MRS. JNO. W. FLYNT

Dies at Home Near Walnut Cove At the Age Of Sixty - two.

NEW WAREHOUSE

Work Begun Monday At Walnut Cove — Opening Up the Hairston Ford Road — Other News of Interest.

Walnut Cove, June 17. — Mrs. Jno. W. Flynt passed away at her home five miles southeast of here Saturday night after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Flynt was 62 years of age and was preceded to the grave by her husband, who died last January. She is survived by five children as follows: Mrs. A. F. Marshall, Misses Eva and Mary Flynt, Messrs. J. W. Flynt, of Roanoke, Va., and J. G. Flynt, of Winston-Salem. She was a consistent member of Salem Chapel Moravian church from which the funeral services were conducted Monday by Rev. Cox in the presence of a host of relatives and friends.

Work was begun Monday morning on the new tobacco warehouse and is being pushed rapidly forward by the contractor, Mr. E. W. Fowler, who expects to have the building completed by August 15. With this house open for next season the warehouse business here will be on a competitive basis which will make Walnut Cove one of the leading markets of the state. The farmers in all sections of the county are ready and willing to patronize this market after the excellent record made last year.

Messrs. Southern & Sons are installing new machinery in their roller mill, getting ready to handle the usual immense amount of grinding just after harvest. When the machinery is all in place there will not be a more modern roller mill in the county.

Grading will soon begin on the Hairston Ford road, the right of way having been opened up this week. The roads of the township are practically all in excellent shape although there is considerable complaining among automobile drivers of so many bumps and ridges along the main roads. It is hoped, however, that this defect will be removed as soon as it rains and a road machine can be used to an advantage.

News is received here of the serious illness of Prof. Joe Hill, of Lexington, who has typhoid fever. It is hoped that he will soon recover.

Mr. Wm. H. Gentry, who has been confined for some time, is said to be considerably worse this week.

Mrs. Crutchfield, a lady evangelist, is holding a series of meetings in the Junior Hall this week.

Mr. Clifton S. Kurfees, of Germanton, was here Monday on business.

Several members of the Lascum Music Club went to Germanton Thursday night where they were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Dr. Bynum.

Mr. W. D. Browder, of Germanton, was here Saturday purchasing a new Ford automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Linville and Miss Ora Boyles spent Sunday at Piedmont Springs.

Mr. E. W. Carroll, representing Marler, Dalton & Gilmer Co., was here a short while Monday.

Messrs. Eugene Dodson, Maurice Miller, Elwood Boyles, J. F. Hawkins, J. C. Joyce, R. L. Vaughn, M. O. Jones, Portney Bailey, C. E. Davis, C. R. Hutchinson, Jr., and others from here spent Sunday at Piedmont Springs.

Misses Mary McLeod Bethel, of South Carolina, and Kate Fulton, of Mt. Airy, are the guests of Miss Sallie Fulton on Summit Avenue.

Miss Ruth W. Hairston is spending the summer at her farm at Old Town.

Mr. J. Wilson Mitchell, of Dillard, was a business visitor here Monday.

A number of young men from here attended the band concert at Winston-Salem one night last week.

Mr. G. W. Naff, of Roanoke, Va., was here this week in the interest of his firm.

Messrs. Jacob Fulton and Noel Walker and Misses Mary McLeod Bethel and Sallie Fulton spent Saturday and Sunday at Piedmont Springs.

Miss Bessie Morefield spent last week with relatives and friends near Sandy Ridge, returning home Sunday afternoon.

Messrs. Robt. Stone and S. G. Trivette, of Stoneville, spent Sunday with friends here.

Rev. E. J. Poe filled his regular appointment at the Junior Hall Sunday night.

Mr. J. S. Blackwell, of Pine Hall, was here Monday enroute to the Teachers' Institute at Piedmont Springs.

Some improvements are being made at the mineral springs just south of town, making it quite an inviting spot.

81 New Physicians Get Licenses To Practice.

Raleigh, June 15.—The State Board of Medical Examiners announces that eighty-one applicants for licenses to practice medicine in this State passed successfully the examination of the past week. Thirty-seven failed.

First honors went Thaddeus Wilkerson of Roxboro; second honors to Paul A. Petree of Germanton and Joseph F. Belton of Mt. Airy, who tied their grades. The new doctors include Edward C. Ashby and J. F. Bolton of Mt. Airy, Claude B.

Hicks of Durham, Alfred Moreau of Durham and J. A. Speed, Durham.

CROP TO BE SHORT

Tobacco Outlook Is Precarious, With High Prices Certain In the Fall.

FAILURE IN EAST

Drouth Conditions Prevalent In All the Tobacco Belt, Particularly in Eastern North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia — Good Rains In Many Sections of Stokes.

There is every indication that the 1914 crop of tobacco will be the shortest for many years. In Eastern North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia serious drouth conditions prevail. The Reporter is informed by a leading tobacco man of North Carolina that in all probability the tobacco farmers have never seen any high tobacco, such as will be seen on the markets this fall. Another week or two of dry weather will mean the shortest crop in ten years. Usually the serious part of drouths occurs after the tobacco has been set out, thus allowing it to get started. Once the tobacco plant can firmly fix its roots in the ground, it is very hardy, and can stand lots of hot dry weather.

