BEAR AND FORBEAR ADVICE DIVORCE JUDGE GIVES YOUNG

Chicago Jurist Speaks Out of Years in Dealing With Wedded Woe, Saving 500 Homes.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Judge Sabath, who holds the Chicago divorce record, who has reunited 500 couples who sought divorce and who was rendered so melancholy and depressed by his experience, gave some advice today to young married persons and those seeking matrimony.

"Bear and forbear" is the secret of happy marriage, he said. "There are too many marriages based on hasty impulses, too many one-night marriages, too many marriages due to liquor. It isn't all looks, you know, what you have to know about your mate is his ways, his disposition—even his faults, for we all have them."

"I hope some time to get a law passed obliging a couple to wait 30 days between the issuance of the license and the wedding," the judge went on. "Money at the start is not necessary."

At his father's home where the cake was eaten, the judge said, "If you have to work together, you'll know each other much better, live together better and be happier. A great deal depends on the wife, the real help. If the wife gives a man a good breakfast in the morning and kisses him good-by, he'll want to hurry home at night to see her again," he explained.

"But think of another kind of home—not really a home at all. The wife out all afternoon playing cards. Husband gets home. No wife, no supper. That's find is one of the most common causes of divorce."

For two days his friends and neighbors will attend the late President's customary funeral rites of the small town of the Middle West, and then with strict simplicity they will accompany Mrs. Harding and the body to the cemetery where it will be entombed tomorrow afternoon.

The only funeral services here will be at the cemetery and they will be extremely brief and simple, in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Harding. Only relatives and intimate friends will make up the small party going to the cemetery. Even newspaper men will be excluded from the services at the tomb.

A great deal depends on the wife, the real help. If the wife gives a man a good breakfast in the morning and kisses him good-by, he'll want to hurry home at night to see her again," he explained.

CUNO'S ADDRESS TO REICHSTAG WORRIES PEOPLE OF GERMANY

Called "Traitor" by Opponents

But Many Reichstag Members Applauded.—British Proposal Described as "Impossible."

Berlin, Aug. 9. (By the Associated Press).—Chancellor Cuno's address to the reichstag in which he declared that passive resistance in the Ruhr and Rheinland would continue to be supported by the nation, has been received as the most depressing statement yet made to the national legislature by the present government.

The coalition parties regard it as a disappointing utterance. The chancellor was visibly disconcerted by the boisterous heckling of the communist members, who when he arose to speak hailed him a "traitor," "swindler" and "President of the Stines Company."

It is necessary to continue with all our strength passive resistance, free from mad acts of violence and terror," he said, "and to support actively from the unoccupied territory the population which is persevering in a passive resistance."

TAX REFORM IN GEORGIA

Senate Leaders Awaiting the Action of the House on the Measures.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 9.—With the 1923 session of the Georgia general assembly now in its closing days, leaders of the house today were confident that if any tax reform measure is enacted this summer it will be one of four bills already proposed, three of which have been recommended by the constitutional amendments committee.

The three recommended measures, framed by the committee after Governor Walker had urged a compromise on numerous bills being considered by the body, are as follows: One proposing an income tax, limited to five percent.

Another which would establish both an income tax and classification levy. A third proposing a classification tax. The three propositions were submitted by the committee, it was stated, so that either the income or classification tax could be selected, or if both systems were desired they could be adopted by voting for the second bill.

Mr. Bussey's measure is a revision of a bill he introduced early in the session and which was not adopted by the constitutional amendments committee. While these proposals are being considered, the bill repealing the state tax equalization law, passed by the house, is hanging fire in the Senate.

ELECTRICAL STORM CAUSED DAMAGE IN AND AROUND BADEN

Storm Visited That City and Surrounding Territory Last Night Continued About Two Hours.

GROWING CROPS BADLY DAMAGED

Two Large Transformers and Pumping Station Damaged.—Crops Beaten to Ground by the Rain.

A heavy rain, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, did much damage in and around Baden last night, according to reports reaching this city today. The storm began about 9 o'clock and continued for two hours.

Two of the large transformers feeding electricity into the aluminum plant at Baden, were badly damaged during the storm, according to reports reaching Concord, and the city's electrically driven water pumps were also put out of commission. The damage to the transformers and pumps is estimated at several hundred dollars.

Growing crops in the vicinity of Baden were also badly damaged, say the reports received here. The rain, which fell almost with the intensity of a cloudburst, swept everything before it, and in many instances huge fields of corn and cotton were practically destroyed. Running water caused by the downpour, carried large deposits of sand and dumped them on top of the corn and cotton stalks beaten to the ground by the wind and rain.

In some instances, according to the most reliable reports obtainable, livestock perished during the storm. Chickens were drowned on many farms, it is reported, and other livestock suffered by exposure. On several farms over which the storm seemed to center, the lands were badly washed, and that part of the crop not buried under a bed of sand or debris was washed away with the land that gave way before the onslaught of the rapidly rising water.

No one was injured by the lightning, as far as could be learned, and no buildings in Baden were destroyed. It is estimated that the damage in and around Baden as a result of the storm will total between $12,000 and $15,000.

The certificate gave the cause of death as follows: "Cerebral apoplexy, following an acute gastro-intestinal infection, including cholecystitis (inflammation of the gall bladder) and bronchial pneumonia—instaneous contributing cause: arterial sclerosis (hardening of the arteries) of several years' duration."

Can't Sue Textile Union in Courts of North Carolina. Charlotte, Aug. 8.—The United Textile Workers of America cannot be sued in the courts of North Carolina, Judge W. F. Harding held today in a decision filed in which he allowed the demurrer of the labor organization to the libel suit brought some time ago by P. E. Tucker, textile operative, against Henry Eatough, organizer of the union, speaking $10,000 damages.

The textile union demurred to inclusion in the action as a party defendant, on the ground that an unincorporated organization of individuals could not be sued under the North Carolina law. The plaintiff in the original action, through counsel, argued that as Eatough was the agent of the union, the organization should be held legally accountable for his acts.
