SIMEON WILSON WINECOFF LAID TO REST

Funeral Services Held Sunday Afternoon at Center Grove Church.—Burial Here.—Long Revival Services Get Underway.—Other Town News Notes.

Kannapolis, Oct. 17.—Funeral services for Simeon Wilson Winecoff, one of the leading farmers of this section, were conducted yesterday afternoon from Center Grove Lutheran Church, of which he was a charter member.

Rev. E. F. K. Roof, pastor of the church, was in charge of the services, being assisted by Rev. C. A. Brown, pastor of Grace and Prosperity Lutheran churches. A simple ceremony was used.

Mr. Winecoff died at his home here Friday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock after an illness that dated back to Christmas of 1926. He had suffered with a kidney malady and five days before his death all hope for his recovery had been abandoned.

He was 77 years, five months and fifteen days old and had passed his entire life in and near this city. At the age of 21 he was united in marriage with Miss Sallie Sara Dayvault, of Concord, and they were the parents of seven children, six of whom survive.

In early manhood he gave his heart to God, joining Center Grove Lutheran Church as one of its first members and since that time his was an inspiring Christian life. He was one of the church's most earnest, upright and noble guides and one of its most faithful and useful members. As the church lost one of its purest men, so has Kannapolis lost one of its bent citizens.

Mr. Winecoff leaves a wife, Mrs. Sallie Sara Winecoff, and the following children: John, David, Odell and Bachman Winecoff, of Kannapolis; Mrs. Mertie M. Winecoff, of Concord, and George C. Winecoff, of Salisbury.

"Mack" Long Opens Revival. A large audience greeted the Rev. McKendree R. Long, of Statesville, in his opening services of a three weeks' revival campaign at the First Presbyterian Church here Sunday.

The minister delivered a most inspiring sermon at both morning and evening services. Rev. W. W. Rowland, widely known evangelistic singer of Memphis, Tenn., led the singing with a determination that caused all to join in. He also sang several pleasing solos.

Services today will be held at three and seven-thirty o'clock. The public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Protestant Services. A series of evangelistic services to continue for several days will be inaugurated at the Methodist Protestant Church here this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Robert Short, an able minister of Roberta, will do the preaching while Rev. G. H. Hendry, of Concord, will conduct the singing.

Nightly services will be held throughout this week. The public is invited to attend.

Personal Mention. Misses Clara Cobb and Annie Pearl Moser, of Davenport College, and Miss Betty Propst, of Lenoir-Rhyne College, have returned to their alma maters after spending the week-end with relatives here.

Misses Grace and Mildred Moore spent Sunday in Gastonia, guests of friends.

SALISBURY VS. KANNAPOLIS

In Series of Football Tussles—Townlers Clamoring for Crack at Kowan Eleven.

Kannapolis, Oct. 15.—A series of three games to determine the independent football championship of this section may be carded between the Kannapolis Independents and the National Guard team of Salisbury, it was indicated here today.

If the plans materialize, the two teams will play one game at Salisbury, and another in Kannapolis. Should a rubber become necessary, it will be staged at China Grove.

The local eleven is considered more or less of a flivver as a football outfit, but the players are strong for a series of games with the Salisburyans and a rumpus or two would prove interesting to fandom in this city.

WELL-BRED NEGRO MERCHANT BOUND OVER TO SUPERIOR COURT

On Grand Count.—Andrew McKay, Alias Rev. A. Johnson, Charged With Obtaining Money Under False Pretense From Good Merchants of Towler Town.—Bond Fixed at $1,000.

Kannapolis, Oct. 15.—Andrew McKay, alias Rev. A. Johnson, well bred negro merchant of Asheville, was before Magistrate L. M. Gillon in local court yesterday afternoon on a charge of obtaining money and merchandise in Kannapolis under false pretense. The negro did not testify but several local merchants appeared against him. S. Z. Pilleger, general manager of the Efrid Department Store here, who sighted the warrant for the negro's arrest several days ago, told the court that McKay, under the assumed name of Rev. A. Johnson and the flagrant representation of the colored orphanage of North Carolina, came to his store two weeks ago soliciting funds and merchandise, which he charged were never sent to the institution, but were shipped to McKay's store in Asheville, where they were placed on sale.

Chief of Police Roger produced a half dozen pair of trousers found in the negro's place of business that bore the brand of the Efrid Store while H. P. Cheatam, of the orphanage, testified that he had never authorized McKay or anyone else as agent for his institution, declaring that various organizations of the state contributed between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars annually to support the home.

O. P. Gardner, of the A. & P. Store; Sam Query, of Query's shoe firm, and Charles McKinley, of the Belk Department Store here, testified that McKay had visited their establishments on two occasions and each time they had contributed money to the cause he represented.

Probable cause was found and the defendant was bound over to Superior Court, which is scheduled to begin in Concord Monday morning. Bond was fixed at one thousand dollars.

SOLD MOONSHINE TO POLICE OFFICERS REPEAT IN JAIL

Towler Town Cops Pull Dirty Pool In Nabbing Cloudy Hide Gents and Quantity of Forbidden Juice, But the Law's the Law.

Kannapolis, Oct. 15.—"Quick sales and little profit," a maxim so frequently used by merchants the country over, has placed two negroes of Kannapolis behind the bars. The negroes made the mistake of applying the motto in disposing of a quantity of "forbidden juice" as the buyers turned out to be police officers.

According to a police report, Officers Chapman and Nussman, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Faggart, of Concord, went out for a little stroll this morning to "see what they could see."

Removing their badges, they sauntered down the road to the Southern Railway underpass, which is about three miles from Towler Town. Going up to a little house nearby, they inquired of Guy and Robert Morehead, cloudy hide gents, as to whether they had any moonshine for sale.

"Yas sah, boss, yas sah," was the answer, "but it's a mighty little bit we have, but we'll let you gen'men have what we do have at a cheap price." They dashed into their home and returned with ten quarts.

Instead of paying for the liquor, the officers informed the negroes that they were "the law." One of the darktown boys reached for his pistol in his hip pocket, but Nussman and Chapman covered him instantly.

Now the would-be merchants are in jail here in default of bond, and the officers are out strolling again. It's dirty pool, if you want to make it that, but as the saying goes "the law's the law."

Cavanaugh, of San Antonio, her eight-month-old daughter, and William Winburn, a reporter for the San Antonio Light. Ed. Cavanaugh, died shortly after the accident in a hospital.

Georgia Pecan Crop Short.

Valdosta, Ga., Oct. 17.—(INS)—With the trees practically stripped of foliage much earlier than usual, there is visible evidence new now of shortage in the 1927 pecan crop throughout this section.

The trees were well loaded at first with young nuts, but these have gradually disappeared and most growers are of the opinion that dry weather resulted in the large percentage of "drops," cutting the yield down much greater than at one time expected.

History Text Books In Use In Chicago Are Pro-British.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Former Congressman John Gorman today told the board of education that every history text used in the Chicago schools with one exception is pro-British in its interpretations, and charged that William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of schools, is aware of the fact and approves of the condition.

Mr. Gorman, who made an investigation of all history books at Mayor Thompson's request, appeared before the board at the trial of Mr. McAndrew on charges of insubordination and conduct unbecoming the office of superintendent. Thompson made a campaign pledge to oust Mr. McAndrew.

Mr. Gorman introduced history text excerpts over the protest of Mr.

McAndrew's attorneys along with school records intended to show that the suspended superintendent had approved the use of all the texts criticized.
