Towns and Neighborhoods That Have Neglected Clean-Up Days

The State Board of Health has its eyes on a number of towns and communities throughout the State that have not, up to the present time, held an annual clean-up week. Whether they intend to or not is not known. But it is known that if clean-up weeks are to be productive of the greatest good, that the sooner they are observed from now the more good they will accomplish.

Just as it is too late to lock the stable after the horse is stolen, so it becomes too late after the flies are hatched and swarming to clean up as a means of fly-prevention. This applies of course to the first fly crop which is, more or less, an easy matter to prevent if begun in time, but as there are other crops to follow in rapid succession, about every ten days, no time can be lost in preventing a full harvest. The greater the delay in getting at it, the harder the fight will be.

It was with a feeling of pride, no doubt, that the Governor of North Carolina, in viewing the matter of clean-up week, deemed it unnecessary to issue a Clean-Up Week proclamation. Governors of other states have taken this means by way of suggesting to the people the importance of guarding against disease by promoting cleanly and sanitary home conditions. But there is no doubt but that North Carolina's Governor felt that the pride and the intelligence of North Carolina's citizens needed not this injunction to make them clean up their homes, neighborhoods and towns. He took this as a matter of course. Whether or not the Governor placed too high an estimate on the people's pride and health intelligence remains yet to be seen. Some towns and communities have only a few days of grace in which to prove themselves. Towns and neighborhoods that have no clean-up days are held in as high esteem as housekeepers who have no house cleanings. They are in the same class.

New School Houses.

During the last biennial period 810 new rural school houses have been built in North Carolina—606 white and 204 colored, at a cost of $811,407.77. This means an average of more than one rural schoolhouse for every day in the year and including the city schoolhouse built the averages run considerably over one per day. This pace of building at least one new schoolhouse for every day in the year according to approved plans of modern school architecture prepared by most competent architects under the supervision of the State Department of Education and distributed from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been maintained for the past twelve years—a total of 4,375 new schoolhouses having been built during this time—in 4,383 days. This also means that three-fifths all the schoolhouses in this State have been built anew or rebuilt within the last twelve years. Report of State Superintendent.

Best Thing for a Bilious Attack
 "On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Failing to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Bailey, Editor Carolina News, Chapin, S. C.
