Bible Thought For The Day

THE GOLDEN RULE.—As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them.—Luke 6:31.

EVERY DAY FOR CLEANUP.

According to reliable information Mayor Womble and members of the Board of Aldermen, with the co-operation of the county health department, are trying to devise plans whereby every day in Concord will be a cleanup day.

It is stated that Mayor Womble wants to get a Ford truck with a body built especially for trash hauling. The truck would adopt a certain schedule for every street in the city, making a visit to every street at least once a week.

In the absence of an incinerator, which the city may purchase later, it is suggested that the papers, cans and other trash be dumped in a deep hollow on the outskirts of the city, where a fire can be started and the trash burned.

The hauling and disposing of the trash is a city problem. It is useless to say that each individual should be responsible for his own trash. In that event the trash, including cans, and bottles and other vessels, will be left on the lots in many instances, and here disease carrying insects will be hatched, and disease thus spread to every part of the city, making it a civic proposition.

We believe the plan that is said to be suggested by Mayor Womble is a creditable one. The truck could visit many streets each day. Everyone would know what day to expect the truck, and all trash could be removed from back yards and other places once each week. The sooner such a plan, or some other feasible one is put in operation here, the better.

WHAT ADVERTISING MANAGER SAYS.

The Philadelphia Record finds that William Henry Walsh, advertising manager of the Salada Tea Company, of Boston, is not only a believer in newspaper advertising, but is also a constant user of this form of advertising. For that reason it is interesting to note that the Record quotes Mr. Walsh as saying: "that a glance at the facts shows the superiority of newspaper advertising over other forms. What newspaper advertising does and does effectively is to get the consumer to try the advertised article once, but if it is not of prime quality all the advertising in the world will not get them to try it a second time. My advice to anyone introducing any good article to the public is to make sure of its quality, let it be of the highest, for people will pay a fair price for a good article; then, use the daily press as extensively as possible."

And for the future Mr. Walsh is very optimistic, advising all persons and business concerns who have services or goods for sale, to advertise them in the newspapers.

"At no time in the history of advertising in this country has there been a better prospect than just now," he declares. "In fact it was never so good. The people of the United States are pre-eminently newspaper readers, and advertisers everywhere are recognizing this fact more and more. Without attempting to say that other forms of advertising are not good, I venture to say—and you may put it as emphatically as you please—that I consider the daily newspapers the best of all."

THE SECRET OF OUR SUCCESS.

The commission appointed by Governor McLeod, of South Carolina, to make an inspection of North Carolina's industrial status, and the causes contributing to the great strides we have made here in the Old North State, has published its report, which contains much just flattery for this State. The report shows various influences that have played an important part in our success, but it lays special emphasis on the character of the people of North Carolina, indicating that in the commission's opinion, our people have been the real secret of our success.

And that is right. Roger Babson, the statistician, claims that some States are greater than other States with equal resources because the people of the former determine they will make good and they proceed to do it, while in the latter State the people never seem to get the vision of greater things. Within the past several years the people of this State have been told time and time again that they have an opportunity here greater than any other State offers. They have seen the success that comes with diligent work. They have come to realize more and more the natural advantages we have, and each seems possessed with a desire to get all that is coming. As a result we are growing, and as we grow we are wisely preparing for the future, in an educational, religious and material way.

TALK SOMETIMES EXPENSIVE.

We have always heard that talk is cheap, but there are many exceptions to this rule. And one instance of this is shown in the action of members of Congress who are denied a chance to speak on the floor but who are given the privilege to "extend their remarks," which means that they could have printed in the Congressional Record speeches which they never made on the floor.

As usual when Congress recently adjourned, there were many members who had not talked as much as they desired, so they sought and received permission to have their "would be speeches" printed in The Record, and it has been discovered that Senators and members of the House had "extended" their remarks to the amount of 208 pages of The Record at a total extra cost to the government of $10,040, not including the cost of mailing and transportation.

In some instances it was shown that it cost the government from $300 to $600 to print what some Representative or Senator was supposed to say, when, as a matter of fact, it wasn't worth one cent to the people. We would almost wager that the only persons who read these printed addresses were the linotype operators, the proof readers and perhaps the authors themselves. It is just a waste of money and paper, with no one getting the benefit.

A MOST WISE JUDGE.

