

KIWANIS "LADIES' NIGHT" WITHOUT DULL MOMENT

Varied Program Moved on Schedule Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. Friday Evening.

Members of the Concord Kiwanis Club paid homage Friday evening to their wives and sweethearts with one of the most delightful programs in the history of the club.

In welcoming the ladies to the meeting Mr. Cook uttered a plea for a return to social conditions which demanded mixed social gatherings.

As his closing thought Mr. Cook praised the ideals of Kiwanis, commended the members of the local club for their energetic work in civic matters and extended a wholesome welcome to the ladies.

A solo by Mrs. H. G. Gibson, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. J. Leslie Correll, was the next feature, the singer graciously responding with an encore.

Joe Pike and Fred M. Youngblood furnished the entertainment for the next ten minutes. There has been some question as to the biggest eater in the club, it was pointed out by Chairman Harris, and as the honorees between the two, it was decided to let them decide which was the best feeder.

Mrs. J. W. Stallings, Jr., was heard next in two excellent readings, the second in which she used the negro dialect, being her response to enthusiastic applause after the first number.

Due to the fact that they failed to have their music Joan B. Sherrill and R. E. Ridenhour, Sr., were unable to sing the number assigned them. The song was entitled: "If Garters Were Worn Around Our Necks How Long Our Socks Would Be."

PRaises WORK OF DR. MYERS IN THE CITY

Dr. Buchanan Sees Much Accomplished in Orthopaedic Clinics Held Here.

The orthopaedic clinics conducted in Cabarrus county during the past several months by Dr. Alonzo Myers, of Charlotte, have been of unestimable value in the opinion of Dr. S. E. Buchanan, county health officer.

"We are beginning to realize that we can do something for the crippled children especially," Dr. Buchanan said further, "and Dr. Myers has been very successful in his clinics in the county."

Dr. Buchanan considers the work of the orthopaedic clinic so vital and necessary that recently he asked the county commissioners to make a monthly appropriation for a clinic. The request was granted and Dr. Myers was engaged. It is understood that the Charlotte surgeon comes for actual expenses.

The next clinic will be held tomorrow afternoon at the health offices and all persons who were examined at former clinics and all others who wish to be examined by Dr. Myers, are expected to be present.

THE USED CAR

The Ford Plan Is to Guarantee Individually Each Car Sold.

Even more authentic than the first robin as a herald of coming spring, is the start of activity in the used car market. On used car lots and in dealers' garages all over the country, prospective owners are inspecting thousands of cars which will be seen this summer on highways and boulevards.

Used car buying, however, is on a new basis. The old order of bargaining is gone, for buyers have learned that the concern whose reputation is staked upon the kind of service it renders the public is the most reliable place to buy the "unused mileage" represented in a used motor car.

By virtue of the fact that every community has its authorized Ford service, the local dealer maintains personal contact with practically all the cars handled through this agency. When the car is eventually turned in, he frequently knows just about how far it has been driven and the kind of driving to which it has been subjected.

Each year the anniversary meeting of the local lodge, No. 51, is featured by programs designed to appeal to the feminine taste, and the meeting this year proved one of the most interesting in the history of the lodge.

BOOK CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS

Delightful Social Event Thursday Evening at Mrs. W. M. Linker's Home.

A delightful social event of Thursday evening was a buffet supper which was given at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Linker by the members of the Friday Afternoon Book Club in honor of their husbands.

Just after the first course, Mrs. J. F. Dayvault, who was the graceful toastmistress of the occasion called on Mrs. Frank Armfield, who gave a witty toast, "To the Husbands."

The guests were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Youngblood, Dr. and Mrs. P. R. MacFadyen, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Niblock, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Parks, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Banks, Dr. and Mrs. J. Y. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dayvault, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. R. Craven, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armfield, Mrs. Lillie Blanks, Francis Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Linker.

After a peep into the nursery where the six beautiful little Linkers were sleeping the sleep of innocence, the guests reluctantly said "good-night" to their charming host and hostess.

As for the party of the second part I do not recall that he uttered a word. Although he is a speaker by profession, his tongue clove to the roof of his mouth. Yet he suffered the same consequences that I did. But he is a pretty good sport. And he has told me in confidence that that verse of Scripture which has been the greatest consolation to him in all these long years is that verse which says: "Gird and bear it."

