

BIGGER CROP THAN LAST YEAR.

Tobacco Farmers of Eastern Stokes Think Roosevelt Is Going to Bust the Trust—A $1,000 Fiddle.

Saxon, June 5.
Editor Reporter:
Our people have so much confidence in the ability and disposition of President Roosevelt to deal with the American Tobacco Co. that there has already been planted in this section a largely increased acreage in tobacco, at least one-third more than last year and more compared with the available labor than ever before. It is expected that the breaking up of the Trust by the government will put prices back where they were before the Trust was organized, but I am of opinion that "Cleveland prices" will again prevail, that the Trust magnates will sit back and let millions of the crop be sold for less than half of last year's prices. Ask your correspondents how it is in other sections of the county. Is there not being an extra big crop set out, is there not already a full crop planted, with more yet to go in, and why?

Mr. John Young, of near Madison, recently bought of Lindsay Wall, for $2, a very old violin. It was made in Cremona, Italy, in 1721. Mr. Young has been offered $800 for it, but demands $1,000 and will doubtless get his price. A New York firm is trying to buy it.

SANDY RIDGE.

Sandy Ridge, June 5.—The farmers of this section are very glad to see the few fair days the past week.

Large attendance at Sunday School at this place yesterday.

We think not only is Mr. Geo. Wilson so fond of the Virginia girls, but some of our girls are as fond of the Virginia boys, as they call so often.

Guess some of our boys will be heart broken, as Miss Pearl Brown, who has gained some sincere friends, will soon leave for her home at Vinton, Va.

Mr. J. N. Brown has purchased him a new buggy. Guess some of the ladies are expecting to take a buggy ride.

Rev. Robins preached a very able sermon at Bethesda Sunday a. m. His sermon was especially to the children. There was a large crowd in attendance. The Sunday School of Dillard was awarded the honor of doing the singing.