Joseph Biemer, of Pittsburgh, was recently sentenced to two years in the Atlanta penitentiary. He was fined $10,000 and ordered to pay the court costs by Judge Killits when a Federal grand jury found him guilty of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. And Judge Killits showed himself to be a most wise judge when he said, in passing sentence:

"You wrote your ticket to the penitentiary a long time ago. You caused the Government a great deal of trouble and expense and you must pay back all that has been spent to convict you. You were indicted with six others who were engaged with you in the illegal running of whisky between Pittsburgh and Canton, but you fought extradition successfully for a long time and succeeded in aggravating the Government. I knew you were guilty when you were afraid to take the witness stand in your own defense, to refute the charges made against you. Other witnesses called you the 'biggest bootlegger in Pittsburgh,' and you did not deny. That's a title you'll have to pay dearly for."

The Court overruled the motion of Biemer's counsel for a new trial and refused to release him on bail.

The Judge had previously assailed the lawyers, saying: "I have no respect for an attorney who will come into this court and plead his client not guilty when he knows that his client is guilty. It disgusts me to listen to a lawyer plead for mercy for his client after he has been convicted, plead for mercy on the ground that he has no money, when the attorney has already collected all the money he can get from him. "It is a despicable practice—a practice that aggravates the Court, wastes my time and wastes this down-trodden Government's money. I will have no mercy for a violator who pleads not guilty and is found to have violated the law after being tried by a jury. I will give the limit to all such bootleggers in the future."

In this sentence of Judge Killits not only gave the bootleggers some fine advice, advice that is calculated to make them sit up and take notice, but he also gave a tip to the lawyers, many of whom go into court and plead for mercy when they know their clients have been violating laws almost daily.

WORK FOR EVERYONE.

One prominent welfare worker who has devoted a great deal of time to the subject declares there are 6,000,000 underprivileged boys in the United States and that less than 350,000 of them are touched by any of the agencies devoted to their welfare. How many of them are in North Carolina? How many of them are in Concord? Does the percentage hold good in this community and in this State?

We know of no greater work than that which tends to uplift and assist the underprivileged boy. The Rotary Club here devotes a greater part of its attention to the boy, and is doing a fine work. The Boy Scouts formerly worked with the boy. The Y is devoting practically all of its time to him, but even then the boy helpers are not doing all that there is to be done.

There are hundreds of boys in the dark places, in the highways and byways, and they have to be sought there and shown the light. They are not going to come forward until they are made to realize the helping hand is waiting for them. We are striving to help these boys but we are not yet doing enough. We should give them every encouragement and aid offered by this enlightened civilization, for after all the boy is one of the things "that matters" and we should not neglect him, however humble, he may be.

Governor Morrison was quick to deny rumors that a split had occurred between him and A. W. McLean, who is expected to run for Governor in the next Democratic primary in North Carolina. The rumors were started somewhere in Raleigh, and on the day after they were first circulated Governor Morrison denounced them. One rumor said Mr. Morrison was opposed to Mr. McLean now because the Governor wants to see W. N. Everett chosen as the Democratic standard bearer. Secretary Everett comes out and denies rumors that he is seeking the nomination, so after all it seems that the race will be between Mr. McLean and Mr. Josiah W. Bailey. The Morrison faction is expected to support the former.

DR. DROESNER PERFECTS PNEUMONIA TREATMENT

High Frequency Electric Currents Are Inducted Into Patients' Body. Hoboken, N. J., March 22.—Perfection of a new treatment for pneumonia whereby high frequency electric currents are inducted into the body by Dr. H. V. Drosner, a roentgen ray specialist, attached to St. Mary's hospital, who for ten days has been carrying on experiments with pneumonia patients under the observation of a group of New Jersey lung specialists.

The new treatment, known as the diathermic, was said by Dr. Drosner to relieve congestion by electrically producing body heat and by driving blood to the affected organs. First used during the world war, the method was introduced here ten days ago. Nine patients were subjected to the treatment and all recovered so rapidly that they will be discharged from the hospital within a few days.

One of the patients, Dr. Drosner said, was in such a weakened condition when the test was made that oxygen gas was being administered to sustain life.

Strength of Section 2 of Dry Law Proved.

Section 2 of the Turlington act, North Carolina's recently enacted dry law, proved its strength in police court here Friday. J. F. Beam was the victim.

Beam had been arrested for drunkenness and on his person was found a small quantity of whiskey, but the quantity of the forbidden fluid was less than a pint and it was evident that the defendant had it for only his own personal use, it was said. But the new act was enforced and Beam was charged with having whiskey in his possession, as well as with drunkenness. For the first offense the defendant was fined $10 and the costs. An equal fine was imposed by Judge Wade H. Williams for the coincident offense. The fines with the costs totaled $29.30.

Harding Party May Stop Over at North Carolina Rest.

