CONCORD TEACHERS RETURN FROM STATE TEACHERS MEETING

Those Who Attended Meeting at Raleigh Report a Very Interesting Meeting Was Held.

A large number of teachers and school officials of Concord and Cabarrus County returned to Concord Sunday after spending several days at Raleigh attending the annual State Teachers Meeting.

The teachers on returning here reported that the meeting this year was a very interesting one and that many matters of interest and importance were discussed.

It was said that T. Wingate Andrews, superintendent of High Point schools, was elected president of the Assembly and that Superintendent F. P. Hall, of the Gaston County Schools, was elected vice-president. It was said that according to the order that is followed that Mr. Hall will be named president next year.

The teachers and school officials attending the meeting from Concord included: J. B. Robertson, superintendent of County Schools; A. S. Webb, Superintendent of city schools; A. H. Jarratt, principal of the high school; Harvey Bush, head of the music department of the city schools; Miss Ruth Dry, superintendent of grammar grades, and Miss Mariel Bulwinkle, teacher of English in the high school.

A. B. Medlin Finds Supply of Meat. A. B. Medlin, special officer of the sheriff's office, who within the past few weeks has found and destroyed several stills, Sunday afternoon found a cache of meat.

Officer Medlin reported today that he found between 60 and 70 pounds of meat in the woods in No. 11 township, beyond Brown Spring Sunday afternoon.

He expressed the opinion that the meat, which was home cured, had been stolen Saturday night and left in the woods. He said that the thief evidently took the meat for his own use for it was cut up, with the exception of one piece.

"Gassing" concrete to give it added lightness is a novel idea reported from Sweden. While the concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel and cement, is still soft, gas is introduced into the mixture. This has the same effect on the concrete as yeast has on bread, filling it with small holes. The concrete produced is just as strong as the ordinary product, but much lighter.

PROSPECTS OF GOOD BASEBALL TEAM THIS YEAR AT U. OF N. C.

The Tar Heel of The University Says "Pop" Ashmore's Gang Should Do Good Work on Diamond.

Of interest to baseball fans of this section of the State, and of especial interest to those interested in the prospects for a good baseball team for the University of North Carolina, will be the following from The Tar Heel, a University publication, which gives a report on the University's baseball prospects:

With the opening game with Dartmouth, April 6th, only two weeks distant, Coach Pop Ashmore's University of North Carolina diamond artists, according to present forecasts, will present a formidable front this coming season, and should prove a thorn in the side of all aspirants for the state title. There is still the danger, however, that the recent examinations may have proved a stumbling block to a few of the aspiring horsehide heavers and swatters. Seven letter men form the nucleus for the team and there is a host of promising young material in camp to fill the gaps.

The pitching staff this year will be minus the services of the veteran Bill Joyner, who left last year after three years of flinging 'em over for the Tar Heels. However, two veteran letter men have returned in the persons of Odell (Cecop) Sapp, a lanky hurler, who only lacks control and experience, and Westmoreland, husky southpaw. This staff will be considerably augmented by Whishani, Price and Fulcher of the 1926 squad, and Red Ellison, Charles Thomas, Steve Ingram and Bill Baxter of last spring's frosh outfit. Several of the sophomore hurlers are showing up well for early season, Ellison being especially outstanding.

Bill Sharpe, regular receiver last year, will find plenty of opposition from Monk Green, sub-catcher, and Fred Beam, star on the freshman team last spring. Beam looks very promising.

At the present writing, it appears that Tom Young, regular left fielder last spring and gridiron luminary, will hold down first base on the Tar Heel aggregation this spring. Eddy Foad, a rival halfback of Young's, will also be contesting his right to the first sack. Foad was a regular on the frosh outfit.

At second and short it appears that Tom Cox and Henry Satterfield, both of last spring's freshman team, are having things their own way. They are sweet-looking infielders, and have been used to working around the key-stone sack. They are finding plenty of opposition, however, from Finley and Don Jonas, both subs on former Blue and White teams.

Near Webb, heavy-hitting infielder last year, who led the squad with a .410 average, looks good at third. His fielding has improved considerably, and his old punch at the bat is still there.

Captain Hatley and Dick Mackie, brilliant hard-hitting regulars on last year's outfit, seem to have two posts in the outer gardens sewed up. The third assignment will probably fall to Muek Finlator, outstanding fence-buster and sensational fielder, who is another product of the freshman team last spring. A combination such as this should be unequalled on any team in the state, and would look good on any collegiate diamond in the country.

Other prominent contenders for the outer gardens are Stone, who will flash Finlator, and J. J. Jessup, Schwartz, Harkreader and Carroll.

SPECTACULAR SCENES ARE SHOWN IN "THE MAGICIAN"

Dance of Faun, Accompanied by Five Hundred Trained Dancers, One of the Scenes.

The dance of the faun is one of the most elaborate episodes of Rex Ingram's production of "The Magician" for Metro-Goldwyn, which is now showing at the Concord Theatre with Alice Terry in the leading role.

More than five hundred trained dancers appeared in the reproduction of this famous dance staged by Ingram in a forest setting on the studio grounds near Nice, France, where a great part of the Somerset Maugham story was made.

Pan, with his famous pipe, in the garb of the half animal, half man, the faun with his horns and all the other details of the famous myth, were included in transferring it to the screen. Special arrangements were made for the painting of the bodies of the men and women who participated in the scenes, and special care was taken in their selection so as to have perfect types even though they could not all be in the camera foreground.

Another particularly interesting episode of this production was filmed on the interior of an Arab snake-charmer's tent at the Fair of Lion de Belfort. Some of the most deadly reptiles found in Africa were handled by the snake charmer before the camera for scenes in this picture.

The Fair of Lion de Belfort, an annual carnival staged in the square which surrounds the famous Lion de Belfort, was the setting for many of the scenes of "The Magician."

Death of Eight Years Old Son. Ralph Isehour, eight years of age, died last Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Isehour, on Academy street, pneumonia being the cause of his death. He was sick only one week. He is survived by his father and mother and several brothers and sisters.

The funeral service took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mt. Hermon Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Fisher, of Mt. Pleasant, and Rev. L. A. Thomas, of Concord. The interment took place in the church cemetery.

INFORMATION ABOUT FARM HOME GARDEN CONTEST IS GIVEN

April 1 Will Be Last Day to Enter Contest.—Home Demonstration Agent DeLivers Talks on Gardens.

Those desiring to enter the State-wide Farm Home Garden Contest must file their names with Miss Opheja Barker, home demonstration agent, before April 1, Miss Barker said today.

According to Miss Barker the prizes to be given this year will be on a district basis, with Cabarrus County in the Piedmont district. The County Home Demonstration Council, or other County-wide organizations, in each district that turns in the highest percentage of reports at the close of the contest will receive a cash reward of $25. Any County to be eligible for this prize must turn in at least twenty-five final reports from individual entrants.

For the best individual gardens in each district, three prizes will be offered as follows: A first prize of $20; the second one $15; and the third one $10.

Any farm home garden in the State will be eligible to compete for a prize, Miss Barker said, and added that the garden could be of any size, each entrant upon which a record must be kept of the number of times any vegetable is served during each month of the year. Credit will be allowed on the record card for all fresh or stored vegetables served on the family table, whether grown in the garden or elsewhere on the farm," Miss Barker said.

"The purpose of the contest is to stimulate an interest in the year-round garden," she said. "It is a good thing to grow a great variety of vegetables and teach the children to eat them. A child likes, whatever he is taught to like. If we eat what we should there will be very little sickness, and the fresh vegetables, with special emphasis on the green leafy ones, is one of the things we should eat," Miss Barker concluded.
