Judge G. A. Hastings, of Winston-Salem, will deliver the address, while a singing class from the Orphan Home will entertain the visitors.

Tilley-Hatcher.

At the lovely country home of Mrs. R. F. Hatcher at Brim, N. C., a quiet beautiful wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, June 22, when her daughter, Miss Berta Hatcher, became the lovely bride of Mr. R. F. Tilley, of Mt. Airy, N. C.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Irvin, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Asbury, assisted by Rev. Roy Smith, the beautiful ring ceremony being used.

The parlor was beautifully and tastefully decorated with a profusion of rhododendrons, these being arranged to form an aisle effect.

Preceding the approach of the bridal party, Miss Lillian Simmons, of Asbury, sweetly sang, "Oh, Promise Me." The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by Miss Irene Thompson, of Mt. Airy, heralded the approach of the bridal party. The little Misses Mary and Lena Mayes, neices of the bride, daintily dressed in white lingerie frocks, entered first carrying a basket of roses, in the heart of one of which was concealed the ring. The bride, then, exquisitely and becomingly attired in a going away suit of blue with hat and shoes to match, carrying a handsome bouquet of bride's roses, entered with the groom, who wore the conventional black. While McDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was played at the piano the magic words which united the young couple were spoken. To the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," the party marched to the gift room where congratulations were said.

The handsome and numerous presents attested to the popularity of both bride and groom.

The bride is the beautiful and attractive daughter of Mrs. R. F. Hatcher, and is popular among a host of friends, while the groom is a young man of sterling character and an enterprising business man in Mt. Airy.

The happy couple left for an extended trip of about two weeks to points north. After their return Mr. and Mrs. Tilley will be at home to friends at the Brown House, Mt. Airy, N. C.

Traveling Man's Experience.

"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. For sale by all dealers.

Painless Advice.

The rule of give and take applies to many things, but not to advice. Whosoever attempts to take advice as freely as he gives it must either be dumb, to begin with, or else will end badly. In this connection an amusing moral is pointed to by the action of a certain Kansas girl. The Kansas City Star clips her story from its neighbor, the Hiawatha World:

A girl in Hiawatha had a proposal of marriage Sunday night, and asked a week to consider it before filing her answer. She then organized herself into an investigating committee and commenced taking testimony from the married ladies of her acquaintance. The first one she visited used to be a belle and the most admired girl in the town before she was married six years ago. The cross-examination brought out the fact that she had three children, did all her own work, including her washing and ironing, and hadn't been down-town for four weeks, and that her husband had given her but $2 since she was married, and that he had borrowed and forgot to pay back $10 which her brother once gave her for a Christmas present. He brought him a new overcoat with the money, while she wore the same plush coat that she wore when he was courting her. Another woman whom she visited quit teaching school three years ago to marry "the handsomest and best-drest man in town," and she is now supporting him. A third didn't dare say her soul was her own when her husband was around, tho she used to write some lovely essays when she was at school on the "emancipation of women," and the fourth woman she visited was divorced. After visiting them and summing up the evidence, she went home and married next month.

A Snake and Bird Story.

A small snake climbed a telephone pole and crossing the sidewalk on a piece of piping secured a bird from a nest in the Covington building Saturday morning. The bird's nest was in a hole in the wall made to allow the telephone cables to pass into the building. The snake was making the return trip with the bird's head in its mouth when the mother bird came upon the scene. As she was an English sparrow, it may be imagined the kind of row she raised and the result was that the snake got excited and lost his balance, falling to the sidewalk below. The bird was rescued and the snake killed. --The Wadesboro Ansonian.

Report Of the Meeting Recently Held At King.

Greensboro, June 20. Messrs. Editors:

Will you please give me space in your paper for a report of a meeting held in your county. We began a meeting under a large gospel tent in King the night of June 15th. We were told before we went to King that we would not be able to hold a meeting there on account of the bad boys, but we want to say for the boys of King that we have held meetings in different places for the past seven years, but never have we found a place or people where we had any better order than that of King. We were there for 12 days and nights, and during this time there was good order and good attendance, such as we have never witnessed at any place before. We can truly say for the people of King that they treated us with the greatest of respect. We were invited into the most of the homes. In fact all the best people of King stood by us in the meeting. The Lord met with us in great power on the last of the meeting and gave us a real good time. All denominations joined us and we feel assured that they were all blessed and helped. There were several souls saved during the meeting and the church members greatly revived. We shall never forget the good people of King and they shall always have our prayers. I want to say to the readers of this paper that when you hear of people speaking about the bad boys of King you tell them that it is a mistake for we never had boys to treat us any better than they did. May the dear Lord bless and keep them until we meet again.

Your brothers in Christ,
B. H. VESTOL,
C. H. LAIN.

Safety Matches After Jan. 1st.

Much has been said and written as to the loss of life and property caused by matches, and Commissioner Young says that for several years he has endeavored to have a law passed regulating the use and sale of matches in this State. He says that the last Legislature enacted what is known as the "Uniform Match Bill." This law has already been adopted in several States, covering the handling, storage, and use of matches, and will prevent the use of common matches after January 1, 1915. The going into effect of the law was made January 1, 1916, in order that dealers in the State may have an opportunity to get rid of the matches on hand, such as are not allowed to be sold under the new law. Commissioner Young says it will be well for the dealers in the State to bear this in mind in working off their present stock and contracting for new supplies. --Statesville Landmark.

Offers To Pay State Debt.

According to a Bluefield dispatch Samuel G. Walker, one of the wealthiest liquor men in Southern West Virginia, has made a proposition to the State government to pay the State debt of $12,393,928.59, with interest, in the next ten years, and at the same time to set aside $500,000 each year to be used by the State in permanent improvements, if he can have the sole privilege of selling liquor in West Virginia.

He says he will file a bond of $2,000,000 immediately guaranteeing the faithful carrying out of his contract. The State debt he offers to assume had been a matter of dispute between this State and old Virginia for many years, but the United States Supreme Court recently decided that West Virginia must pay it.

Mrs. M. T. Chilton and little daughter, Nellie, returned Thursday from a visit to relatives and friends at Mt. Airy.
