MRS. GRAYSON MAY ENLARGE HER PLANS

She May Try Four-Continent Flight Some Time During Next Summer.

Old Orchard, Me., Nov. 3.—(A) -The "more ambitious project" which Mrs. Frances Grayson said she was considering at her pres-ent Long Island headquarters was believed here to be a four-continent flight. During her three weeks stay here while engaged in an attempted flight to Denmark, it became known that she contemplated such a tour.

It was learned that she was endeavoring to obtain the services of Bernt Balchen as pilot for an expedition next summer which would have a program similar to that carried out by De Pinedo, the Italian aviator This would involve crossing of the North Atlantic, a flight to Africa, then across the South Atlantic and north to the starting point in the United States.

Says He Will Be Guided by Radio Beacons Such as Aided Him so Much in Flight Across the Pacific

MENTIONED AS GRAYSON PILOT

He Discusses His Plans at Banquet and Stresses the Importance of the Radio Beacons For Fliers.

New York, Nov 3.—(A)—While Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson's amphibian monoplane Dawn waited for a pilot to guide it on its fourth start for Copenhagen, a new entry in the trans-Atlantic air adventure appeared in the person of Colonel Arthur C. Goebel, winner of the Dole derby from California to Honolulu. Colonel Goebel, who had been mentioned as a possible pilot for the Dawn, told a banker's club luncheon of his plan to fly to Europe in a multi-motored plane to be directed by radio beacons, located along his route, possibly in New Foundland and Ireland. He said the plane would carry two or three engines, and be built according to his own designs.

Ascribing the success of his Pacific flight to the help of radio beacons, Colonel Goebel said the latest improvements in this regard would be placed at his disposal by Captain Edwards, director of signal corps operations at Wright Field, Dayton. He is seeking to obtain the services of Lieutenant Slattery of the naval air pening session of the Western North station at Hampton Roads as navi-
