One case of measles was the only disease of any kind reported to the county health department Friday afternoon and night. The measles and whooping cough situation throughout the county has shown much improvement during the past ten days.

Only two cases were tried in recorder's court Friday, although five were docketed. In one case the defendant was fined $15 and in the other case that was tried the defendant was found not guilty. The other three cases were continued by permission of the court.

Interest in the Cabarrus Fair continues to grow. It was stated this morning by a representative who was in Kannapolis yesterday. The merchants in that place showed a live interest in the coming event, it was stated, and are already boosting the Big Fair.

Mrs. Jennie L. Sechler, widow of the late Joseph Sechler, died at the home of her son, M. C. C. Sechler, at China Grove, early Friday morning. The funeral took place at Mt. Zion church this afternoon at 2 o'clock and the burial was in Greenlawn cemetery at China Grove.

The Bethel community club held its regular meeting Friday night, with a good attendance of members. Prof. J. B. Robertson made a talk, outlining the proposed system of High Schools for the county, at the conclusion of which the club voted its endorsement of the proposed plan.

The annual Spring excursion to Washington was operated Friday night by the Southern Railway. Quite a number of Concord people took advantage of the opportunity to visit the capital on reduced fares, and reports from other cities served by the Southern indicate that the excursion was very popular.

Excavation work is being made with the excavator on the Linker lot, at the intersection of Church and Depot Streets. The property is being cut down almost level with the sidewalk, and as soon as the excavation work is completed, Mr. Linker will start the erection of a three-story building on the lot.

Miss Cathleen Wilson, county home demonstration agent, states that she has been notified to report at Blue Ridge on July 2nd for a conference of agents from all parts of the state. Young people were there from the furthest corner of the state west, some of them coming more than 300 miles.

It is probable that the part of the Kannapolis road between this city and the Country Club will be completed early this week. In fact, the only part of the road is completed now, the stretch extending to be paved being just north of the city limits. Above Cook's Crossing but little work has been done on the road, but most of the workmen will be moved there, it is reported, as soon as the stretch now nearing completion is finished.

The site for the County Fair is beginning to take definite form now. A large number of stalls and other buildings which will house livestock and some of the equipment for the stock, have been erected during the past week, and other buildings are under construction now. The Secretary of the Fair has about completed his program and with everything booked for the week, efforts to get the grounds in shape will be doubled from now until October, when the fair will be held.

E. B. GRADY TO BUILD NEW STRUCTURE HERE

Building Will Be Erected on His Lot on East Corbin Street, Work to Start at Once. A modest brick building, which will combine store rooms and three apartments, will be erected here in the immediate future by Mr. E. B. Grady. Plans for the building have already been drawn and approved by Mr. Grady, and work on the building will start immediately.

Mr. Grady will erect his new building on his lot on East Corbin street, adjoining his plumbing plant and office. The house on the lot now will be moved, and Mr. Grady has already moved his family, preparatory to the moving of the house.

The building as planned by Mr. Grady will be two-stories high, and is to be built entirely of brick. The ground floor and basement will be constructed for business houses and the second floor will house three apartments. The building will be 40x84 feet.

One of the apartments will run the entire length of the building and will be occupied by Mr. Grady and his family. On the other side of the building will be two apartments, each to consist of a living room, bed room, breakfast room, bathroom and kitchen.

A modern heating system will be installed in the building, which will include all other modern equipment. Mr. Grady declared, in discussing the building, that there has been a scarcity of homes here for several years and this fact influenced him in building the three apartments in his new building.

Discovery of Mississippi.

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., June 16.—Prairie Du Chien is to be the scene tomorrow of a great historical pageant to celebrate the two hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Mississippi river by Marquette and Joliet. As Prairie Du Chien is located within sight of the place where the French explorers obtained their first glimpse of the Mississippi and the great west, it was deemed especially fitting that the celebration should take place here. In the pageant the events of June 17 of two centuries and a half ago will be re-enacted and the canoes of the explorers again will be seen floating from the Wisconsin river into the Mississippi river as they did of old.