But this year the farmers in many instances have set out but little of their crop, and that which has been set out shows a poor stand, many of the plants dying for the want of moisture when they were young and tender, and from the shock of the transplanting in dry grounds.

In several sections of Stokes good rains have put the crop on an average basis. While in other sections the stand is very poor. It is estimated now that the crop will be cut off one-fifth or one-fourth in Stokes.

Another reason for high prices this fall is the sharp competition which will result from the fierce fight on cigarettes between some of the big companies. The demand for bright tobacco is sure to be strong. Farmers are urged to prime largely.

Wilson-Boylan.

Married, at Glendive, Montana, June 3, Mr. William Patterson Wilson and Miss Ruth Theodore Boylan. At home to their friends after June 3.

Mr. Wilson is a Rockingham county young man, formerly a teacher in this county, is well known and has many friends in this county.

The Reporter wishes the young couple much success and happiness.

BIGGEST SEASON

Piedmont Springs Enjoying the Greatest Patronage In Its History.

HOTEL OVERFLOWS

Registration Before June 15 Equal to One-Half Of Any Previous Season—About Hundred and Fifty Guests—The Auto Tour For June 27.

Piedmont Springs is enjoying its greatest season. Already the registration at the hotel has equaled one-half that of any previous whole season. Every available bed and cot has been kept in commission. Many nights the porches have been utilized for sleeping room. Last Sunday the hotel accommodated upwards of 300 people. Between fifty and one hundred automobiles from Greensboro, Madison, Winston-Salem, Walnut Cove and other points unloaded crowds of transients as well as stayers. The week-end parties are now the biggest features connected with the resort. The good roads from Walnut Cove to the Springs are attracting tourists over a widespread area.

The orchestra has arrived, and is dispensing high class music for the concerts and dances.

Many reservations are being made for July and August. If the present patronage continues the 1914 season at Piedmont will eclipse that of any resort of anything like the same capacity in the State.

On Saturday, June 27, the big automobile tour from Winston-Salem, consisting of possibly 200 cars, with a thousand passengers, is expected. It is learned that the machines will begin arriving soon after dinner, as the run can be made from Winston in less than two hours. All the afternoon they will be arriving. Of course the capacity of the hotel is not sufficient to accommodate such a large crowd, but the best will be done possible. This will be the biggest event in the history of the county, and will doubtless attract a large crowd of spectators from the country round about.

Below is given a list of only a few of the recent arrivals: Clement Manly, W. R. Reynolds, T. M. Huske, Robt. Williamson, R. B. Lasator, Powell Gilmer, John T. Simpson, Paul J. Bitting, W. P. Hill, of Winston-Salem; Messrs. Julius Cone, L. H. Sellars, J. R. Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. P. Leak, of Greensboro; Messrs. Robert Critz, B. F. Huntly and family, Mrs. W. E. Reynolds, Mrs. D. N. Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Vogler, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bowen, C. L. Brown, Jeff King, Ashton Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Mott, Jr., of Winston-Salem; Mrs. P. D. Gold and daughter, W. B. Vaught, Mrs. A. J. Sykes and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Watkins, Dr. J. P. Turner, of Greensboro; W. J. Conrad, Paul Montague, Hugh Chatham, Mrs.

W. P. Taylor and Miss Cornelia Taylor, Miss Louise Morton, Miss Charlotte Critz, Miss Margaret Dalton, Miss Anna Buxton, Miss Grace Whitaker, Misses Margia Gray, Mary Shappard, of Winston-Salem; Mrs. J. B. Webster, Mrs. Morton, Hay Meadow, Messrs. Geo. Semple, H. H. Davis, S. C. Harper and family, and hundreds of others whose names the writer has not space to mention.

PAPA'S MAN.

Walnut Cove Music Club Entertained At Germanton.

Walnut Cove, June 17.—An evening of unusual enjoyment was spent by the members of the Lascum Club when they were entertained Thursday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Bynum in Germanton.

This first invitation received by the Club to a neighboring town was accepted with great pleasure, and with appreciation of the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Bynum.

After a cross country trip of six miles in automobiles the party from Walnut Cove drove up in front of the colonial home of Dr. Bynum's, to be cordially welcomed by Dr. and Mrs. Bynum. Misses Fannie Davis and Mary Preston Bynum led the way into the house. Besides the honor guests several young people of Germanton were also present.

After spending some time in convention the guests were entertained in a very enjoyable and instructive way by musical numbers from Dr. Bynum's Victrola. Many grand opera and classical selections were given interspersed by comedy numbers. A delicious salad course, followed by cake and punch was then served by Misses Mary Preston Bynum, Louise Powers and Lillian Small.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell and children visited Mrs. Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Z. V. Martin of Guilford spent Sunday at Mr. Sam Gatewood's on Madison Route 3.
