS FINE EXAMPLE.

Miss Alice Robinson, after serving two years in the House of Representatives, will end her political career with the expiration of the present Congress, she having been defeated for re-election in the election on November 7th.

CONGRESS QUITS.

After being in session almost continuously since 1921, the Sixty-seventh Congress adjourned yesterday with a poor record. The record has been a disappointment not only to the country generally, but even to the Republican party, which entered Congress with a huge majority in both houses.

SHOW KEEN JUDGMENT.

We have heard much during the past two or three years about French people, and particularly French women, almost hating Americans. This spirit of animosity, say the reports, has sprung up since the war, and if we believe these rumors an American is not very popular in France.

CAMPBELL THROUGH AT LAST.

Dr. Ike Campbell, Republican physician of Norwood, who contested the election of Representative Doughton, and who lost in an investigation of the election, was in Washington for the closing of Congress, but his case did not come up and he seems through forever.

THE SIGN IS ALL.

We appreciate the fact that the State Highway Commission has a huge task on its hands in building and maintaining roads throughout the State, but at the same time we do not see why it insists on placing detouring signs reading "Detour No. —, maintained by the State Highway Commission" when the detour is not maintained at all.

seem to think that because they were elected to office once, the county owes them a living for life.

Miss Robinson has set an example that all defeated candidates would do well to follow.

COUNTY SCHOOL BILL PASSES LEGISLATURE

Calls For Election by Persons or the County to Determine Method of Raising School Funds. The following bill, relative to schools in Cabarrus county, has passed the General Assembly:

An Act to Equalize School Advantages in Cabarrus County, North Carolina. The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That upon a written request of the county board of education of Cabarrus County the board of county commissioners of said county shall call an election and after thirty days' notice submit to the qualified voters of Cabarrus County with the exception of the City of Concord, the question of whether there shall be levied and collected annually a special tax not exceeding ten cents on the hundred valuation of property for building purposes and not exceeding fifteen cents on the hundred dollars valuation of property for school maintenance in addition to the school taxes now authorized by the Constitution of North Carolina and the General Assembly, except as hereinafter provided.

Section 2. That if a majority of the qualified voters at said election shall favor the additional school tax, the board of county commissioners shall immediately thereupon levy this additional tax at the rate requested by the county board of education of Cabarrus County not inconsistent with the maximum rates fixed in section one of this act, and the said tax shall be levied and collected annually on all real and personal property and all polls in said county, with the exception of the City of Concord, observing the constitutional ratio and the constitutional limitation on poll tax.

Section 3. That if a majority of the qualified voters in the territory designated in this act favor the additional school tax, then said tax shall be levied and collected uniformly throughout said territory in the same manner that other taxes of said county are levied and collected, and shall be paid over to the treasurer of the school fund, and shall be used by the county board of education for the benefit of the schools in the territory embraced in this act: Provided, that there shall not be charged against this fund any commissions by the sheriff for collecting or by the treasurer for disbursing the same.

Section 4. That if a majority of the qualified electors favor the additional school tax, then it shall operate to repeal all local school taxes heretofore voted by local tax districts: Provided, that all indebtedness, bonded and unbonded, of the same tax districts in said territory shall be assumed by the county board of education and the indebtedness and the interest shall be paid out of the revenue derived from the additional school tax levied under this act.

Section 5. That if this act is approved by a majority of the qualified voters, then it shall become the duty of the county board of education to as rapidly as possible equalize school advantages in every section of the said county, and to this end the county board of education is authorized to provide at public expense, as a charge against the fund derived from the provisions of this act, for the transportation of those children who live beyond a reasonable walking distance of a public school. It shall also be the duty of the county board of education as early as possible to provide all those who have completed the grammar school with good high school facilities either by having a high school in walking distance or by providing for the transportation of the pupils to a high school: Provided, that the sixth and seventh grades, the last two grades of the Grammar school, may be regarded by the county board of education as Junior High School grades and housed with the regular high school, and treated as a part of the regular high school whenever in the judgment of the county board of education it seems best to do so.

