Concord Girl To Be Wedding Attendant.

The following item from Friday's issue of the Greenville News will be of interest here:

"Cordial interest is felt in Greenville in the wedding of Miss Laura Mae Watson, of Bladenboro, N. C., and Hubert Ray Dobson of Wilmington, N. C., which will take place in the First Baptist Church, of Bladenboro, on the evening of July 6. Miss Watson is a 1927 graduate of Greenville Woman's College and Mr. Dobson is a former Furman University football star. They both have many friends throughout this state and North Carolina, who are interested in their wedding plans.

"The ceremony will be performed by the bride's father, Rev. S. N. Watson, pastor of the Bladenboro church. The ushers will be Robert Melton, of Wilmington, N. C., and Russel Turner, of Spartanburg.

"Mrs. Robert A. Melton, of Wilmington, a sister of the groom, will be the dame-of-honor. Miss Evelyn Lambright, of Landrum, S. C., a college friend of the bride, will be maid-of-honor.

"Clarence Boyd, of Charlotte, N. C., will be the groom's best man. The bridesmaids will be as follows: Miss Thelma Prickett, of St. Matthews; Miss Grace Butler, of Bladenboro; Miss Mary Donnell Smoot, of Concord, N. C., and Miss Avie Pearson, of Bennettsville. Little Mary Brian, of Wilmington, a niece of the groom, will serve as flower girl and the ringbearer will be little Daniel Bryan, a nephew of the groom.

"The groomsmen will be Bernard Ward, Bladenboro; William Sibley, Spartanburg; J. E. Berry, Spartanburg.

"The wedding music will be furnished by Mrs. Henry C. Bridger, Jr., of Bladenboro, pianist and Mrs. J. L. Bridger, of Bladenboro, soloist.

"Since the announcement of her engagement at a party given by her sorority at the Poinsett Hotel just before the close of the college session Miss Watson has been tendered numerous social attentions, among which were parties, showers and luncheons.

"Miss Watson is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. N. Watson of Bladenboro. She is a young woman of charming personality. Her wedding will come to a climax to the number of social events given in her honor.

"Among the most prominent of which will be a reception to be tendered the wedding party immediately following the rehearsal to be held on Tuesday night."

War Mothers Entertained at Villa Buen Hombre.

Villa Buen Hombre on the afternoon of June 30th, was again the scene of life and activity when Mrs. H. M. Goodman, together with Mesdames Phillips, Sappanfield, Probst and Ridenhour entertained the Cabarrus Chapter of War Mothers. The afternoon was exceedingly hot, and fans were very popular but thirty-five members answered the roll call.

The devotionals were conducted by Mesdames W. L. Bell and E. J. Phillips, and the business meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. E. Ridenhour, Sr. In order to pay back money borrowed from the treasury, each member was asked to bring as many pennies as there were letters in her given, maiden and present surname. Mrs. Goodman had twenty-eight letters in her name and therefore was awarded the prize, a bottle of perfume.

Arrangements were made for the picnic to be held next Thursday afternoon by the Charlotte, Gastonia and Concord chapters at Rocky River Church. This is expected to be a most enjoyable affair and the picnic dinner from all accounts will be one to tempt the most fastidious appetite. All members are urged to attend, cars will be provided for all.

The refreshments served at the end of the meeting were most refreshing to the hot and tired mothers. Iced tea and delicious sandwiches and mints were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Wilkinson is Honoree in Charlotte.

Charlotte News. Mrs. James Hellig Wilkinson, of Concord, who before her recent marriage was Miss Ann Hall Whisnant, of this city, was guest of honor at a delightful bridge party given by her sister, Miss Frances Whisnant, at her home on North Church Street, Thursday afternoon.

The house was decorated throughout with bright hued Summer flowers.

The high score prize was won by Mrs. W. S. Obenshain and the consolation went to Miss Henrietta Whisnant. Mrs. Wilkinson was presented with an honor gift.

At the conclusion of the game, a tempting salad course was served.

Those present included: Mrs. James H. Wilkinson, Mrs. H. B. Wilkinson, Mrs. Stowe Green and Miss Bessie Moore, all of Concord; Mesdames J. M. Scarborough, E. W. Caldwell, J. S. Nance, W. S. Obenshain, Clyde Wilkinson, W. C. Krout, Robert Brown, D. W. Whisnant, E. McConnell, W. M. Whisnant, Misses Henrietta Whisnant, Alese Ashley, Mary and Bill Jenkins and Margaret Torrence.