Miami, Fla., March 23.—Attorney General Daugherty will leave Miami Tuesday for St. Augustine, to join President Harding, according to plans announced today by Mr. Daugherty's physician, Dr. J. T. Boone. The attorney general will probably continue on to Asheville, N. C., and to Atlantic City for visits.

The tentative schedule is amendable to Mr. Daugherty's condition, however, Mr. Boone said, and added that the start at Miami Beach had hurried the attorney general's recovery and that it was believed the start would begin Tuesday.

MATERIAL IMPROVEMENTS PROPOSED AT CORNELIUS

Twenty Thousand Dollars Worth of Municipal Bonds to Be Sold During April.

Cornelius, March 25.—This town falls into line and proposes to keep up with the procession in the way of material improvements. Some time ago the vote was cast in favor of a bond issue of $20,000 to provide a fund for paving sidewalks and for street paving. This latter will cover about one half mile on Main street, in the more thickly settled and business section of the town, on each side of the state highway, the paving to extend the width of the street, and similar paving for a half mile will be laid on Catawba street, the street in which the county is to build the hard surfaced road for something more than four miles toward the Catawba bridge. The bonds will be offered for sale on April 17.

No definite plans have as yet materialized, but it is confidently expected by many that in the near future the town will make provision for the establishment of a water plant.

Another move that is significant of the town's growth and extension is the definite decision to build a road on the east side of the railroad and depot, extending from a point about where the present highway crosses the Southern railway in the southern end of town to the point in the extreme northern limits of the town where the paved highway out of Davidson runs under the railroad underpass, which it is understood will be made in the near future. This mile of road or rather of street will be constructed during the summer.

Disappointment is felt in this end of the county over the discovery that the contract for a black top concrete road running westward toward Catawba bridge calls for paving only as far as the point where the new Beattie's Ford road recently constructed comes into the Cornelius-Catawba road. This leaves nearly a mile of sand clay road from this junction to the river. Of course, there is a good reason why the concrete will not be laid just now to the river.

Uncertainty as to what may possibly be the development of water power in this immediate section by the Southern Power company makes it ill-advised just at present to contract for a permanent hard-surface road, certainly at least until something a little more definite is known as to the purposes of the Southern Power company. On the other hand the hope is earnestly entertained by this end of the county that either this last mile can soon be arranged for or the promise handed out of something that is even better.

HEROIC LAD SAVES THE LIFE OF HIS PLAYMATE

One-Armed Youth Severely Burned in Scorching Fire in Another's Clothing. Greenwood, March 23.—James William Bradford, Jr., small son of J. W. Bradford, president of the Greenwood chamber of commerce, was saved from death by burning yesterday afternoon by the heroism of Roy Burkette, a one-armed lad and playmate of Bradford's. When a baseball struck Roman candle caps in Bradford's trouser pockets and ignited his clothes, the child started to run home, realizing that that meant certain death. Burkette overtook him, threw him down and held him with his feet and legs while he beat out the fire with his one hand. Bradford was severely burned on one thigh and Burkette's lone hand was seriously burned.

Young Bradford is a pupil in the third grade. Burkette is in the seventh grade and lives at Greenwood mill village. Efforts are being made to procure a Carnegie medal for heroism for him.

GOVERNOR DESIGNATES FIRE PROTECTION WEEK

Calls Upon People of the State to Study the Question and Observe the Best Methods. Raleigh, March 23.—In accordance with request from C. W. Pugsley, acting secretary of agriculture, and in keeping with similar action by the part of President Harding, Governor Morrison today issued a proclamation to the people of the state setting aside the week of April 22-29 as forest protection week in the state.

The proclamation by the governor follows: "To the people of North Carolina: "His Excellency, the President of the United States, in a proclamation issued March 5, 1923, calls upon the governors of the various states to designate and set aside the week of April 22-29 as forest protection week. "As governor of North Carolina, it is my pleasure to accede to this request, and to call upon our people to observe the period designated by the President in an appropriate manner. The President states that a study be made of the waste from forest fires and ways of preventing and reducing such losses."

Forecast of Shortage of Sugar Eroneous.

Washington, March 23.—On February 8, the department of commerce issued a statement summarizing the situation on the production and consumption of sugar. It was erroneously reported as indicating a shortage for the coming year. The statement was highly technical and statistical in its nature and the summary of it, in news dispatches, failed to take into account that the so-called "carry-over" of stocks from the preceding year would more than offset the decrease in production which the department's statement showed. The word "shortage" did not occur in the text of the department's statement. Later the department issued a general correction which was published in these dispatches. This statement is made in fairness to Secretary Hoover.

Governor Morrison Has Returned to His Desk.

