RHEA AND ALLEGED COMPANION TO BE TRIED NEXT MONTH

Given Hearing Before Commissioner Here Alleged Dope Handlers Bound Over to Federal Court.

Harry Rhea and his alleged companion, Graham Grisby, were given a hearing here Saturday before U. S. Commissioner G. Ed. Kestler and both were bound over to Federal Court.

Rhea's bond was fixed in the sum of $10,000 while Grisby was required to give bond in the sum of $1,000. Neither could raise the bond money.

Their cases will be called at the April term of Federal Court in Salisbury, all cases from Cabarrus being set for trial in Salisbury since the new middle district has been created. Rhea and Grisby were arrested here last Tuesday afternoon by police officers. It is charged that Rhea had just signed for a package of morphine worth about $2,000 when he was arrested by Sergeant B. F. Widenhouse. Grisby, who was standing on the outside of the express office, was arrested because officers saw him walk up with Rhea.

LAST OF SERIES OF SERMONS WERE HELD AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Dr. J. M. Clark, of Statesville, Concludes Series of Sermons With Three Services on Sunday.

The series of evangelistic services which for the past week have been held at Bayless Memorial Presbyterian Church were brought to a close Sunday with three services.

The services have been conducted by Dr. J. M. Clark, superintendent of home missions and evangelist of the Concord Presbytery. Dr. Clark's home is in Statesville.

Dr. Clark had for his subject at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning "The Growing Church, Conditions of." At the close of the services fourteen young boys and girls were publicly received into the church on the profession of their faith.

Dr. Clark also preached at 3:30 o'clock and used for his subject: "What Doest Thou Here?" the text being taken from First Kings 10:9 and 13.

At the night service the subject was: "Christ Calling to Salvation and Service," and the text for the evening was Luke 5:27 and 28. Dr. Clark said: "Jesus is calling to two classes of people—the sinner to salvation and service, and the Christian to a more abundant life. There are four things we want you to notice in particular, three of them are the different ways Jesus calls men and women, and the fourth is the simplicity of conversion—redemption."

"First, Jesus calls by the Word; both the printed word and the spoken word.

"Second, Jesus calls by His providence—His overruling to bring His children back to himself when they have backslidden, as well as to call sinner to a realization of their lost estate and unto salvation.

"Third, Jesus calls by the workings of the Holy Spirit."

"There are four lessons that we get from this passage of Scripture: "First, God is no respecter of persons.

"Second, God's calls are always to promotion, from the lower to the higher.

"Third, God's calls involve a forsaking something.

"Fourth, and lastly, we notice the lesson of the simplicity of conversion. There is a theological difference between conversion and regeneration. Regeneration is that act of the Holy Spirit that makes us new creatures in Christ Jesus. Conversion is a turning away from sin. Regeneration can be wrought in the being of man only once; while conversion may be any number of times, in fact every time we do anything not in accord with the will of God we need to be converted—turned away from that sin.

"Now regeneration need not be a long drawn-out process. Just the moment a soul accepts the offer of God's salvation in Jesus Christ that very moment the Holy Spirit regenerates that soul."

The winners in the year-round farm home garden contest for Cabarrus county for the year 1926 and ending March 1, 1927, were announced today as follows: first prize, Mrs. D. B. NO SPECIAL DRIVE THIS YEAR TO GET CITY "CLEANED UP"

No "Clean Up Week" Will Be Observed as Free Garbage Service Is Offered to Citizens All Year.

There will be no "Clean Up Week" in Concord this year.

Usually such a week is observed in March but city officials have deemed it unnecessary this year due to the garbage removal service that is offered throughout the year.

The garbage trucks visit every street in the residential section at least once a week, it is pointed out, while daily service is offered in the fire district. Such service, officials think, makes a "Clean Up Week" unnecessary.

In a statement issued by Mayor C. H. Barrier the public is thanked for the fine co-operation given the sanitary officer in his efforts to keep the city clean the entire year. Persons who have not been taking advantage of the free service are urged to do so in the future by Mayor Barrier.

Persons who are not familiar with the schedule of the garbage trucks are invited to all, at the city engineer's office and get a copy.
