No new cases of any kind were reported to the county health department yesterday, a report issued today states. No cases have been reported to the department since Monday.

No cases were tried in recorder's court yesterday. Only two cases were on docket and they were both continued. Police officers state that everything has been quiet during the present week.

Marriage licenses have been issued by Register of Deeds Elliott to the following couples: Marcus Rowland and Miss Willie Marie Reading, both of Concord; and Roy Smith and Miss Esther Funderburk, both of Kannapolis.

The Kiwanis Club will meet at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. At present the club meets twice each month, on the first and third Friday nights, and under this schedule a meeting will be held tomorrow night.

The next term of Cabarrus County Superior Court will begin on January 7th and continue for two weeks. Judge W. E. Harding, of Charlotte, will preside at the sessions of the court, the first week to be devoted to criminal cases and the second week to civil cases.

The December meeting of the aldermen of this city will be held at the city hall tonight at 8 o'clock. Only routine matters are scheduled for consideration so far, but it is probable that a number of matters will be presented to the board during the meeting, which will be the regular one for December.

Brick masons have completed the rear wall of the Cabarrus Savings Bank building, and have about completed the side walls. Stone masons are busy on the building also, and are rushing their part of the work. It is hoped to get all of the outside work completed before actual winter sets in.

The condition of Willie Marie Preslar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Preslar, who was seriously ill yesterday, is reported today as improved. The child showed improvement late yesterday and hope is now entertained for her recovery, as she continues to show improvement. Yesterday morning little hope was entertained for the child's recovery.

There was a decided change in the weather last night. Weather prophets yesterday predicted that it would be colder today and this prophecy has proved to be true. From almost summer heat to winter cold is a big jump and the rapid change has been accompanied by many colds, sore throats and other ills peculiar to this season of the year.

The meeting of the Cabarrus members of the Co-operative Cotton Growers Association which was first scheduled to be held several weeks ago, and which was postponed, will be held on Saturday of this week at the court house. The meeting will begin at 2 o'clock, and officers of the organization declare that business of interest will be taken up at the meeting. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

The first big basketball game of the season for the local Y team will be played tonight at the Y at 8 o'clock when the Polarine team from Charlotte plays the local Y team. It is too early in the season to predict just what kind of a team the locals will have, but they have many candidates trying for places and the game tonight will serve to show in a way what the Concord team will look like during the season. The game begins at 8 o'clock.

TROUBLE CONSCIENCE CAUSES A SURRENDER

Soldier Walks Into Police Headquarters and Confesses to a Murder.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 5.—A soldier giving his name as Edmund Bolling, 29 years old, of Fort Washington, Md., walked into detective headquarters Tuesday and declared he was wanted in Virginia for murder and jail breaking. "My conscience has been worrying me for months," the man told Captain Burns. "Three years ago I shot and killed Sample Short, in Wise county, Va., following a gun battle over bootleg whiskey.

"Short fired two shots at me following the argument and I shot and killed him. After my arrest I was held in the Wise county jail and several months later, together with three prisoners, we sawed the bars and broke jail.

"I made my way to Fort Benjamin, Indiana, where I enlisted in the army." Bolling was locked up at the central police station and the authorities of Wise county notified.

"The Bible contains the only possible solution of world discord," Dr. Sartorio declared.

BOB'S DRY CLEANING CO. HAS VERY MODERN PLANT

Mr. R. E. Ridenhour, Jr., Gives City Up-to-Date Cleaning and Dyeing Company.

A new enterprise and one that will fill a long felt need, has been organized in Concord by Mr. R. E. Ridenhour, Jr., who has just opened Bob's Dry Cleaning Company in a new building just in the rear of the Concord Steam Laundry. The plant of Mr. Ridenhour represents the latest word in dry cleaning equipment and gives to this city an industry that has been badly needed for years.

Every machine in Mr. Ridenhour's plant is of the latest construction and boasts of the De Laval trade mark. The machines are so constructed that all clothing and other garments cleaned are fully protected while in the cleaners and are returned to the owners without odor of any kind.

One of the most modern machines in the plant is the gasoline clarifier. Under the old system, it is remembered, fresh gasoline was not provided continuously while garments were being cleaned. The drum was filled with gasoline at each washing, but the garments were not treated with clean gasoline continuously as they are under the system being used in Mr. Ridenhour's. His clarifier carries off the dirty gasoline in one pipe and brings in clean gasoline through another pipe. The dirty gas in turn is clarified and thus when used again is free from dirt and impurities gathered in the cleansing process.

From the gasoline drum the garments are placed in the gas extractor. Here the clothing is thoroughly dried when all gasoline is driven from them by air pressure. From the extractor the clothing is sent to the tumbler, where all odor is driven off and where the garments are thoroughly dried.

The tumbler is equipped with a safety device, which controls the machine in such a way that should friction from two buttons or other parts of the garment start a fire a stream of steam is shot into the tumbler, the steam being certain to extinguish any blaze.

