AFRICA'S IVORY COAST.

Is Fast Giving Away Before the Needs of Western Commerce.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Africa's famous Ivory Coast, lure of the adventurer and the missionary, is fast giving way before the needs of western commerce.

From trade in elephant's tusks to cocoa beans is a far cry, yet that is what has happened in the 129,000 square mile stretch of the Ivory Coast colony, according to Walter C. Hughes, secretary of the National Confectioners' Association, in an address here.

"Civilization has come to the Ivory Coast as a result of the world demand for sweets," declared Mr. Hughes. "Opening up of the vast cocoa producing region will unquestionably change the aspect of the cocoa business in the next few years. Candy manufacturers are dependent on the labor of people in many lands for the sugar, nuts, cocoanuts, fruits, cocoa, milk, butter, and other nutritious foods that go into the making of confectionery. Increased consumption of candy, especially in the United States, which has been brought about by a wider appreciation of its value as a food, has made it necessary to seek new fields for raw products.

The Ivory Coast has benefitted wonderfully already as a consequence of the modern agricultural methods and tools have been installed on the cocoa plantations, a railroad has just been completed from Abidjan on the coast of Mankara, a great modern wharf and breakwater for the loading of steamers is being constructed and many square miles of jungles have already been transformed into arable acres."

The Four Square Gospel Mission Has Picnic.

The Four Square Gospel Sunday School had a picnic Saturday afternoon in the old McDonald pasture on the Kannapolis highway.

The pasture was a scene of much happiness and enjoyment. All the younger set played games while the older people made a tub of lemonade and spread lunch.

Mrs. C. D. Watkins silenced the crowd to be quiet and asked Brother Knowles to return thanks. Brother Knowles in a quiet reverent way asked God to bless the food and use it for the good of our bodies and help every one who helped to prepare it.

Every one enjoyed the supper immensely and after supper a delicious ice course was served by Mrs. C. D. Watkins and Mrs. Walter Blackwelder. Every one went home after a happy evening.

The Four Square Gospel Mission has Sunday School every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a large attendance. All visitors and strangers are welcome. If you come once, you will want to come again. Come and see.

Those out of town present at the picnic were: Earl Edwards and Clarence Edwards, both of Charlotte, and Walter LeeGrand, of Rock Hill, S. C. ONE PRESENT.

LEONARD TRIAL TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK.

Scion of Prominent Charlotte Family to Be Tried For Death of Kannapolis Girl.

Kannapolis, Aug. 13.—Trial of Ernest B. Leonard, scion of a prominent Charlotte family, charged with the death of 14 year old Evelyn Gentry, of this city, is docketed for Cabarrus superior court at Concord next week. Witnesses have been summoned to appear but the exact date has not been decided, according to Attorney H. S. Williams, who is representing the Gentrys.

Leonard is charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Evelyn Gentry, daughter of Rev. C. K. Gentry, pastor of the local Wesleyan Methodist church, in an automobile collision here on the night of May 12th. Under the influence of liquor on the night of the wreck, Leonard was said to have claimed he was driving the car, but at the coroner's inquest the following morning he asserted that George Vogler, a companion, also of Charlotte, was at the wheel without his permission and against his protest, and that he was in the rear seat at the time of the crash. Gogler, however, has been exonerated from blame.

Following the criminal action, the civil suit asking $25,300 will be taken up on August 29th, against Leonard by the father of the dead girl and two of her sisters, who were hurt in the same accident.

Asks About Grandfather.

The Queen said that Michael had not fully realized that his grandfather was dead, and the little fellow constantly looked for the toys which the late King was in the habit of giving him daily.

"Where was granddaddy gone?" he asked Queen Marie tearfully on one occasion.

"He has gone to join God," the Queen replied sadly.

"Won't he come back to us?" Micky rejoined.

"No, he has gone forever, and you, sweetheart, must take his place," answered the Queen. "He is now with God in heaven."

"Is God a very good man?" the artless youngster asked.

Heywood Brown Fired By World.

New York, Aug. 12.—Ralph Pulitzer, editor of The New York World, in a signed statement in that paper today announced that articles by Heywood Brown, one of the standing features, had been discontinued because Brown insisted upon discussing the Sacco-Vanzetti case "after two articles in which he had expressed his personal opinion with utmost extravagance."

"Oh, He is much more than a mere man," responded Queen Marie. "He is a very great being, greater than all the others combined."

Without waiting for his grandmother to finish Micky asked: "Well, then, is God a very good King?"

MRS. WAYNE WHEELER IS DEAD FROM BURNS

Mrs. Robert Candy, Her Mother, is Prostrated and in Serious Condition.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 14.—Mrs. Wayne B. Wheeler, wife of the head of the anti-liquor league, died early today in a hospital at Shelby, Mich., from burns received in an oil container explosion that also indirectly resulted in the death of her father, Robert Candy, 82, of Columbus, Ohio.

At sight of his daughter, her clothing catching flame, Candy awoke, clutched at his heart and toppled over dead.

Wayne B. Wheeler, who was in an upstairs room, attracted by his wife's screams, came to her assistance, and extinguished her flaming clothing with a heavy blanket. Mrs. Wheeler died within a few hours.
