

KANNAPOLIS MAN PAINFULLY HURT

S. S. Foster, Aged Man, Struck by Auto as He Was Crossing Highway at Kannapolis at Noon.

S. S. Foster, of Kannapolis, is slowly recovering from severe shock at the Concord Hospital this afternoon following an accident at 12:05 yesterday when he was struck by an automobile, said to have been occupied by J. L. Stealy and his son, of Charlottesville, Va.

Mr. Foster, apparently 55 years of age, was not seriously hurt, according to hospital attaches, but is suffering from painful cuts and bruises about the head and body. The mishap occurred, it was said, as Mr. Foster was leaving Mill No. 2 at Kannapolis during the noon hour, and crossing the highway toward his home.

The automobile which knocked Mr. Foster down was reported travelling south toward Concord. The occupants of the car were unable at the time to locate the Kannapolis chief of police, but supplied another person with their names and address to give to the officer. Their address is 211, Fourteenth street, Charlottesville, Va.

The injured man was placed in the automobile of R. M. Housel, and rushed to the local hospital for medical attention.

The North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association

An added attraction for the Greensboro meeting of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association will be an address by Hon. O. Max Gardner, of Shelby.

Mr. Gardner will speak at a banquet in the King Cotton Hotel on June 22 that is to be tendered the visiting druggists and their families by the Traveling Men's Auxiliary. This address, which will feature the banquet, will likely set forth Mr. Gardner's views on taxes as they relate to retail business generally and the drug business in particular. Other speakers scheduled to address the convention are Carl Weeks, president of the Armand Co., Des Moines; Dr. E. L. Newcomb, secretary National Wholesale Druggists Association;

R. D. Keim, general sales manager for E. R. Squibb and Sons; and Drs. W. W. Stockberger and H. C. Fuller of the United States Department of Agriculture.

MISS EFRID BRIDE OF G. PATTERSON RITCHIE

Wedding of Great Beauty Solemnized Wednesday Evening at Home of the Bride.

Albemarle, June 9.—Of deepest interest to a wide circle of friends throughout the State was the marriage of Miss Agnes Efrid to G. Patterson Ritchie, of Concord. The marriage marked by simplicity and beauty, was solemnized Wednesday evening June 8th, at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Efrid, in the presence of relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The beautiful ring ceremony was performed by Dr. J. C. Rowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Concord. The rooms of the attractive Efrid home were decorated throughout with ferns, ivy and roses.

Placed behind the marriage altar in the parlor, was a beautiful white tulleis which was garlanded with trailing ivy and clusters of pink roses. A mass of ferns banked the altar and at the sides were tall white candleabra which held white burning tapers, white pedestals holding silver baskets of sweet peas forming a chancel on the sides of the altar. The soft light of the candles and the pink roses and sweet peas gave an air of purity, simplicity and beauty.

Beautiful pre-nuptial music was rendered by Miss Margaret Hartsell, of Concord. Miss Bennie Withers, of Charlotte, sang "I Love Thee (Edward Grieg)" and "A Birthday" (Cowen). The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March and during the ceremony Miss Hartsell played softly "To a Wild Rose" (MacDowell). Dr. Rowan entered first.

The bridesmaids then entered. They were Misses Inez Efrid, and Margaret Ritchie, sisters of the bride and groom respectively. They wore beautiful frocks of melon colored taffeta and carried exquisite bouquets of Columbia roses and delphinium.

Next to enter was the little flower girl, Jenny Efrid Harris, cousin of the bride. She wore a dainty little frock of white marquisette with trimmings of blue applique.

Master Wade Surratt, nephew of the bride, carried the ring in a jily.

The bride descended the stairway and joined her father, who gave her in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his brother, William A. Ritchie, as best man.

The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of ivory satin, Pierette fashion, with trimming of real lace, illusion veil, cap effect, caught with sprays of orange blossoms. She carried an exquisite bouquet of valley lilies, bride's roses and orchids, show-ered with lilies and loveliest of ribbons.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Efrid entertained with a beautiful informal reception at which time a bevy of young girls served pink and white block cream, cakes and mints.

Shortly after the reception Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie left by motor for a bride-trip of three weeks, during which time they will visit Canada and northern cities.

Mrs. Ritchie's going away gown was a channel green sport suit with striped blouse, hat and gloves corresponding.

The bride is one of the state's most attractive and accomplished young women. She is a graduate of Queen's College of Charlotte and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Efrid of this county, one of the well known Efrid Brothers who own a chain of stores in this and other southern states.

Mr. Ritchie is a young man of sterling worth and business ability. He is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ritchie of Concord, and is associated with his father in the firm of Ritchie Hardware Company. Mr. Ritchie was educated in the Concord public schools and Green Brar Military Institute at Louisburg, W. Va. He is First Lieut. of Company E, Concord Unit N. C. N. G., and has been commended by his superiors many times for his thorough knowledge of military tactics.

