Approximately 3,000 Persons Attended Typhoid Clinics in Several Communities This Week.

Dr. D. G. Caldwell, head of the County Health Department, estimated today that approximately 3,000 persons in various sections of Cabarrus county were given either the first or second treatment of the typhoid vaccinations during the past week.

Dr. Caldwell and his assistants visited and held typhoid clinics briefly in 35 Cabarrus communities. Monday the health workers visited eight communities; Tuesday, nine communities; Wednesday, nine communities; Thursday, eight communities.

Dr. Caldwell said that about half of the 3,000 persons who attended the various clinics were given the first treatment. The health workers will continue their tour of the county for the next two weeks, in completing their annual summer schedule.

LOCAL HIGHWAY IS BUSIEST IN SIXTH DISTRICT IN JULY

More Cars Passed Between Concord and Kannapolis Than Anywhere Else in the Sixth District.

Cabarrus county has the busiest highway in the sixth district, records in the office of the highway commission show. The road is the one from Concord to Kannapolis.

Discussing figures made public by the sixth district officials, The Charlotte Observer says:

The stretch of highway between Concord and Kannapolis, on route No. 15 is the busiest in the sixth district of the state highway commission, according to the official report of the latest traffic census, made public yesterday.

The census was taken on July 13 at 26 observation points situated midway between towns and at county lines in the district.

On the stretch between Concord and Kannapolis a total of 2,249 cars passed in comparison to 2,207 on June 14 when the traffic census for that month was taken.

Of the total number there were 1,975 passenger cars, 237 trucks, 31 buses, five horse-drawn vehicles, two motor cycles, and one trailer. About 107 were foreign cars.

The second busiest stretch is between Lowell and McAdenville on route 20 where 1,925 vehicles passed in comparison to 3,285 in the June census.

Other stretches leading in amount of traffic according to the numbers of vehicles passing are between Charlotte and Belmont on route 20 with 1,651 in the June census; at Landis on route 15 with 1,821 in comparison to 1,978, between Kings Mountain and Gastonia with 1,608 in comparison to 2,056, at the Cabarrus and Mecklenburg county line with 1,472 in comparison to 1,361, at between Salisbury and China Grove with 1,414 in comparison to 1,504.

Routes 15 and 20 are the busiest routes in the district, it was pointed out. Both routes pass through Charlotte.

HEAVY PENALTY ON PRIVILEGE TAXES AFTER AUGUST 1st

Penalty Will Be 20 Per Cent. Commissioner Doughton Advises Matter to Deputy Commissioner Here.

A penalty of 20 per cent. will be added to all State privilege taxes not paid by July 31st, according to instructions received today by E. J. Roseman, deputy commissioner of revenue, from Commissioner R. A. Doughton at Raleigh. Attention was called in the notice to the fact that there are a great number of people throughout the state who are at present delinquent on the privilege license taxes for the year of 1927-28, and it is stated that the penalty will go on and be collected effective with August 1st.

In addition to those who have paid the privilege taxes in past years, a number of new classes were added during the 1927 session of the general assembly, including dealers in adding machines, $100; for each employe of a beauty shop, $2; dealers in billing machines, $50; collecting agencies, $50; dealers in cash registers, $100; chain stores, $50 each; dealers in check protectors, $50; contractors and construction companies, $100 to $750; emigrant agents, $500; dealers in electric refrigerators, $50; fuel dealers, $50; ice cream manufacturers, $25 to $100; mercantile agencies, $250; marble yards, $10 to $40; industrial banks, $50 to $400; motorcycle dealers, $10 to $40; peddlers, license now from June 1st through May 31st; real estate agents, $25; dealers in securities, $250; dealers in sewing machines, $50; slot machines not operating for over 5 cents, $2.50; dealers in typewriters, $50, and veterinary surgeons, $25.

ELECTION OF LIPPARD MAY BE HELD UP

Telegram From Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson Says Election Invalidated.

David S. Lippard was elected welfare officer of Stanly county on Monday of last week, in a joint session of the county board of commissioners and education. At that joint session, the chairman of the body did not vote, there being four for Lippard and three for Moss.

Mr. Lippard was declared the nominee. The welfare department at Raleigh was notified. From the information given, Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, State welfare superintendent, wired the office of the superintendent of schools as follows:

"Have been informed county board welfare will not approve Lippard. This invalidates election. Joint meeting of boards should be held at early date to elect superintendent. Moss serves until he or successor is elected."

As a result, the members of both boards met in Albemarle yesterday for conference. There is apparently no fight on Mr. Lippard, and since the welfare department at Raleigh is in authority, the local boards will act as such when it becomes plain as to what their duty is under the premises.

The county welfare board has as yet taken no official action in the matter and there is nothing of official nature to affirm that this board is opposed to Lippard. If it is, then it is very apparent that a candidate must be found who is acceptable to this board.

News from Chapel Hill that Mr. Lippard has been officially declared the nominee cannot be confirmed at this writing. Mr. Lippard is attending the welfare conference at Chapel Hill, and was admitted there in the capacity of a newly-elect. Mr. Moss is also in attendance.