Board Called to Hear Complaints.

Raleigh, N. C., July 2.—Following consultations with Governor McLean and members of the board after receiving complaints from four counties, Lieutenant Governor J. WHITE PARHAM.

Kinston Girl Becomes Wife of Thomas J. White in Beautiful Ceremony.

The following from the Kinston, N. C., Daily Free Press of Wednesday, June 29th, will be of marked interest here:

Miss Annie Jordan Parham was married to Mr. Thomas J. White, Jr., of Durham, in a ceremony characterized by exceptional beauty Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parham. The stately home furnished a picturesque setting for the wedding, which was witnessed by a large concourse of friends and relatives, many out-of-town guests attending.

An improvised altar before the fireplace in the music-room was set off by a kneeling bench covered in satin and in the tall beaded chandeliers, showered with daisies, bowls and baskets of peonies, roses and other summer flowers, with clusters of fern and other greenery completed a color motif of green and white throughout the home. An artistic arrangement of cathedral candles in the background gave a soft glow to the lovely scene.

The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Oscar Strickland, of Dunn, ably accompanied by Miss Verna Hodges at the piano, and Mr. Robert Rhodes on the violin. She sang, "All For You" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Romance" being rendered as a violin solo.

Messrs. Joseph Barrier and Jack White, of Concord; Carl Venters, of Richlands; John Carter, Jr., and William Stanley, groomsmen, entered. First Misses Isabel White sister of the groom, of Raleigh; Lillie Lane, of Wilson; Essie Mozelle, of Windsor; Mary Redfern, of Asheville; Sue Baker, of Charlotte; Madge Daniels, of Manteo; Martha Denmark, Corinne Dixon and Caroline Osborne, as bridesmaids, then formed an aisle through which the bride and immediate attendants passed. They wore dresses of white organza, mad with bouffant skirts, longer in the back, cinched with narrow satin ribbon, with shoulder bow of tulle. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of peonies and baby-breath. Miss Huline Parham, her sister's junior maid of honor, came next wearing white flat crepe, trimmed in a single rhinestone buckle. She was followed by Miss Julia Hunter Parham, other sister of the bride, as maid of honor. Her dress was white white georgette, with a wide white ribbon, with shoulder bow of tulle. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of peonies entwined with silver ribbons.

The bride was last to descend the stairway, and escorted by her father, met the groom before the altar, where Rev. G. B. Hanrahan pronounced the wedding vows. Mr. Chalmer White, brother, accompanied the groom as best man. The bride's dress was of skinner's satin, with panels of French imported lace which dipped on either side, trimmed in pearls, rhinestones and clipped beads. The veil was worn cap fashion, becomingly beaded and trimmed in rhinestones and orange blossoms. Her slippers of white satin had buckles of lace and orange blossoms. The tutu was completed with a handkerchief of linen and lace used by the bride's aunt, for whom she was named. Her flowers were a lovely arm bouquet of brides' roses and valley lilies.

The couple are representatives of families well and favorably known in their respective communities. The bride is a graduate of Peace Institute and is popular with a wide circle of friends. She is the daughter of a pleasing manner and interesting personality. Mr. White, a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. White, Sr., of Concord, is associated with the law firm of McLendon & Hedrick, of Durham, and is liked and admired by a wide circle of friends. He received his training at the University of North Carolina. Much interest has been manifested in the affair, many social favors marking the period of the engagement.

Wedding Reception.

Following the White-Parham marriage an informal reception was held at the home, attended by several hundred guests. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell and Dr. and Mrs. F. E. McCallum greeted the guests, presenting them to the receiving line, comprised by Mr. and Mrs. Parham, parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. White, parents of the groom; members of the bridal party, and Misses Willie and Jane White, cousins of the groom. In the dining-room ice cream, decorated mints and squares of white-iced cake bedecked with orange blossoms carried out the colors of green and white. The centerpiece here was a huge bowl of gladioli, snapdragons, peonies, roses and Queen Anne lace, with silver pheasants gracing either side. Mesdames E. P. Dixon and J. W. Dixon, of Raleigh, entertained here. At the door leading to the hall Mr. and Mrs. Kleber Denmark received. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carter invited the guests into the gift room, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Osborne and Mrs. F. V. Priddy, of Richmond. Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Hanrahan and Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Reams, of Dunn, stood at the side entrance to bid the callers adieu.

