MUCH BUILDING

Now Being Done In Our Prosperous County Town, Walnut Cove.

MORE STREET LIGHTS

School Opens This Week A. W. Davis Will Not Move to Eastern Carolina—The First Frost Is Seen—Other News.

DANBURY REPORTER, Published Once a Week, Except on Sundays, by E. W. FOWLER.

Walnut Cove, Sept. 29.—Since the opening sale last Tuesday the warehouses have been selling several loads of the weed each day with pleasing results to the farmers. If there is any change at all in the prices it is safe to say that tobacco is a few cents higher this week than it was on the opening sales. The average prices for last week on this market will compare favorably with any of the larger places, in fact some farmers who have sold both here and at other places are better pleased with the average made here and will market their entire crop at this point.

The first frost of the season was noticeable here Sunday morning, although no damage was done to the growing crops. The blighted sweet potato vines serve as a reminder to the farmers that all crops subject to the ravages of Jack Frost must be rapidly harvested.

Mr. E. W. Fowler this week sold to Mr. Jno. R. Smith his bungalow and lot on North Main Street, and Mr. Smith expects in the near future to sell his farm north of town and remove his family here. This is one of the handsomest residences in town and adds a great deal to the appearance of that part of the street. Among the many houses in course of construction in that section are those of Messrs. Joe Isom, J. Wesley Morefield, C. M. Jones, J. A. Hicks, D. S. Watkins, Dr. J. W. Neal and others. Lots are being sold every week to parties who expect to build here; many of them seeking the advantages of the school while others will engage in different lines of business with a view to making it their permanent home. Every newcomer will receive a hearty welcome from our citizens who are progressive, enthusiastic and optimistic regarding the growth and prospects of Walnut Cove.

The town commissioners at a recent meeting accepted a proposition from the Walnut Cove Light & Power Co. relative to placing electric lights along the more prominent thoroughfares. Twelve lights of one hundred candle power each were contracted for and one will be placed at each corner, beginning at First and continuing to Sixth Street on Main and Summit. With such a liberal distribution practically every part of town will be lighted up from sunset to midnight.

Professor J. W. Scroggs arrived last week and is getting everything in readiness for the opening of the high school Thursday morning. The other teachers are expected to report tomorrow.

Messrs. J. Will East, Jacob Fulton, Misses Mary Martin, Lillie Joyce and Sallie Fulton attended a play in Winston-Salem Wednesday evening. The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Nannie Fulton.

Mr. Thos. S. Petree, of Danbury, was here yesterday enroute to King where he will take up his duties as cashier of the Bank of King which opens for business on Oct. the first. Tom was connected with the banks at this place last year, making a splendid record and his friends predict that he will meet with marked success in his new field.

Mr. J. Wesley Morefield and family spent Sunday in Winston-Salem visiting friends. They were accompanied home by Mr. Julius O. Young, who spent a few hours here with his parents, returning Sunday night.

Dr. J. L. Hanes, of Pine Hall, was here Monday on business. Dr. Hanes is the popular Democratic candidate for House of Representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. G. Fulton, Mrs. H. H. Davis and George Fulton went to Greensboro Sunday to spend the day with relatives.

Archdeacon Wm. H. Hardin occupied the pulpit at the Episcopal church Sunday night.

Mr. W. A. Young, of Summerfield, visited his brother, Mr. J. N. Young, here Sunday.

Mr. A. T. Rothrock went to Madison Sunday, returning Sunday night accompanied by Mrs. Rothrock, who has been visiting relatives there several days.

Mr. T. B. Knight, of Leaksville, was here Monday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Neal, Robert Neal, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Hill and Dr. J. W. Neal were among the Meadows visitors in town yesterday.

Mr. S. W. Smith has accepted a position as salesman with Fulton & Davis and entered upon his duties Monday. Mr. Smith will be glad to have his friends call in to see him.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Davis returned Sunday from an extended trip to Hamlet and other points in the eastern part of the state where they visited relatives. While away Mr. Davis looked over quite a good deal of real estate with a view to buying, but has decided that property in Stokes is good enough for him since considering the uncertain prices of cotton which is the principal crop in that section.

Mr. H. L. Byrd, one of the popular tobacco buyers on this market, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Martinsville, Va.

Mr. Newton Young has taken up his old position with Dodson & Co. after spending the summer at Piedmont Springs.

Mr. J. Carl Joyce, who is in school at Guilford College, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents here.

SAURATOWN'S ROADS

Commissioners Of That Township to Be Congratulated On Their Good Work.

32 MILES OF ROAD

Modern Sand-Clay Highways Running North, South, East and West and Touching the Township Line At Eight or Nine Places.

Every one who has been over the new roads in Sauratown township has a word of praise for the commissioners in that township. They have done remarkably well with the bond-issue money recently expended down there, building a complete net-work of modern top-soil and sand-clay roads which reach into every section of that large township.

This net-work of roads when finished will touch the township's line at no less than seven and probably at eight or nine places, and the total number of miles built will be about thirty-two. A small part of the work is yet to be finished and it is impossible to tell the exact amount of work that will be accomplished.

The roads which have been constructed, most of which the writer has been over, run as follows:

From the Meadows township line at J. I. Blackburn's to the Forsyth county line at Dr. E. Fulp's.

From Walnut Cove west to the Meadows township line at Chap Bodenheimer's.

From Walnut Cove east to the Forsyth county line three and a half miles from Walnut Cove.

From Walnut Cove east to the Beaver Island township line at Pine Hall bridge.

From near Walnut Cove east to the Beaver Island township line at Hairston's ford bridge.

From Walnut Cove west to the Meadows township line at E. R. Voss'.

From Walnut Cove west almost to the Meadows township line on the Piney Mountain road.

From near Walnut Cove east to within one mile of the Danbury township line near Stewart's School House.

The Dennis-Fulp Road

Work on the new road from the Stokes county line at Dr. E. Fulp's to Dennis station is moving right along and will no doubt be completed within the next few weeks.

This was the only unimproved section of road between Walnut Cove and Winston-Salem and when it is finished the people as far north as this section will have a modern sand-clay road all the way to Winston-Salem, with the exception of the three-mile stretch through Meadows, between Danbury and Walnut Cove.

Recently when work on the Dennis-Fulp road was started the citizens on each side of the railroad presented petitions to the authorities asking that the road be built on their respective sides of the railroad track. The road is being built so far on the west side of the track and several railroad crossings will be eliminated.

COURT POSTPONED

The Civil Term of Stokes Court Will Convene On Wednesday, November 4th, Instead Of November 2nd.

DAY AFTER ELECTION

Authorities Thought Best To Make This Change In Date—Parties Interested Should Take Note of Change.

On account of the fact that the next general election falls on November 3rd, the fall term of Stokes civil court will not convene until November 4th, the day after the election. The regular date for the beginning of this term of court is November 2nd and it has been so advertised, but it was thought best by the authorities to postpone the opening of court until the day after the election, and all witnesses and parties to suits should take note of the fact.

The date for the opening of the criminal term of court has not been changed and it will convene on Oct. 26th, which is the regular time.

Preaching at Danbury next Sunday night.