As the question is not being settled locally, and none apparently wishes to lead Mr. Lippard and his associate, Mrs. Lippard, from Raleigh will endeavor to establish a new Captain Alston and Lieutenants Ritchie and Miller are ordering larger "Sam Browne" belts to receive their chest expansions since receiving official orders as to the company's record this season.

G. O. P. CONVENTION MAY GO TO 'FRISCO

National Committee man Crocker of California Optimistic After Talk With Hill.

San Francisco probably will be the scene of the Republican National Convention of 1928.

According to a statement made yesterday by W. H. Crocker, Republican National Committeeman from California, after a conference with Charles D. Hill, Vice President of the committee, a majority of the members of that organization already have expressed a preference for San Francisco and the only thing that can prevent its selection is the flat veto of President Coolidge or of National Chairman William M. Butler.

But Mr. Coolidge, if he follows the advice of those who are most interested in promoting his third term candidacy, is not likely to interfere. His friends are reported to be looking for a place where there will be no local aspirants vying for the presidency, who might put obstructions in the way of the third term train. San Francisco meets this requirement. Hiram Johnson being pretty much down and out politically; Mr. Crocker has been able to give definite assurance California will have no candidate.

MISS MARY DAYVAULT TO WED MR. THOMAS

Engagement Announced at Brilliant Tea Held at Home of Bride Thursday Afternoon.

The engagement of Miss Mary Dayvault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Dayvault to Theodore Lithgoe Thomas, of Charlotte, was announced at a lovely tea given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Dayvault, and Miss Dayvault, honoring Elizabeth and Ruth Dayvault, daughters of Mr. W. A. Dayvault, of Glen Flora, Texas.

The home was decorated with quantities of bright summer flowers, which formed an artistic background for the beautifully gowned women, who composed the receiving line.

Miss Elizabeth Black and Mrs. J. F. Dayvault greeted the guests at the entrance.

Receiving with Mrs. Dayvault and Miss Dayvault were Misses Ruth and Elizabeth Dayvault, of Gen. Flora, Texas, as the honorees, Mrs. D. E. Turner, of Mooresville, Miss Martha Biggs, of Rockingham, Miss Ruth Jones, of Charlotte, Miss Helen Dayvault, Miss Dorothy Black and Miss Elizabeth Dayvault.

Miss Margaret Morrison and Miss Virginia Barte directed the guests to the dining room, where they were received by Misses Mary Orchard Boggs, Virginia Dayvault, Virginia Smoot, Mary Donnell Smoot and Ruth Dayvault.

The table, covered with a handsome cloth, held a low silver bowl filled with pink roses, phlox, seabarrea, and delphinium in delicate shades. Pink candles, holding lighted pink candles, were arranged on either side.

Ice cream, cakes and mints served carried out the dainty color scheme of green and white. Punch was also served. Cupid cards bearing the announcement: "M. R. D. T. L. T." were attached to the individual cakes.

A hundred and ten guests called during the afternoon.

The announcement of the engagement of the popular young couple will be of interest to many friends throughout the state.

The bride-elect is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Dayvault. For the past two years she has been a student at North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro. She is exceptionally pretty and attractive and is a popular member of the young society set in Concord.

The bridegroom-elect is the youngest son of Rev. H. B. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, of Salisbury, Md., formerly of Concord. He has made two years in Charlotte for the past two years and is connected with the Piedmont Fire Insurance company. Mr. Thomas attended Trinity College at Hartford, Conn.

LINDBERGH ASKS FRIEND "JAKE" TO MAKE PLANES

"Slim" Makes Effort to Persuade Manufacturer to Join Him. (By International News Service) Wichita, Kans., July 23.—"Hello, that you Jake?" said Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, New York to Paris hero, talking over long distance telephone.

"Yes, Slim, how are you? Congratulations!"

Thus the American air hero conversed with J. M. Moellendick, president of the Swallow Airplane Manufacturing Company of Wichita, Kans. It was not feigned or professional familiarity that tinged the conversation. It was friendship of long standing.

Concord Topples Towelers 13 To 1, And Knots Series

Weavers Administered a Crushing Defeat to Wilson's Team Thursday at Webb Field.

MORRIS HURLS GREAT GAME

Rawson and Barbour Shine Brightly—Sage of Cabarrus Knocked From Box in Third Inning.

By RADIO KING. Lindy Lewellyn's dynamiting Weavers crushed to smithereens the wobbly attack of Rube Wilson and his Towelers at Webb field Thursday afternoon.

Concord's winning its third straight victory from Kannapolis by the lopsided score, 13 to 1. The overwhelming Weaver triumph evened the series between these clubs, each having won three games.

What did it matter to Concord fans how many tallies were piled up against the visiting team—the more, the merrier the game when Kannapolis is the foe. A certain fellow who is heralded as the sage of Cabarrus elected himself to tangle with the Towelers. That's when the so-called sage deviated from the prudence of his cognomen. Concord batsmen rapped Rube Wilson's flings where his teammates were not, and it was a merry-go-round for the Lewellyns for two and two-third innings.