Raleigh, March 23.—Governor Morrison returned to Raleigh from Charlotte last night. He had spent the week at the bedside of his nephew, C. B. Bryant, prominent Charlotte cotton broker, who has been seriously ill.

BILLY SUNDAY PREACHES SERMON ON AMUSEMENTS

Ten Thousand People Crowd Into the Tabernacle to Hear the Famous Evangelist.

Columbia, S. C., March 24.—Ten thousand people packed into the Billy Sunday tabernacle here tonight in ways that were unimaginable, making the largest crowd by far that has ever heard the evangelist in this state, when he preached his famous sermon on amusements. He was heard with rapt attention as he hurled his condemnation of extremes in society and pleasure into the faces of debts and sub-debs, grass widows and matrons, men and women, belles and society queens.

It was a unique audience that heard him declare: "More girls go to hell over the ball-room floor than any other route. Do you mean to tell me that a man can look on a girl who is dressed as she is on the dance floor and have prayer meeting thoughts? I'm no crank on these things. You have a right to your beliefs; but I'm telling you mine."

Two hours before the service started there were several thousand people in the tabernacle, and when 6:30 o'clock came there was hardly a seat left. The service started at 7 instead of the usual 7:30, because the crowd was waiting.

Mr. Sunday kept his audience laughing and serious at intervals. There was no invitation for trail hitters. He said things—plainly, but with the aim of presenting the near approach to the brink of the young men and women of the day.

PROTESTANT RELIGION IN DANGER IN EUROPE

Dr. Adolf Keller Says Germany is Worst Sufferer, But Other Countries in Need.

Washington, March 25.—Protestant Christianity in Europe is coming to a standstill and may perish unless help is given promptly, according to a report Dr. Adolf Keller, secretary of the Federato of Protestant Churches of Switzerland, made public today by the Federal Council of Churches. The churches of Germany, the report says, are the worst sufferers although those in Austria, Italy, France and Belgium are severely in need. "Many institutions, schools and charitable organizations are in imminent jeopardy of being closed or passing into other hands," the report declares, adding that "the evangelical press and evangelical literature is fast disappearing."

"Thousands of professional men, clergymen and their families, widows of the clergy and aged pastors are plunged into direct want. Evangelical minorities in many places are enduring persecution. The supply of conditions of ordination has fallen, European protestantism is faced with a great crisis. Help must come or the protestant churches will perish."

Sunday School Institute.

Messrs. J. B. Robertson and R. P. Benson and Misses Rosa Mund, Marvin Misener and Elizabeth Blackwelder went to Shiloh Church in No. 3 township yesterday where a Sunday School Institute was held. A large crowd was present and the importance of Sunday School work and organization in the schools was stressed. At 7:30 last night a similar institute was conducted at Harmony church and No. 2 township by Messrs. Benson and Robertson. This completes the holding of institutes for the county, and will enable the county to make 100 per cent. in its report to the State Sunday School Convention at Winston next month.

Twenty-five years of indigestion was ended for her when she took Tanlac, declares Mrs. M. F. Streeter, well known resident of Newark, in remarkable statement to the public.

"Tanlac has made me feel like a new person and I wouldn't be without it," declared Mrs. M. F. Streeter, 273 S. 9th St., Newark, N. J.

"Off and on for twenty-five years I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. My food disagreed with me and often I could hardly retain a thing. Gas bloated me till my heart palpitated so badly I feared I had heart disease. My nerves were on edge, I couldn't sleep, suffered awful headaches and was simply all worn out. "But five bottles of Tanlac put me in the finest health. I eat heartily without trouble afterwards, sleep soundly and have no more nervousness or headaches. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold at all good drug stores.

Over 35-million bottles sold.

EXECUTORS NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

Having qualified as executors of the will of J. R. Wallace, deceased, all persons holding claims against the estate of said deceased are hereby notified to file such claims duly itemized and verified with our attorney, J. D. McCall, Charlotte, N. C., on or before the 26th day of February, 1924, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

SELECT COTTON SEED FOR PLANTING FOR SALE.

The Agricultural Department recommends only three kind of cotton seed out of the many varieties offered for sale. Out of one of these I selected a short limbed prolific stalk, and for three years selected the same types of stalk, until I thought it was established. It comes with the earliest and stays with the latest and has proven the best yielder I have ever grown. It makes 10 per cent. hot, which is a big item in the picking expense, the short limbs admits the sun into the stalk, which helps to check the boll weevil.

I am offering these seed graded at $1.50 per bushel in 10 bushel lots; or $1.75 per bushel in smaller quantities.