Beautiful Marriage at Unity Church, Woodleaf.

Salisbury Post. One of the most beautiful weddings of the month was solemnized Monday evening, June 27, at Unity Presbyterian church. "The Little Church in the Wild-wood," near Woodleaf when Miss Margaret Hart became the bride of Curtis V. Moore, the Rev. Watson Culbertson of Charlotte, performing the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives from Woodleaf, Statesville, Cooleme, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Concord, Kannapolis, and Salisbury.

The church was transformed with elaborate decorations of ivy, pine boughs, shasta daisies, pink and yellow gladioli and summer chrysanthemums combined with dusty miller, and was floodlight with light of the afterglow of sunset from two upper windows just as the bridal party entered at half past seven o'clock. Seats for the relatives were marked with pine branches and tariton bows.

The altar was banked with greenery against which were placed brass baskets containing daisies, gladioli and dusty miller. Tall candles in four holders and gleaming brass candelabra burned among the flowers. The wedding day was the twentieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. West of Salisbury, both of whom were attendants on this occasion.

Mrs. Clarence Cole played the organ music preceding the ceremony when Mrs. Bob Link of Salisbury sang, "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me." Just as the bridal party entered she played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin.

Miss Jean Culterston wearing peach colored georgette and carrying gladioli of the same shade showered with ribbons and ferns, and Miss Naomi Carrigan in white georgette embroidered in rhinestones, carrying a similar arm bouquet, were the bridesmaids.

Mrs. A. S. West of Salisbury, as dame of honor wore peach colored georgette and carried gladioli tied with orchid tulle.

Little Mary King Campbell carried the ring in a flower. She was winsome in pink georgette wearing a wreath of pink rosebuds on her hair. The bride who came in with Mr. A. S. West wore lustrous satin, her veil banded with duchess lace and caught with orange blossoms. Her loveliness was accentuated by an immense arm bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley showered with silver ribbons and rosebuds.

The bridegroom was attended as best man by Marcus Lyerly, while the groomsmen were Robert C. Hart and Frank Carrigan.

Following the wedding a brilliant reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hart, 125 guests being present from Woodleaf, Salisbury, Gold Hill, Winston-Salem, Mt. Airy, Charlotte, China Grove and Kannapolis.

The table was exquisitely arranged with a Mexican drawn-work cloth, shasta daisies and pink gladioli in a center basket about which pink tapers in yellow holders cast their soft light.

A beautiful three-tier bride's cake was set on a crystal holder with lilies of the valley and orange blossoms tied to ribbons for the drawing of the favors. Miss Naomi Carrigan drew the dime, Miss Geneva Lingle the ring, Mr. Marcus Lyerly the ring, Miss Culbertson the heart, Mrs. Hurst the button, Miss Campbell the thimble, Miss Irene Kesler the crescent, Miss Nellie Lents the horse and Miss Maude Cross the clover leaf.

Mrs. Lee Hart was attired in gray georgette and lace and Mrs. J. G. Moore of Gold Hill, wore black lace and georgette.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Moore went to Virginia Beach to spend some time and later will make their home in Salisbury where the former is engaged in business. Both young people have a wide acquaintance and are highly regarded by a host of friends. Mrs. Moore is a graduate nurse and a young woman of delightful personality and beauty. Mr. Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Moore of Gold Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thom Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Salisbury Post. Friday evening, July 1st, Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander Thom celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in China Grove which was beautified for the occasion with a profusion of mid-summer flowers in the shades of yellow and white. The winding stairway in the hall was twined with ivy and set with shasta daisies. Elsewhere were marigolds, gladioli and snapdragons arranged by Mr. James Wren, of Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hanna greeted the guests as they arrived and directed them to the receiving line in the drawing room formed by Mr. and Mrs. Thom and their children, all of whom were present except their son, Major K. W. Thom, U. S. A., stationed at Honolulu. First came Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Gillon, of Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Thom, the latter wearing a handsome gown of black lace over gold cloth with a corsage of sweetheart roses; Mrs. Pauline Lasky, of Burlington, Mr. A. T. Whitsitt, of Chapel Hill, who was the best man at the wedding 50 years ago, and is the only living attendant; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Spach, of Winston-Salem; Miss Ruth Thom, Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Bradford, of Salisbury, the latter a granddaughter, who was married recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miller directed the guests to the dining room where refreshing ices, cakes, mints and salted nuts in yellow and white were served by Miss Mary Katherine Fisher, Miss Anzonetta Fisher, of Salisbury, Miss Lorene Templeton, Miss Rosalie Gillon, Miss Alice Brown Ritchie. The table was covered with lace over a gold cloth and lighted with golden candles. The cake, an exquisite confection, bore the names and dates, "Betty and John Alexander Thom, July 1-1877-1927." Yellow snapdragons, gypsophila and roses were arranged in a gold basket.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ritchie entertained in the punch room where Miss Helen Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hill and Mr. D. M. Peeler served the fruit cup.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gillon presided at the register. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kimball, Miss Catherine Brown and Dr. Hampton Stirewalt were in the music room where the gifts were on display. During the evening they gave an enjoyable musical program.

