An Error Corrected.

In reporting the trial of Lill and Lum Mabe, J. T. Cleve and John Lawson, which was held here before Justice N. A. Martin, on the 17 inst., it was stated that all of the parties except John Lawson were bound over to Superior court. This was an error, the fact being that only three of the five were bound over, both Cleve and John Lawson being released, the Justice not considering the evidence strong enough to hold them.

Mr. L. J. Young, who has been working on the new warehouse in Walnut Cove for some time, spent Sunday at his home here.

Rev. C. W. Irvin, of Brim, filled his regular appointment here Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m., and 7 o'clock p. m., returning to his home Monday.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Miss Stella Mabe Accidentally Hit On Cheek By Baseball Bat.

At Young's school, three miles east of Danbury, during recess Friday, Miss Stella Mabe, the 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Thomas Mabe, was accidentally hit on the head by a baseball bat thrown by one of the boy pupils of the school, fracturing the young lady's cheek bone. The boys were playing ball and one of them struck at the ball and turned the bat loose, striking the young lady, who was standing close by. She was rendered unconscious for some time but is getting along as well as could be expected at this writing.
