

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

BRILLIANT WEDDING HERE UNITES POPULAR COUPLE

Miss Jessie Willeford and Mr. J. Lee Crowell, Jr. Married Tuesday Evening in Central Methodist Church.

A nuptial event of marked interest and prominence in social circles throughout the state was the wedding here Tuesday evening of Miss Jessie Willeford and Mr. J. Lee Crowell, Jr. Many friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony, many cities in the state being represented in the audience.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Jenkins, pastor of both the bride and groom, in Central Methodist Church, at 7:30 o'clock. The church was artistically and beautifully decorated, ferns, satin cloth, clematis and the soft glow from fourteen candles forming a perfect background for the wedding party, which assembled on the front of the church altar.

The nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. J. D. Womble and Miss Laura Gillon, Miss Gillon playing accompaniment for Mrs. Womble in addition to two organ solos. The solos were "Evening Prelude," by Read and "Rest," by Abt. During the ceremony she played "Pilgrim's Song of Hope."

Immediately before the bridal party entered the church Mrs. Womble, an aunt of the bride, sang "Love Like the Dawn Came Stealing," by Cadman, and "Thank God For a Garden," by Riggo. During the wedding prayer she sang "O Perfect Love."

Two of the ushers, Dr. W. D. Pemberton and J. D. Womble, were the first of the wedding party to enter the church, the former entering from the left aisle and the latter from the right. They were followed by the two bridesmaids, Miss Pink Willeford and Miss Lois Crowell, who entered from the left and right aisles, respectively.

Bride Willeford and John Peter, the other ushers, followed the bridesmaids, and in turn were followed by Mrs. Tim Deaton and Mrs. P. B. Raiford, Jr., the damess-of-honor, who entered from the right and left aisles, respectively. Each couple crossed at the altar and formed a circle in which stood the bride and groom.

Miss Bertie Louise Willeford, maid-of-honor, entered just ahead of Master Charles Porter, the ring bearer. The damess-of-honor, the maid-of-honor, and the bridesmaids wore georgette crepe dresses of pink and lavender and carried pink and lavender asters.

The ring bearer, attractively attired in white, carried the ring in a white rose. He was followed by Roslyn Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Edwards, of Charlotte, and Kathryn Crowell Raiford, flower girls. The children wore dainty frocks of pink, and carried baskets of pink roses.

The bride entered with her father, Mr. James G. Willeford. She wore a wedding gown of daintiness satin trimmed with lace. Her veil was billowed with orange blossoms and formed part of the court train. She carried a bride's bouquet of valley lilies, roses and orchids.

Mr. Crowell entered from the vestry room on the right of the church with his best man, Mr. Zeb Bradford, of Kannapolis. He joined his bride at the altar, where the ring ritual of the Methodist Church was used.

After the wedding a reception for the wedding party and guests invited to the church, was held at the home of the bride on South Union Street.

Members of the wedding party and parents of the bride and groom formed the receiving line which welcomed the guests in the home. Refreshments were served in the dining room where a color scheme of yellow and white was charmingly carried out. Punch was served by Mrs. W. M. Linker and Mrs. T. N. Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowell left after the reception for a bridal trip to Niagara Falls, New York City and other points in the north.

Mrs. Crowell is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Willeford and is a young woman of culture, refinement and marked musical ability. For several years she made her home in Charlotte, where she has many friends, won by her charming personality.

Mr. Crowell is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Crowell. He is an alumni of Trinity and the University of North Carolina, and at present is city attorney. He served in the 81st division as a commissioned officer during the World War.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowell were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents.

Meeting of War Mothers. The War Mothers held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. M. Brown, Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. After the devotional services a reading entitled "People Will Talk," was read by Mrs. Morrison and the chapter then proceeded to business.

Mr. Prindell sent tickets to be sold for the concert to be given under the auspices of the War Mothers September 28 at the Central School. A treat for all music lovers is promised at this concert, of which fuller notice will be given later.

All hearts were saddened by the reception of a telegram from Oreen telling of the death of Miss Estelle Blackwelder, a devoted Red Cross nurse, who verily gave her life for her country.

Plans were perfected for the sale of fancy work and refreshments at the War Mothers' booth during the County Fair. The final goal to which the hearts of all true War Mothers in Cabarrus have been directed for years is the erection of Memorial Chimes in Concord. Some have questioned the wisdom of this, claiming that such a memorial would not be of practical use. To strengthen all in their resolve, Mrs. Patterson introduced Rev. Jesse Rowan, as an World War service man, one who is interested in every forward movement in our town, and especially in the things that lift men's souls to the noble and beautiful. The gist of Mr. Rowan's address was as follows. He said that no man or woman could be the father or mother that they should be if they had not read the "Americanization of Edward Bok" and we should have as a slogan a sentiment contained in the introduction. This slogan is the resolve "Just to make the world a little more beautiful." If we visit Richmond, Va., we would find grand monuments. Savannah, Ga., has lovely parks and cemeteries, Camden, S. C., a little town that Concord could easily buy, has seven magnificent parks, dedicated primarily to the service of children. Athens, Ga., has the most perfect specimens of Colonial homes in the South.

