TRIBUTE TO MRS. SIMS.

Sweet memories of a heautiful and useful life is the heritage left the family and friends of Mrs. John A. Sims, who in sweet and dreamless sleep passed into rest eternal at 5 o'clock, on the morning of June 2, 1927 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul B. Parks, in Durham, N.

The home call leaves many sorrow stricken hearts, and one so widely known and so greatly loved leaves an influence which is an abiding power for good.

A woman full of generous deeds, of rare taste and remarkable magnetism, one had but to look at her beautiful countenance to recognize the beautiful soul within.

The keynote of Mrs. Sims' life was The promise 'Thou wilt keep by Z. A. Morris, Jr., and C. M. Lewfaith. him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee," was the anchor of her soul which held fast to the end, and "the thought of her past years

Mrs. Sims lived to be eighty-one years old, but old age never came nigh her. Always she was alive to her finger tips, and crowned with many flowers she passed into the beyond to hear the welcome plaudit,

CROSS OF SERVICE TO NINE VETERANS AT U. D. C. SERVICE

Lineal Descendants of Confederate Veterans Awarded Medals by the Dodson Ramseur Chapter Friday.

Tr'bute was rendered to the valor and loyalty of not only the vanishing line of General Robert E. Lee's faithful warriors but also to the doughboys of General John J. Pershing in the observance of the 119th anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis son Ramseur Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The exercises, atting and profound, were held in the hotel ball room following a luncheon tendered in honor of the few remaining soldiers of Generals Lee and Jackson in Cabarrus county, by the Dodson Ramseur Chapter, and Shakespeare Harris, a Confederate veteran and one who revels in the glory of his comrades—as It was particularly impressive that these few men, representative of the great army that only a few decades ago fought for the cause of the South land, were witnesses to the ceremony when their lineal descendants were honored with the Cross of Service for their noble part in fighting for Old Glory, and to make the world safe for democracy. With the same spirit that the Confederate soldier carried to the battle fields, their grandsons embraced as they ventured into Flanders Fields.

Among the Confederate veterans at tending the luncheon were: J. P. Culp, W. J. Black, W. H. Hudson, J. S. Russell, A. M. Furr. W. G. H. Barrier, T. J. Shinn, G. M. Lore, A. A. Harwell J. M. Safrit, N. M. Barnhardt, Shakespeare Harris, George Richmond, J. C. Honeycutt D. B. Coltrane and others. Twenty-three veterans, in all, were present.

The following men, grandsons of Confederate veterans, were awarded the Cross of Service-a distinct U. D. C. honor, as veterans of the American forces who went to France during the World War: Dr. J. A. Hartsell, J. J. Barnhardt, Edwin Lore, Robert Lee Morrison, William Bingham, Robert E. Ridenhour, Jr., Neal Goodson, Dr. Fred Patterson and Cyrus White. The medals of the men who were unable to be present, were given to their parents. Following the rendition of the Mecklenburg March by Mrs. C. B. Wagoner at the piano, and the invocation by Rev. W. C. Lyerly, Dr. J. C. Rowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, paid honor to the Confederates and World War veterans-eulogizing their patriotism and honesty in purpose.

Dr. Rowan, briefly but eloquently, discussed an angle on the War of the Confederacy that is not frequently heard. "What Would Have Happened if the South Had Won?" was his "Would the Union have been destroyed forever? Never in the world," he said. "The South had too much at stake-ever to suffer the destruction of the Union. Rain and hail fell in Concord Friday night, but so far as is known the hail caused no damage. Low temperatures prevailed throughout Friday and the mercury dropped several degrees following the rain and hail storm about 8 o'clock. In the major leagues Friday there was little change in the standing. Both the Yankees and Athletics lost in the American League while Chicago was winning. In the National League New York and Pittsburgh won, while the other leader, Chicago, was losing. W. G. Brown, county highway engineer, reported today that the rain of the past few days had not injured the roads of the county but helped them as it enabled the road workers to scrape the roads to a better advantage than they could have done if the dry weather had continued. Because of inclement weather, the usual Friday night program at the Y. M. C. A., was given in the gymnasium. The gym was packed for the showing of the motion picture, "The Limited Mail." This picture tonight will be shown at Harrisburg for the benefit of the baseball team there.

More rain fell in Concord Thursday and Thursday night. Rain fell during most of the night, as a matter of fact, and was general throughout the county, judging by reports reaching Concord. There has been more rain within the past week than had fallen during the preceding four weeks.

Rev. It. A. Thomas, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, and his family Thursday moved into the temporary parsonage on South Union street. The present manse as well as the church will be torn away soon to give room for the $110,000 church plant to
