PROFIT IN FARMING.

There is a very interesting story on the first page of this paper of the improvement of one of our worn-out Stokes county farms by a young man of intelligence and determination. The farm was bought when it wasn't paying the taxes and the interest on the money invested in it. Today it is yielding a handsome profit and is worth many times what the owner paid for it. The Reporter has always contended that there is good money in sane methods of farming. Our proposition is demonstrated by the experience above referred to. While so many of our young men are restless, longing to go to the towns in search of easier jobs and better wages, they might with much advantage reflect on what this young Stokes county man has accomplished. A city job, unless the employe is more fortunate than the great majority of hirelings, means hard work—anywhere from 10 to 15 hours a day; a stern and strict boss, high expenses and poor pay. With little time for amusement or diversion, the novelty of the new life soon wears off, the glamour of the city becomes prosaic, and the boy longs for the ease and freedom of the old plantation. And it's ten to one that the next train brings him home. This we daresay is the case in hundreds of instances. The same hard work that was required of him in the city, and the same good judgment that directed his movements under the eye of the city boss, would, if applied to the farm, make him contented and happy.

HOW CARNEGIE GETS HIS MILLIONS.

This is from the New York Tribune:

"When the 'stand-patters' drive home to the people a realization of the fact that steel rails can be purchased abroad for the Panama Railroad at $20 a ton, whereas they would compel the government to pay our manufacturers $33, though our manufacturers would deliver these same rails in Great Britain for $22 a ton which cost them at Pittsburg about $12 a ton, instead of winning sympathy for our traders so 'abused' by their own government, they will awaken sympathy for our private consumers."

Here we have a glimpse of the favoritism of our national government. Laws made in the direct interest of the Steel Trust—that gigantic aggregation of multi-millionaires. Turn to the down-trodden farmers—the tobacco farmers of North Carolina, for instance. Where is the law that shows them any particular consideration. The graft, the corruption, the injustice of the thing! It's enough to make anarchists of us all.

THE OLD CONFEDERATES TO ORGANIZE.

As will be noted elsewhere in this paper we are publishing a call by Mr. James A. Leak for the old Confederate soldiers of Stokes county to meet in Danbury on the first Monday in August for the purpose of organizing a Camp. The Reporter hopes to see every old soldier in the county present on that day. Every one who feels an interest in these old men and the cause for which they risked their lives and property, is cordially invited to come out and bring a basket, helping to give the old Rebels a pleasant day and a good dinner. They will not be with us for long, and let us make their stay as enjoyable as possible.

Dog-Killer's pardon is asked for several typographical errors in his last letter to the Reporter. In speaking of the laws, he said: "They can never rise any higher or be any better than the people or source from which they spring." But the types made him say: "They can never use any liquor or be any better than the people or source from which they spring." Then, in the third sentence following, the word crime is used in the singular number, whereas it was intended to be plural. Then, again, near the bottom of the third column the word "cause" is printed where "curse" was intended.

These errors were marked in the proof, but inadvertently overlooked by the printer.

In spite of all the gloomy forebodings and dismal predictions, there's life and hope in the old land yet. Last week just as the farmers were beginning to despair, the clouds rolled away, the rain ceased, and the sun came out drying off the ground. Then hundreds and thousands of men and boys, women and children, horses, mules, steers and possibly other kinds of quadrupeds rushed into the fields and you never saw such work before. Everything and everybody was pressed into service. And it may be said today with truth that the farmers are in a fair situation for another crop.

Things got kind of dull and patients were getting scarce at the Keely Institute at Greensboro, and it was decided to begin an advertising campaign. Attractive ads were placed in a few of the leading papers of the State and kept up persistently a few months. The result is, that today the institution is full to overflowing and plans are contemplated for the enlargement of the buildings. There is nothing more true than that judicious advertising pays.

It is hoped the report that the tobacco factory and furniture plant at Pilot Mountain are to resume, is true. Pilot is a hustling little town, and has some very energetic and progressive citizens who will yet be heard from. Our news columns this week tell of the Rev. R. W. George buying considerable property in the town, which shows that he—who is a man of good business judgment—has faith in the future of Pilot.

We were wondering, you remember, how much old man Andrew Carnegie, who says he wants to die poor and has already given away $115,000,000, had left. Here it is, as told by Henry Clews, a Wall Street banker: Two hundred million. Not half poor yet.

The Reporter is glad that the old Confederate soldiers are writing sketches of their war-time history. Several of their articles have been published and several more are in hand which will see the light as soon as we have room for them.

THE HARVARD PIANO

Delivered in your home, complete with stool and scarf.

There is no better piano-value than the Harvard, style H, at $250, or style G at $275.

These pianos are very substantially made of the best material, by skilled workmen. They have a full iron plate, nickel-plated tuning pins, triple unison, heavy bearing bar, nickled action brackets, double repetition Harvard action, capstan regulating device, graduating pedals including soft stop or practice pedal, case of cross banded veneers, extra heavy top and bottom moldings, handsome carved pilasters, full top-panel swing desk, exquisite raised carved panels, patent folding fall board, continuous hinges on top lid and fall-board.

Every key and in fact is complete in every detail, and has a TENYEAR GUARANTEE printed in each piano. The TONE of the HARVARD pleases everybody. Its action is light and responsive. Other dealers charge $350 for the same piano and other pianos of equal grade. How do we do it? We buy them in car load lots, at the lowest possible price, and a small profit satisfies us. We have other pianos as low as $175. And we also carry perhaps the largest stock of organs to be found anywhere in the South, ranging in price from $44 to $100. Plenty of time given to pay for an instrument if you haven't the cash to spare. Write for catalogue stating whether you want one of pianos or organs.
