Air Is Declared Warmest Clothing.

London, Oct. 31.—Air is the warmest kind of garment, the Institute of Hygiene declared in holding an exhibition of clothing material from antiquity down to the present day.

The Institute pointed out that it meant cloth should be made so that it holds air. Such cloth will have the advantages: It will ventilate, and it will hold warm better than closely woven cloth.

The curlier the wool is the better it is in this respect, the experts declared.

SINGERS DELIGHTED LARGE AUDIENCE IN SALISBURY

A New Organization Perfected and Old Singers Convention Elects a Concord Man For President.

The Singers Convention held its last meeting of the year Sunday evening at 10:30 o'clock a. m. in Salisbury at the Boyden High School building auditorium. The program continued through the afternoon until about 5 o'clock. It was among one of the largest attended of these meetings yet held, both as to participants in the singing and the audience. The program consisted of congregational, choir, quartette and duet singing. Among the quartets participating from out of the state was the Stamp organization of Chattanooga, Tenn. Also the Carolina Quartette of Hickory, N. C. These both sing for record producing manufacturers. There were present the Parkview Quartette of Mooresville, N. C., the Rocky River Quartet, of Harrisburg, N. C., the Alexander Quartet, Concord, also the West-cooper's R. R. Quartet, of Salisbury. All of the quartets did so fine that they can hardly tell which was the best. There were several fine choirs present. Other listings of much note from out of the district were Miss Doris Baynes, of Tampa, Fla., and Miss Lillian Rozelle, of Salisbury, sang a beautiful duet. Also Prof. Sloan, of Greer, S. C., and the Pressley sisters of West Hendersonville, and the West Hendersonville choir, and the Teachers Publishing Co. choir of Henderson, N. C., the finest musical talent all the way through that we have ever heard.

Owing to the wide patronage the Singers' Convention has always enjoyed especially this past year, a motion was made by the secretary to organize a district organization to be known as the Piedmont District Singers' Association, comprising all of the counties in the Piedmont section of North Carolina. This association to organize county units not more than two counties in any one unit. Mr. J. M. Drake, of Salisbury, was elected President, superintendent G. B. Phillips, of Salisbury public schools, vice president; Mr. H. C. Agner, of Rowan, secretary and treasurer. With this fine corps of officers you can expect Piedmont North Carolina to come to the front in musical organization.

The Old Singers' Convention decided to change its name, to be known as the Rowan-Cabarrus Singers' Convention, this being the first unit organized in the Piedmont District, naming Mr. J. M. Dalhart, of Concord, as its president, Mr. W. E. Kluttz, of China Grove Route 1, as vice-president; A. E. Sloop, China Grove, R. 1, as secretary and treasurer. With the new president and his officers-elect they prayerfully ask the hearty cooperation of all the old friends of the singers' convention and invite all choirs, quartets, duets and musical associations in the unit as well as outside of the territory their most hearty support. It was with much regret that Brother W. T. Durham, the past president, asked for a vacation of a little while in officebearing in the convention as he was the founder of the old singers' convention. By this he pledges his whole heart in the work as always and will co-operate with the new president towards furthering this fine work in the county.

A. E. SLOOP, Sec. Treas.

Castor-Willet

Numerous friends of Miss Lillie May Willet and Mr. Charles Brown Castor, of Kannapolis, will be interested to learn of their marriage which occurred at nine o'clock, Wednesday morning, November 2, 1927, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. E. F. K. Roof, of China Grove, pastor of the bridegroom. The bride, who is of a lovely blond type, was unusually pretty in a dress of midnight blue georgette with metal trimmings and a shoulder corsage. Her hat was a close fitting one of metal cloth with wide pompons. For travel, the bride donned a coat of midnight blue Buverere suede with large collar and trimmings of French Cony fur. The ring ceremony of the Lutheran Church was used. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Castor left in their automobile for an extended trip through the Shenandoah Valley to Washington, Philadelphia, New York, and Atlantic City. Upon their return to Kannapolis, after Nov. 10, they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ross.

GROVES URGES TRAINING FOR NEW TYPE OF HOME

University Professor Addresses New York Conference.

New York, Nov. 2.—The old-fashioned family will never return, and in its place there must be a home adequate to meet the demands of our changed manner of living or civilization cannot prosper, Dr. Ernest R. Groves, Research Professor of Sociology, University of North Carolina, declared here today in an address before the Conference on Parent Education being held by the Child Study Association of America at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Educational training in the duties of parenthood is necessary under present conditions, Dr. Groves said, "that family values may not be smothered by the superficial pleasure-seeking of those who marry."

"It is not the home in which the mother is a good cook and the father a good provider, but the one where comradeship between parent and child exists, that points the way to a satisfying family life in the midst of our changing social and economic conditions," the speaker asserted.

Other speakers included Mrs. Howard S. Gans, president of Child Study Association of America; Dr. William F. Russell, dean of Teachers College, Columbia University; Mr. Porter R. Lee, director of New York School of Social Work; Dr. Harry D. Kitson, professor of education, Teachers College, Columbia University; Mrs. Gifford Pinebot; Dr. Frederick V. Robinson, president of the College of the City of New York.

Refuse to Send Children to School By Bus; Go to Roads.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 2.—J. E. Mustin and T. D. Pyrtle, living in the Walkertown school district, today began serving 30 days on the county roads all because the school bus would not stop at their homes to pick up their children and they refused to send the children to the regular stopping place, something like 200 yards distant.

They were haled into magistrate's court here and found guilty of failing to comply with the compulsory school law. The court offered to suspend judgment on payment of costs, but both refused to pay and they were sentenced to the roads.

The Concord Kiwanis Club will not hold its usual weekly luncheon Friday, postponement being made to permit a delegation to attend the Mooresville luncheon Friday evening at Mooresville.

Those farmers of Hoke County who cooperated to buy a car of fencing wire saved about $1,000 on the deal and general gave the county agent orders for an additional supply.

Children's Schools Follow British Troops.

School for British soldiers' children are found all over India and in all the colonies garrisoned by Imperial troops, including Egypt, Gibraltar, Malta, Aden, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Jamaica. The personnel of the army educational corps are well trained, and courses of study are so arranged that children moving with the army can carry on their studies with little interruption. Wherever possible schools are centralized, and specialized teaching possible. In India, where moves are frequent, the schoolmistress accompanies the troops from place to place.

Because of the wide experience gained by the traveling army children, their acquaintance with foreign peoples, and their possession frequently of some knowledge of different languages, numbers of soldiers' children are successful in winning scholarship in competition with other English school children, and are often able, if an army career is chosen, to attain higher rank than their fathers in the service of the Empire.