Section 6. That this act shall not operate to reduce the funds which are now provided or may hereafter be provided by the Legislature for operating the schools for a period of six months, but shall be an additional amount to be used for the purpose of securing better buildings and equipment and to lengthen the term beyond six months and to provide salaries of teachers and to provide a part of the salary schedule of the county board of education shall desire to do so: Provided, said increase in salaries shall be uniform and consistent with training, experience and ability.

Section 7. That if this act is approved by a majority of the qualified voters, then the county board of education is authorized and empowered to borrow money for the purpose of erecting school buildings and providing suitable equipment and the borrowed money shall be repaid out of the funds derived from the levy here authorized for building purposes: Provided, that at no time shall the indebtedness incurred under the provisions of this section be more than two hundred thousand dollars.

Section 8. That the expenses of holding the election under this act shall be paid out of the general school fund of Cabarrus County.

Section 9. That it shall be the duty of the school committee of each school district to meet each year at the call of the chairman, at least one month before the usual time for the preparation of the annual budget for the county board of education, to consider the needs of the school or the schools in its respective district during the succeeding year and shall report its findings and recommendations to the county board of education.

Section 10. That this act shall not interfere in any way with the organization of schools as provided in general law, but if this act is approved by the qualified voters, the county board of education shall have the privilege of appointing five instead of three committeemen for the larger schools: Provided, further, that the patrons of any school district may have the privilege of recommending for appointment the members of the school committee, and it shall be the duty of the chairman of the committee to call a community meeting for this purpose when requested to do so by as many as ten patrons of the school.

Section 11. That this act shall be in force from and after its ratification.

South Plans Big Athletic Meet.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—Montgomery will be the mecca for thirteens of field athletes on May 18 and 19 to participate in what will probably be the most elaborate field meet ever held in the southern states, if plans already worked out succeed.

tions, but it has left a record so barren of accomplishment, so replete in its shortcomings and pitiable failures, as to entitle it to be characterized as probably the weakest and most inefficient Congress in our history.

We are going to have a long rest from Congressional action now, and we believe the country will welcome the rest. There will be nothing doing now from Congress until December unless Mr. Harding changes his mind and calls a special session, and we think he will not do this. His schemes for the most part failed at the session which ended yesterday and it would be futile for him to call a special session.

One great trouble with Congress was lack of a real leader. Senator Lodge is a fine politician, a man who loves big business and the moneyed interests, but he knows nothing about the needs of the public generally and therefore could not lead the great Republican majority in the right direction. Mr. Harding is no leader at all. He has to take his orders from the "bosses" and for that reason he too, failed to grasp the opportunity and devote the Republican majorities to helpful legislation.

CAMPBELL THROUGH AT LAST.

Dr. Ike Campbell, Republican physician of Norwood, who contested the election of Representative Doughton, and who lost in an investigation of the election, was in Washington for the closing of Congress, but his case did not come up and he seems through forever. Even though he received an unfavorable committee report Dr. Campbell evidently believed that he could get the case brought to the floor of the House in the confusion of the closing of Congress and thus be seated long enough at least to draw the salary which went to Mr. Doughton. But his case was not presented in any form and the election contest seems now to be a closed incident.

THE SIGN IS ALL.

We appreciate the fact that the State Highway Commission has a huge task on its hands in building and maintaining roads throughout the State, but at the same time we do not see why it insists on placing detouring signs reading "Detour No. —, maintained by the State Highway Commission" when the detour is not maintained at all. If the commission has more work than it can do, it should place the detour signs and say nothing about maintaining the detours unless this is to be done, for the signs really call attention to the condition of the roads and make travelers believe they are going to find something fine.

If the detour just north of Kannapolis, on the Concord-Salisbury road, is being maintained, as the detour signs say, we hope we will not have to drive over a road that is not being maintained. It would be hard to imagine a road rougher than this detour.