About two hundred guests from China Grove, Charlotte, Concord, Kannapolis, Salisbury, Greensboro, Lexington and Winston-Salem were present during the evening which was a most enjoyable and notable one.

Brilliant Reception Given For Bride.

Notable among the season's social activities was the elaborate reception given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Mrs. W. A. Ritchie and Miss Margaret Ritchie, honoring Mrs. G. Patterson Ritchie, whose marriage was prominent among the June weddings.

The Ritchie home was never more beautiful than on this occasion, with its decorations of various garden flowers.

Greeting the guests at the front door were Mrs. W. W. Morris and Mrs. C. B. Wagoner.

In the receiving line were Mrs. C. F. Ritchie, Mrs. G. P. Ritchie, Miss Margaret Ritchie, Mrs. W. A. Ritchie, Mrs. R. V. Woods, of Charlotte, Mrs. J. H. Wilkinson, Mrs. Harriet Webb, Mrs. Tom White, of Durham, Mrs. A. E. Harris, Mrs. E. L. Efrid, of Winston-Salem, Mrs. J. R. Efrid, of Columbia, S. C., Mrs. E. D. Turner, of Winston-Salem, Mrs. T. A. Foreman, of Salisbury, Mrs. W. T. Surratt, of Winston-Salem, and Mrs. G. L. Patterson.

Leading the way into the hall to the diningroom door were Mrs. E. Sauvain, Mrs. R. V. Caldwell, Jr., and Mrs. B. E. Harris.

The guests were met at the dining room door by Mrs. J. A. Walker and Mrs. Geo. B. Meigs.

In the dining room serving were Misses Inez Efrid, Margaret Hartsell, Orchard Laferty, Sara Gus Davis, Thelma Towery, Ida Patterson, Kathryn Haynes Carpenter and Jane White.

In this room an attractive color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the ice course consisting of yellow and white cream, mints and cakes. The table had as its central decoration, yellow and white snapdragons, and white roses, while at either end of the table stood burning yellow candles.

Misses Louise Morris, Rosa Caldwell, Ruth Cannon and her guest, Alva Goswich invited the callers to the front porch, where a refreshing punch was served by Mrs. L. T. Hartsell, Jr., and Mrs. Stanton Northrup.

Two hundred guests called during the afternoon.

NEWSPAPER GETS STRANGE RESULTS

Vigorous Campaign for Vaccinating Of Canines Has Reaction.

Albemarle, July 2.—Newspapers do get results, but many times the results come with a backfire on the newspapers responsible for those results. At least that is the way A. C. Huneycutt, editor and publisher of the Stanly News Herald feels about it.

A week ago the News Herald ran a vigorous editorial advocating the vaccination of dogs to check the spread of rabies. The results came this morning when a solid truck load of hound dogs were driven to Albemarle, huddled on the vacant lot adjoining hard on the Stanly News Herald building and there immured. As the newspaper force was trying to work, the office force was figuring up the amounts due on unpaid subscriptions and the publisher was racking his brain trying to figure out a way to raise enough money with which to meet the weekly payroll, yes, as all this important effort was being made the entire house was horror-stricken with the screaming and howling of those hound dogs was dug into by the needles of Drs. Martin and Harward. The cries of anguish and distress therefore ruined nearly a half days work in the newspaper plant.

The larger portion of this truck load of hounds came from Union county, too, but the fact did not make the noisy yelps any more agreeable to those trying to work within a few feet of the vaccination grounds!