After their return Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie will occupy their new home in Concord which will be completed in July.

The guests present from Concord were:

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Ritchie, Miss Margaret Ritchie, Charles, Dan and Lee Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Patterson, Miss Ida Patterson, George Patterson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Harris, Miss Jennie Efrid Harris, Mrs. D. J. Bost, Misses Rebecca and Elizabeth Dayvault, Misses Lucy and Margaret Hartsell, Mr. A. F. Hartsell, Mrs. George B. Means, Mr. and Mrs. Halbert Webb, Wallace Morris, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Caldwell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Olin Caldwell, Mrs. J. A. Walker, Wesley Walker, Mrs. S. W. Preslar, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Culclease, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ward, Miss Millicent Ward, Dr. J. C. Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Overcash, Mrs. Prentiss Rifeord, Miss Kathryn Haynes Carpenter.

"Buster" Brown Critically Ill.

The many friends of Earl Henderson Brown, Jr., will regret to learn that he is in a critical condition, after undergoing a mastoid operation Sunday night.

Mrs. E. H. Brown, of Dillon, S. C., is with Mr. Brown at the university of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

Community Club Meeting.

Flowe's Community Club will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the school house. A good program has been arranged and the public is invited.

OPPORTUNITY.

Master of human destinies am I! Fame, love, and fortune on my footsteps wait.

Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and seas remove, and passing by Hovel and mart and palace—soon or late I knock unbidden once at every gate.

If sleeping, wake—if feasting rise before I turn away. It is the hour of fate. And they who follow me reach every state

Mortals desire, and conquer every foe Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury, and woe.

Seek me in vain and uselessly implore, I answer not, and I return no more!

—John James Ingalls.

Klutz-Hickman.

A marriage of much interest in this city and Tabor, N. C., was that of Miss Lucile Hickman and Adam Klutz, which was solemnized on Tuesday evening, June 7th at eight o'clock at the home of the bride at Tabor.

In the living room, where the vows were spoken, was an improved altar of Southern smilax, ferns and pines, carrying out the color scheme of green and white.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, which was effectively played by Mrs. John M. McGougan the bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, and was met at the altar by the bridegroom, with his best man, Eldred Hickman, brother of the bride.

The impressive ring ceremony were performed by Rev. W. E. Hount, pastor of the Methodist Church.

During the ceremony Mrs. McGougan played softly, McDowell's "To a Wild Rose."

The bride was handsomely attired in a dress of navy blue crepe with gray accessories. She carried a corsage of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Klutz is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hickman, of Tabor, and is a popular member of society of Eastern North Carolina.

Mr. Klutz is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Klutz, of this city. He was educated at Mt. Pleasant College Institute and the University of North Carolina, and holds a responsible position with Klutz Lumber Company in Tabor.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Klutz left for a wedding trip to Western North Carolina.

Only close relatives of the bride and groom were present.

Announcements have been issued as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Hickman announce the marriage of their daughter

Mary Lucile to

Mr. Adam Ross Klutz on the seventh of June nineteen hundred and twenty-seven Tabor, North Carolina

Will Be at Home, After June fourteenth Tabor, North Carolina.

Elizabeth Odell Circle Ladies Aid Gives Mrs. Brown Farewell Shower.

The Elizabeth Odell Circle of the Ladies' Aid Society of Forest Hill Methodist Church met with Mrs. W. A. Suther at her home on Marsh street Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock; Mesdames Floyd Lipe, J. W. Tarleton, W. W. Gibson and W. A. Suther being hostesses to the society this month.

The devotional was by Mrs. Archie Shinn, and the president, Mrs. James Yates, was in charge of the business session.

At the conclusion of the business meeting little Miss Helen Dry, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dry, and Master Bobby Suther, handsome young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Suther, appeared with large baskets filled with a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. J. Leighton Brown.

Mrs. W. P. Mabrey presented the gifts, saying:

"Lizzie dear—I have been trying to think of something nice to say, that has not already been said and after racking my brain for all it is worth I find my knowledge of the English language does not contain enough words for us to express our love for you. But as you go to your new home in Caroleen where our familiar faces will not be seen, there is one thought that we as your co-workers would like for you ever to remember and that is:

"There are no friends like old friends Who share our morning joys No greetings like their praise. Fame is a scentless ode With sweets in every fold."

Mrs. Brown will be missed as she leaves Concord for her new home in Caroleen, as she has been actively identified with the work of Forest Hill Methodist Church for a number of years. For seven years Mrs. Brown has been secretary of the Elizabeth Odell Circle of the Ladies' Aid Society, also having served this same organization as president for two years.

After the gifts had been opened and admired Mrs. Suther invited the guests to the dining room, lovely with its tasteful arrangement of sweet peas and madonna lilies, where a delicious ice course was served.