ON THE WING.

(By John R. Elkins.) In "swinging around the corner" the past week I found myself domiciled for a couple of days in the very pretty and thriving town of Kannapolis. True the town did not spring up over night, but since its birth its growth has been so rapid that it has almost startled the natives, and has caused most everybody to "sit up and take notice."

In my boyhood days and even in young manhood days a market for all the necessities of life being established at this point was preposterous. Such a thought would have been only a fanciful dreamer. But all this has been realized and the end not yet. Pretty paved streets, nice residences, general stores, drug stores, grocery stores, repair shops, garages, elegant churches, spacious school buildings, and a mammoth cotton mill, which in the production of towels, surpasses anything in the known world. This great accomplishment was projected through the fertile brain of the late Mr. James W. Cannon, of Concord, N. C., who, during his life, accumulated a fortune, I am advised, of more than four million dollars. He was a genius in the art of finances. This towel manufacturing plant is a wonder, the buildings are immense, and the output almost staggering to the belief. Through the courtesy of Mr. Roy Probst, manager of one of the departments, I was permitted to pass through and view the machinery and the output. In one room I was eight hundred looms and in another room thirteen hundred looms all in active movement and these are only a portion of the great machinery involved. I was told that the capacity of the mills in raw cotton was four hundred and fifty bales per day, and the payroll in one department alone, which was only one-fourth, aggregated more than seventy thousand dollars a month. Towels, towels, towels! Turkish towels, plain towels, big towels, little towels, white towels, and striped towels, and rooms full of towels, a factory full of towels, and towels for the world. I was amazed. Usually my imagination is vivid enough. Sometimes, like Indian rubber, it stretches a bit, but in this instance I found my vocabulary of adjectives insufficient for the task of description. I was rather confused at the immensity of things but not as much befuddled as an old lady some years ago. In times past there was a cotton factory at Milledgeville on the Yarkin River in Montgomery county. This old lady knew of the factory but up to the time indicated had never visited it. One day, gathering herself up, she went and while she stood and looked at, and listened to the hum and whir of the machinery, in amazement she exclaimed "The works of God are wonderful, but what are they compared to the works of man?" The Cannon Manufacturing Company, I learn, owns not only the mills but a large per cent of the homes in this, the largest towel manufacturing city in the world. Sanitary rules and regulations, not only in the mills, but in the homes are scrupulously carried out. The operatives, a majority of whom are girls and women, are splendid specimens of humanity, their healthfulness and pleasant demeanor indicating that their environments were such as to not only promote physical health, but to create a feeling of contentment and real happiness. My brother, from Texas, was much overjoyed at the wonderful progress that our good old home county, Cabarrus, has made during his long absence.

Summer School Starts Here Next Month. Final plans are being made now for the Cabarrus County summer school for white school teachers. The school will open on Wednesday, July 11th, and continue for six weeks.

The instructors for the school will be Miss Lois Workman, of Burlington, and Miss Elizabeth Campbell, of New Bern. Miss Workman is a graduate of North Carolina College for Women and during the past year was in charge of the teacher training department of the Shelby High School. She has had extended experience in summer school work.

Miss Campbell was formerly superintendent of school for Craven County and last year was teacher in the normal department in the college at Valdosta, Ga. She has had summer school experience for several years.

The school gives promise of being one of the most successful ever held in this county. New Schedule Swimming Pool Hours at the Y. M. C. A. Grade boys—Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 3-4. Saturday 5-6. BOY KILLED, ANOTHER HURT IN ACCIDENT

Boys Were Riding in Wagon Which Was Struck by Passenger Train Near Raleigh. Raleigh, June 16.—A boy named Hodges is dead, and his brother is at a local hospital in a dying condition as the result of injuries received this morning when a wagon in which they were riding was struck by westbound Southern Railway passenger train No. 15 at Vinson's Crossing, near Garner. Two miles, which were drawing the wagon were killed.