A long time ago my grandmother, who was a woman of all common sense, said to me one day very earnestly: "Every girl ought to get married." I said: "But Grandma, suppose that she gets a bad husband?" Then my grandmother replied: "Don't you know, child, that a bad husband is better than no husband at all?"

Those words made a profound impression on my mind. I think that they were the cause of my marriage. I have never found any other good and sufficient reason for it. And as I look around at this bunch of husbands assembled here I cannot see any good and sufficient reason why these other ladies took the same step.

As I close my rambling, foolish remarks I can leave no better words with you than these of the immortal Shakespeare: "Thy husband is thy lord, thy life, thy head, thy sovereign, one that cares for thee, and for thy maintenance commits his body to painful labor, both by sea and land; to watch the night in storms, the day in cold, whilst thou stayest warm at home, secure and safe."

MARION TALLEY'S RADIO DEBUT WELL RECEIVED

In Concord, However, Conditions Were Not Favorable and Operatic Star Could Not Be Heard Well.

Marion Talley, the 19-year-old soprano who was heard with any degree of clarity at her first appearance at the Metropolitan Opera House Wednesday night, sang to her home town folk of Kansas City Friday night and to a radio audience scattered throughout the country.

Many radio owners in Concord tuned in on station WJZ, where the star was broadcasted, but atmospheric conditions were not favorable here and only "Home Sweet Home," the last number on the young star's program, could be heard with any degree of clarity by Concord people.

Afterwards, say reports from New York, she said she found the invisible audience "about the same as a visible one" when she was singing. In an impromptu speech with which she concluded her program, she expressed gratitude to the Kansas City friends who had sponsored her career and appreciation "to her new radio audience."

BOGER FUNERAL WAS HELD IN CHARLOTTE

Services Were Held During Friday Afternoon—Alexander Released on Bond.

Funeral services for A. N. Boger, former resident of this county, who died Thursday morning in a Charlotte hospital of injuries alleged to have been received Saturday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by D. H. Alexander, were held Friday afternoon in Charlotte, according to information received here.

Mr. Boger was a son of R. F. Boger, of near Concord, and a son-in-law of John F. Laughlin. Before her marriage Mrs. Boger was Miss Carrie Laughlin, of Concord.

Alexander, a young traveling salesman with headquarters in Raleigh, was released on a $5,000 bond by Judge E. M. A. Currie, in Charlotte, Thursday morning when he was taken before the court shortly after the death of Mr. Boger.

Boger and T. C. Mauney, of Stanley, were run down by Alexander's car as they attempted to cross West Trade Street in front of the Mecklenburg Hotel, it is alleged. Boger remained unconscious at the Charlotte Sanatorium, where his death occurred Thursday at 7:55 a. m.

Alexander was arrested soon after the accident and was released Monday on a $5,000 bond. After Boger's death, he was produced in court by his attorneys, who pleaded for his continued bail.

E. J. Hanson, acting city solicitor as well as J. L. DeLaney and J. Laurence Jones, of the private prosecution, agreed with defense counsel that the charge against Alexander could not be more grave than manslaughter, and there was no opposition to the arrangement of the $5,000 bond.

D. B. Smith and R. A. Wellons appeared for the defense. Mr. Smith evaded a number of cases in which those charged with manslaughter had been released on bonds of $5,000.

Judge Currie agreed to the drawing of the bond for $5,000, which was signed by W. C. Petty, of Charlotte, Warren C. Brice, of Charlotte, and J. L. Alexander, of Greenville, S. C., prominent hotel man and father of the young salesman.

SMALL BITS OF NEWS OF INTEREST FROM KANNAPOLIS

Local Dentist Given Place on State Committee; Option on Thousand Acres of Mountain Land; Charles Maynard, Former Kannapolis Resident, Being Sought by Gastonia Police; Many Out-of-Town Visitors Guests in Kannapolis.

Kannapolis, Feb. 20.—Dr. M. L. Troutman was recently appointed on the membership committee of the second district dental society and also in the State society.

The second district will hold their annual meeting in Charlotte March 8-9. A special effort is being made to enlist all dentists within the confines of the district in the association.

John S. Carpenter has purchased an option on one thousand acres of mountain land near Asheville which he will hold for development purposes. Mr. Carpenter stated that this deal is a personal one and has nothing to do with the million dollar hotel to be built by Chicago capitalists.