In operation yesterday the machines in Mr. Ridenhour's plant extracted about a pound and a half of dirt from six suits and four dresses which were sent into the machines at the same time. The clothing came out spotless.

Mr. Ridenhour will still be connected with the Concord Steam Laundry, which his father operates, but he will devote the greater part of his time to his dry cleaning company. He will be assisted in the operation of the plant by Mr. Roberts, for eight years an employe of the Poole Dry Cleaning plant at Asheville. A delivery service will be maintained.

In addition to the dry cleaning plant Mr. Ridenhour will conduct in connection with it a dyeing outfit. The work in both departments will be done by experts only.

Although his new business has been in operation only a few days, Mr. Ridenhour is already doing a creditable business, which indicates that his modern plant will be well patronized by Concord people.

No cleaning and dyeing will be done in the future by the Concord Steam Laundry, Mr. Ridenhour states.

SECURING NEW MEMBERS FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Officers of Organization Want to Get 150 Members at Once and Others Will Be Secured Later.

Several officers of the Concord Chamber of Commerce are busy this week securing additional members for the organization which was officially organized here last week at a big mass meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. So far officers of the chamber have secured about 90 memberships, and efforts are being made now to bring the total to 150.

It is estimated that it will cost about $4,000 to conduct the chamber this year. This amount cannot be secured from the present membership, it is pointed out, and as the success of the organization, from a civic as well as from a financial standpoint, depends on the support it receives officers are anxious to get at least 150 members.

It is certain that business men who are not members of the organization will not give the chamber the support they would give if they were members, and recognizing this fact officers are anxious to get the full support of the business interests of Concord behind the chamber.

While officers of the chamber are especially anxious to get the minimum of 150 members, they won't stop their membership campaign when that many signers have been secured. There are fully 250 business concerns in the city that should be affiliated with the organization, they point out, and they will continue their efforts until every one of these concerns have joined or have been given an opportunity to join.

The membership campaign is being headed by Mr. J. L. M. Smith, secretary of the chamber, and he is being supported by all members and certain officers who are accompanying him when he calls on prospects. It is easier to get new members, Mr. Smith states, when he is accompanied by some local man who has the confidence of the prospect. Mr. Smith is a stranger here and he is not always given the attention that a local man receives.

Data pertaining to Concord, its possibilities and resources, is being gathered now by the officers of the organization and this data will be so arranged that it can be mailed to all parts of the country. Prospective new-comers to Concord can get any information that they desire from the chamber, and the greatest work of the organization may prove its ability to keep in touch with new business that may be interested in locating here.

The chamber of commerce gives promise of becoming one of the vital factors in the growth of Concord. Its success can be limited only by the support it receives from the general public.

The silver tea and bazaar given last evening at the home of Mrs. Bryant by the Kings' Daughters of Kannapolis was considered quite a success, considering the inclemency of the weather, which occasioned considerable inconvenience. Notwithstanding this fact, there was constant coming and going and the net proceeds amounted to seventy-two dollars.

MRS. MARTHA FISHER DIED HERE MONDAY

Was Widow of Late Thomas Fisher and Mother of Mrs. C. H. Peck, Mrs. J. O. Moose and Mrs. Martin Cline, of Concord.

Mrs. Martha Barringer Fisher, wife of the late Thomas Fisher, died Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home here of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Peck, with whom she had been living for several weeks. Mrs. Fisher suffered a stroke of paralysis about ten years ago and had been an invalid since that time. She had been critically ill for several days and her death was not unexpected.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran Church, of which she was a member for a number of years. The services were conducted by Rev. Geo. H. Cox, D. D., of Salisbury, former pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. L. A. Thomas, pastor of St. James Church, of this city. Interment was made in the Church cemetery.

Mrs. Fisher was 76 years of age and was born and reared in this county. She was a member of a family that has been prominent in the county for many years and her direct ancestors were among the pioneer settlers of the county. Surviving are five children and two brothers. The children are: Rev. C. P. Fisher, of China Grove, Mrs. J. O. Moose, of Concord, and Mrs. Peck. The brothers are Rev. Paul Barringer, of Mt. Pleasant and Mr. John D. Barringer, of this county.

The death of Mrs. Fisher removes from the county one of its best known and most beloved women.

Police officers this morning reported the seizure of some liquor yesterday at the home of Jennie Freeman, negro, who lives in "Bad Land." One officer stated that the liquor was not found in the home, but was sitting on the ground near a window, and he intimated that it had been placed there by some one in a room of the house who heard the officer enter the front door and who refused to unlock the door to the room.

A Cow can give milk to her fullest capacity only when fed the right proportion or balance of milk-making materials. Milk is made up of Protein, Carbohydrates, Fat, Minerals and Water, in proportions that, practically speaking, can't be varied. Instead of making imperfect milk, a poorly fed cow gives less milk.

Feed Purina Cow Chow and your cows will get all the Protein and Calcium needed to balance your Carbohydrate roughness. All we ask is that you give Purina Cow Chow a trial and let your milk scales show you why you should keep on feeding it.
