Cotton in Mill Lacking.

The low price of cotton seems to be still too high for the manufacturers. There is such an unsatisfactory condition of things at Fall River and elsewhere in the North and East, that the mills have practically withdrawn from the cotton market. The boom that was expected has not arrived: the higher tariff duties have not proved in the least effectual.

Unquestionably the low price of raw cotton is caused by the lack of demand for cotton goods, and the lack of demand is due to a lack of money. The gold men say there is plenty of money in circulation. There is probably more than a plenty in circulation in the financial centers, but that fact doesn't help matters in the wide expanse of territory covered by the South and West. There is more in circulation in the West than there has been, owing to the higher price of wheat, but the increase is not a drop in the bucket compared with the needs of the people.

The territory referred to is the market for cotton goods, and owing to the lack of money there, the mills find their unsold stocks piling up.

When will matters take a turn? When the manufacturers join with the farmers in abolishing the single gold standard. Unless that is done shortly, the majority of the Eastern mills will have to go out of business.—Atlanta Constitution.

LAND SALE.

By virtue of a power in me vested by a certain deed in trust executed on April 28th, 1894, by N. M. Pepper and wife, I will, on at 1 o'clock, p. m., at the court house door in Danbury, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the following real estate lying in Stokes county on and near the Sauratown mountain, to-wit: First tract, 832 acres, which was granted by the State to the late John Pepper by the act of March, 1854, and recorded in Book 18, page 243; said land adjoining the land of Isaac Cook, Baumer, Carroll, and others. Second tract, 640 acres adjoining the Baumer lands, which tract was granted by the State to the late John Pepper on the 27th of Oct., 1854, and recorded in Book 18, page 401. Third tract, 1690 acres granted to the late John Pepper and J. L. Terry by the State on November 27th, 1852, and recorded in Book 18, page 204, excepting 200 acres conveyed to C. M. Pepper and the Alum Springs Company, and 41-3/4 acres conveyed to J. W. Neal. Fourth tract, 30 acres on Sauratown mountain, the boundaries of which are set out in Book 20, page 42. The interest of said N. M. Pepper in the above lands being one-sixth as heir-at-law of the late John Pepper. Fifth tract, one-half interest in a lot on the road to Piedmont (near the white clay), containing one acre. Sold to satisfy the purpose expressed in said deed in trust, which is recorded in Book 35, page 529. This is the 18th day of Oct., 1897. J. D. BUSHALL, Trustee.

McKinley's Thanksgiving Proclamation.

"In remembrance of God's goodness to us during the past year, which has been so abundant, let us offer unto Him our thanksgiving and pay our vows unto the Most High. Under His watchful providence industry has prospered, the conditions of labor have been improved the rewards of the husbandman have been increased and the comforts of our homes multiplied. His mighty hand has preserved peace and protected the nation. Respect for law and order has been strengthened, love of free institutions cherished and all sections of our beloved country brought into closer bonds of fraternal regard and generous co-operation.

"For these great benefits it is our duty to praise the Lord in a spirit of humility and gratitude and to offer up to Him our most earnest supplications. That we may acknowledge our obligation as a people to Him who has so graciously granted us the blessings of free government and material prosperity, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the twenty-fifth day of November, for national thanksgiving and prayer, which all of the people are invited to observe with appropriate religious services in their respective places of worship.

"On this day of rejoicing and domestic reunion let our prayers ascend to the Giver of every good and perfect gift for the continuance of His love and favor to us, that our hearts may be filled with charity and good-will, and that we may be ever worthy of His beneficent concern."

Henry George.

Baltimore Sun. In the death of Henry George the country has lost a man of great brain, great heart and great originality and force of character. In addition to an intellect clear, acute and of wonderful grasp and vigor nature gave him a still richer endowment in a moral nature overflowing with unselfish enthusiasm and earnest aspirations for the public good. Whatever may be thought of his economic theories, his absolute honesty of purpose was never questioned and never can be. He was not a dreamer except of such dreams as come to all men of genius, and the sharp sword of his common sense and logic made of this nineteenth century crusader a man whom few cared to encounter in the arena of debate. A typical American, he made his way from obscurity and poverty by the sweat of brain and body, and became a figure of national prominence and interest by the divine right of intellect and manly effort. He was a man of the people, but no demagogue. He loved them too well and believed too earnestly in the possibility of human development and in the nobler side of man to pander to popular vanity. "While he was a brother to the common man," as a writer in the Review of Reviews well phrases it, and "though through sympathy he carried his cross," he was "his sternest mentor and never flattered him."

To Agents and Baggage-men.

During the Hunting Season, i. e., from October 1, 1897, to March 31, 1898, this Company will take FREE in Baggage Cars, when accompanied by owner, and at their risk, the dogs of sportsmen or hunting parties, not exceeding one dog to each man.

Owners must show their tickets to Agent or Baggage Agent, that dogs may be properly way-billed to Train Baggage-man, and they must furnish chain, so that dogs may be securely fastened in Baggage Cars.

After March 31, 1898, the regular dog tariff to apply in all cases.

Unable to do Her Work - Nervous and Tired - All These Troubles Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For the past four years I have been in feeble health, and for two years past, owing to clauges of climate I have not been able to do my work. My husband insisted on my trying Hood's Sarsaparilla and I finally consented, and began taking it the first of June, 1896.