It is worth while living in a town saturated with the spirit of the builders of old, who built for beauty as well as use. Chimes are a fine memorial, and any memorial erected to our heroic dead should be the finest of its kind. Chimes will not feed the hungry or cure the sick, but they will minister to what is highest in man. St. Paul in Philippians, says, after naming other things, "Whatsoever thing are lovely, think on these things." We live in a town not on these things. We live in a town that we have built not a single thing for the purpose of ministering to the aesthetic side of man. We have nothing to show that would make the world more beautiful. The only thing that we have to keep our hearts aglow in memory of bravery is the little grey monument in the court house square. Shall we have the chimes? Any one who has heard the chimes of Trinity in New York, or of old St. Michael's in Charleston, S. C., will have had their hearts profoundly stirred. Money could not buy St. Michael's bells and they have probably been the salvation of many souls.

There is a statement which is unforgettable. "I would not trust a woman who does not love the orchard's bloom as much as she does its fruit." We need the ideal as well as the real. Mr. Rowan concluded with the opinion "That a woman can always secure what she wishes if she tries hard enough, and the War Mothers can secure the chimes if they go after them in a worthwhile way, keeping their ideal ever before them."

After the meeting the hostesses, Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mrs. J. K. Patterson, Mrs. D. B. Morrison and Mrs. Glass, served delicious refreshments.

Auxiliary to Meet. A regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held this evening at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Victor A. Means at her home on North Spring street.

Surprise Party. On September the 11th a surprise birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sides in honor of their daughter, Miss Hallie Glenn. After spending several hours of amusement the guests were called to the dining room, which was decorated with ferns and white rosebuds. There the honoree was presented a gift from the crowd by Miss Robbie Corzine, with a toast as follows:

In the month of September Nineteen-hundred and five In the Sides home A blonde arrived. She was pretty and sweet. With dimples in her cheeks. With the sun so bright and gleaming. In the Sides home were ringing. Merry voices here and there Was heard through the air News of the new born babe that was there. A number of years has passed by. And now we're gathered to give her a surprise. She's supposed to be innocent of the party you see. But that could not be. She's picked all day from several of us girls. But neither of us would budge. Hallie May Sides was the name that was given.

On the twenty-eighth day of November. Here is a package for Hallie May Glenn Open and find what the contents are that's in. It was given by this crowd for friendship indeed. So please don't mistake it for only a deed. Here's wishing the wish of all the crowd. How happy you'll be when the next rolls around.

After the toast we had musical selections rendered by Miss Sides. Then wishing her many more happy birthdays we departed to our homes.

Coe-S ars. Miss Ida Sears and Mr. John L. Coe were married August 30th, at York, S. C. Mrs. Coe is a daughter of Mrs. C. R. Sears, and is widely known in Concord, having lived here since childhood. Mr. Coe was formerly of Seneca, S. C. He is now engaged with the Atlantic Bridge Co., which is erecting a bridge near Millington.

Mr. and Mrs. Coe will remain at Millington for several weeks, then they expect to leave for the eastern part of the state.

Attended Dance in Concord. Charlotte News. Among the Charlotteans attending the dance in Concord Tuesday night were: Miss Margaret Yorke, Miss Lillian Floyd, Franke Yorke, John Mellon, Lettette Blythe, Turner Bethel, of Richmond, Va., Joe Carruth, Bob Creighton, Markus Hawkins, W. P. Finley, Stancill Page and Franklin Chaplin. Mark Goff's orchestra furnished the music.

A Birthday Dinner. On Sunday, September 9th, quite a large number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. J. A. Johnson in No. 11 township to celebrate with him his seventy-first birthday. The people began coming early in the morning and continued to do so until about 12:30 when a gorgeous table was spread with earth in the cool shade of the elm trees. All gathered around the table and were led in prayer by Mr. Bayne W. Lefler, after which everybody joined in helping themselves to the many good things to eat.

Among those enjoying the occasion with Mr. Johnson were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heintz and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Wade and son, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hess and family, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cox and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lefler and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mossman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Manlius Barnhardt and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nesbit and son, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Corzine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corzine and family, Mr. and Mrs. Faris and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Lentz and son, Mr. and Mrs. Gamewell and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lott and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Holshouser, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lentz and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Barnhardt and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lefler and family, J. L. Wilkerson and children, Mrs. C. N. Cox and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sides and family, Mrs. F. V. Lefler, Misses Frances McEachern, Lillian Mills, Blanche and Edna Smith, Lois McAnulty and Sallie Honeycutt, Lester Johnson, Joe McEachern and Joe Yandle. Though we feel quite sure that others were present whose names we failed to get.

Soon after dinner the crowd began to bid farewell to Mr. Johnson, leaving for their respective homes and wishing for him many more happy birthdays.

Dance Tuesday Evening. The script dance held at the Elks' Home Tuesday evening was attended by about 40 couples and proved a social event of much interest and pleasure for those present.

Music was furnished by the famous Mark Goff orchestra, which has recently returned to the South after a successful tour of the North.

In addition to the dancers a number of chaperones were present.