HUNDREDS EXPECTED AT GOOD ROADS MEETING

Three of Largest Good Roads Organizations in Nation to Meet in Greenville, S. C. Greenville, S. C., March 3.—Every effort possible is being put forth to make the coming meeting of the United States Good Roads Association, the Bankhead National Highway Association and United States Good Roads Show in Greenville, April 16-21 a wonderful success.

Hon. Thomas G. McLeod, Governor of South Carolina, has accepted an invitation to deliver the address of welcome in behalf of the state of South Carolina at the opening of these conventions. He has pledged to Director General Rountree and the Greenville Chamber of Commerce Road Bureau that he will do everything in his power to assist in making the annual meetings of these two associations and the United States Good Roads Show a success. He will write a personal invitation to the various Governors throughout the United States extending them a cordial invitation personally and officially to visit South Carolina and attend these conventions. He will also forward letters to the 47 Governors in the American Union inviting each one of them to appoint 100 delegates to represent their state at the United States Good Roads Association and to head the delegation if they possibly can to Greenville. He is quite enthusiastic about the convention and is also preparing an invitation to send to more than 100,000 road boosters throughout the nation to come to Greenville, Good Roads Week.

The executive officers of the United States Good Roads Association are delighted with the enthusiasm that Governor McLeod has evinced in these organizations.

Director General J. A. Rountree, who has charge of the details and is here in Greenville, is quite enthusiastic over the prospects for the success of the convention, and especially since he has the assurance of the hearty co-operation of Governor McLeod, who is one of the great road boosters of the Nation.

"A thousand dollar loan will put me on my feet," said the citizen in distress. "Get on your feet first and I'll talk to you," replied the banker. "Eh?" "You have a brand new sport car parked out in front."

HOME ECONOMICS IS GETTING MORE ATTENTION

Throughout the State Increased Interest is Being Shown in Subject. Raleigh, N. C., March 5.—Home economic departments in North Carolina high schools are "coming out of the basements," according to Miss Margaret Edwards, state supervisor of the work. Indeed, modern class rooms are being provided and in one instance a model cottage is to be constructed for the course, she stated.

Miss Edwards returned today from Rocky Mount, Goldsboro, Wallace and other North Carolina towns, where she arranged to start special instruction in home economics and home making. At Wallace, consolidated school authorities agreed to construct a model brick-veneer residence to be used in home economic instruction, she said. The teacher of the course will reside in the home, when it is completed, and the girl students will take turns in staying there each week-end. The new home will be ready for occupancy this fall.

In addition to the residence, Wallace officials are planning to construct an agricultural building for boys attending the school. The institution serves a large rural district. "The tendency to construct cottages for use in teaching home economics and home-making is spreading in this state," said Miss Edwards. "In Texas, the plan has been adopted in many communities and is a decided success. We hope to have the same system in effect throughout North Carolina within the next several years."

In Rocky Mount Miss Edwards arranged for special classes in home economics to start this spring. In Goldsboro she authorized similar classes for Borden Mills workers.

Careful Feeding of Hogs Pays.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 28.—Demonstration fed hogs, which are weighed periodically by county agents and upon which a record of the amount and cost of feed is kept to be sold during last of March will bring approximately $25,000 to farmers now taking part in this work in North Carolina, W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist, announced yesterday. There are 86 hog feeding demonstrations running in 13 counties of the State.

It has been several years since hogs have sold during March for less than ten cents per pound. Last year they brought 11 1/2 cents. In addition to the 1225 head upon which records are being kept, there are many cars which are being fed in a similar manner under instruction by the same agents, it was stated.

"Last year demonstration fed hogs sold at $1.00 per hundred pounds more than the current price for North Carolina hogs," said Mr. Shay. "This year that will amount to a premium of approximately $2,500 on the hogs now being fed. This work is repeated during the summer, the next crop being marketed during the last of August."
