The committee also recommended the raising of an endowment of three Red Oak on the county line. Cook

At 11 o'clock, the annual communion service was conducted. The services were in charge of Rev. M. E. Hanse', of the Second Church of this city, and Rev. R. S. Arowood, also of this city, pastor of McKinnon Church. The elements were distributed erator, Mr. R. A. Dunn, of Charlotte, by the elders of the First Church, who read the names of the committees as were seated in the chancel around the table which rests on the dais of the chancel. The service was deeply impressive on all who witnessed the most solumn ordinance of the church.

After the communion service memorials were read of brethren who had died during the year as follows: Dr. J. R. Bridges read a memorial of Rev. W. R. Coppendge, D. D., of Rockingham, who was moderator of synod at Statesvil'e in 1906; Dr. W. R. Petter, of Burlington, read the memorial of Dr. T. M. McConnell, of Greensboro; Dr. C. E. Gregory read the memorial of Rev. R. B. Taggart. oth of Morganton : Rev. S. M. Rank in, of Greensboro, read a memorial to Rev. W. S. Wilhe'm, who died at Sanatorium: the moderator, R. A. Dunn, read a memorial to J. W. trustee of Davidson College