Rube Wilson tried hard to slip 'em by the keen-eyed Weavers, but his offerings lacked the zip which the Rube Wilson league not so long ago. Rube knows the great national pastime, but that left wing which carried him into the Sally show is like the old gray mare, it's not what it use to be. The Weavers heaved their bats for eight hits, and five scores before Wilson could evacuate the hillock in favor of Jerry Jackson. The latter pitcher had a fate almost as pathetic as his predecessor.

The bats of the locals sounded with regularity against Wilson and Jackson, Concord nailing 15 hits. These bingles combined with some of the keenest base running ever exhibited in Concord, and a whole circus of Kannapolis errors, pushed the local score to the lucky figure of thirteen. Graceful Barbour and Murray Greason did the most spectacular dashing around the pathways. Barbour swiped four bases, while Greason stole half as many.

Listen, Jazzy. May we at this juncture convey a message to Jazzy Moore, the Kannapolis clarion. Jazzy in your reminiscence accounts next season of the current Weaver-Toweler series, you must not fail to incorporate in them the rip-tearing comeback of Concord, and the overwhelming victory over the Towelers July 21, 1927. It was the worst defeat Kannapolis has suffered this year.

Morris Up and At 'Em. Bob (Lilly) Morris, the niftiest portside you have ever seen in action, worked wonders against the Towelers. Bob had his left arm and his head working together, and when he figured that he couldn't get him mgn he motioned to his outfielders to get in a certain location. If the batter did connect, the ball almost invariably sailed into the hands of the fielders. We'll say Bob was sagacious in his play.

The Towelers, seemingly frail and wobbly under the slightest strain, were able to connect safely only six times. Bob Morris had 'em thinking a whole lot, saying little and doing almost every instance. Some of the most colorful and spectacular fielding, and some of the best fielding, one has ever witnessed, was unfolded in the contest. The Kannapolis club cracked like an egg-shell, while Concord fielded beautifully.

Seven errors were recorded against the Towelers, and most of them were of the costly type. To be sure, it was this poor fielding that started Jerry Jackson down the incline to an unhalloved end. Jerry, it appeared, acquired that "don't-care-spirit" after the sixth when errors put him under fire.

Here's A Star. Barbour, who came to the Concord field Tuesday, won himself a warm place in the heart of local fans by his great fielding in centerfield. Barbour made three colorful catches, each time racing back gracefully to nab the sphere. With the willow Barbour delivered three bingles, each of which accounted for a Concord tally. Barbour crossed the plate five times during the game.

Clarence Rawson came over from Charlotte and caught the shots of Morris. Rawson surely did play a superb game, but he better thrills do than the kind produced fans when Rawson caught Mottising at the plate in the third out. The ball was relayed from left field, Rawson snatching it and putting it on Mott as he came in a mad dash from third. Rawson knows his hitting, too. He connected for two doubles and two singles in five trips, driving in seven runs.

Meet Mr. Miller. Chick Miller has a "bum" knee, if we may describe his injury thus, but he plays baseball just the same. Chick laid down two swell sacrifice hits, and drove out two singles at opportune times. Chick robbed Smith of a hit in the eighth when he leaped skyward and hooked a Texas-leaguer. Mutt Miller, relative of Chick, had a big day himself with the bat and in fielding.

Outen's Homerun. Chick Outen put the Gehrig punch behind one of Jackson's fast offerings, and it sailed on a bee-line over the left rightfield barrier, being unquestionably the longest circuit drive ever made in Concord, regardless of the park. The ball cleared the fence by a distance of three feet, and sailed some distance beyond before it lost its momentum and dropped to the ground. Outen connected in the seventh with one along the paths.

Concord meets Kannapolis twice during the forthcoming week at the Cabarrus Park, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

SCORES AT FIGHT MATINEE IN FRONT TRIBUNE LAST EVE

Large Crowd of Concord Fight Fans Learn of Jack Dempsey's Comeback at Tribune Radio Matinee.

Several scores of fighting fans assembled in front of The Tribune building between the hours of 7:30 and 9:15 o'clock Thursday night to listen to the detailed report by radio of the non-championship ring battle between Jack Dempsey, the former world's champion, and Jack Sharkey, the crowd favored Dempsey, this being gathered by their cheers when Dempsey rained fists at Sharkey's head as the battle neared its end.

The radio reception of the battle was very good, and the throng of Dempsey followers went wild when the report came that Dempsey had plunged Sharkey into an unconscious heap early in the seventh round by two blows to the head and one in the pit of the stomach. While the fight "was on" numbers of Concord fans telephoned The Tribune for reports.

In other parts of the city groups gathered in homes where radios brought reports of the battle. Concord people were as deeply interested in Jack's comeback, and the right to meet Tunney again, as any fans in other parts of North Carolina, and the United States.

Most of the experts predicted that Sharkey would win the fight almost without a struggle, and the odds were heavy against Dempsey in the betting, but the fans said "Dempsey will win," and he did.