The boys were brought to Raleigh and placed in the hospital, but one of them died a few minutes after reaching there. The names of the victims were not known at the hospital but it was learned at the railway offices that they were sons of a Mr. Hodges who lives near Auburn, nine miles east of Raleigh.

KIWANIANS MEET

A Most Interesting Programme.—Several Matters of Interest Taken Up. An unusually fine musical program was the feature of the meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The program, which had been arranged by team No. 1, under Albert Palmer, captain, consisted of vocal solos by Mr. Alan D. Prindell, of this city, and a number of piano selections by Miss Ruth McClain, of New York, who with her hostess, Miss Constance Cline, were guests at the meeting. The numbers rendered by both these artists were most enthusiastically received by the Kiwanians, who voiced their appreciation in repeated encores.

The matter of the hard-surfaced highway across lower Cabarrus County, connecting Charlotte and Albemarle, was again brought before the club by Major Will Foil, who reported that his committee went to Albemarle last Tuesday to have informal conferences with citizens of that place. A number of Albemarle people, he said, assured him that they are in favor of the hard surfacing of the Concord-Albemarle road, and saving the money it would cost to hard surface the 40 or 42 miles from Albemarle to Charlotte.

The difference in the distance from Albemarle to Charlotte over the two routes was definitely stated in a letter from Mr. Pridden, chief engineer of the Highway Commission. From the main square in Charlotte to the main square in Albemarle, by way of Concord is 46.35 miles, said the letter; while the distance from Charlotte to Albemarle by the lower Cabarrus route, after the elimination of a number of curves, will be about 40.75 miles, making a difference of only 5.6 miles in the two routes.

The National Highway from Charlotte to Concord is being hard surfaced now, continued Major Foil, and the city of Concord is paved to the eastern corporate limits, so the only additional hard surfacing needed to have the Albemarle-Concord-Charlotte route completed, is the stretch from the eastern limits of Albemarle to the western limits of Albemarle. This link could be paved with permanent hard surface almost $500,000 cheaper than the proposed southern Cabarrus route.

The distance from Albemarle to the Cabarrus County line on the lower Cabarrus route is about 18 miles, while the distance from Albemarle to the Cabarrus County line on the Albemarle-Concord highway is only 11.5 miles, so that the saving to Stanley County in hard surfacing the latter route would be the cost of 6.5 miles approximately—a considerable sum.

This matter is not yet settled, but will be taken up at a joint meeting in Albemarle with the Lions Club on next Thursday a week, June 28th, at which time Major Foil urged all who are interested in this matter to be present at the meeting in Albemarle. Rev. L. A. Thomas was a guest at the meeting. The attendance prize, given by Team No. 1, was drawn by Julius Fisher.

Six Year Old Boy Kills Two Big Snakes. Lee, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hopkins, of No. 11 township, had a fight with two black snakes this week. The child killed both of the snakes, the first measuring seven feet and two inches and the second five feet and ten inches. The parents saw the child throwing stones, but not believing that he was fighting snakes they did not go to his assistance until he had killed the biggest snake and had almost killed the other one.

Severe Indigestion. "I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter, consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach! I took medicines, but did not get any better. The druggist recommended

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT. and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried others for two or more years without any improvement in my health. I soon found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain. In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147—eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer. Have you tried Thedford's Black-Draught? If not, do so today. Over 8 million packages sold, a year. At dealers'.

London Professor Declares His Tests Have Proved Merits of New System of Treatment. London, June 16.—(By the Associated Press)—Humanity is offered a palliative if not a cure for tuberculosis by Prof. George Dreyer, bacteriologist of Oxford University. The basis of his treatment is described as a more effective system of inoculation than has hitherto been known. In explaining his discovery to the Institute of Pathology and Research at Mary's Hospital, Prof. Dreyer said that remarkable cures had been made on guinea pigs and other animals that other great important cases of personal suffering from tuberculosis, poisoning, and other diseases had pointed out that dead bacteria are not the cause of the disease.
