

Matches.

1. Matches, for instance, are necessary as well as useful, but carelessly handled cause much trouble and destruction. Children should never be allowed to play with matches.
2. Matches should not be kept so that mice and rats can gnaw at them until they become ignited, but should be kept in securely covered tin boxes.
3. Careless smokers lighting matches and thoughtlessly throwing them on carpet, clothing or rubbish cause fires which can be greatly reduced by using a little care.

Watch Label On Your Paper.

The little label pasted on your copy of the Reporter each week bears the date on which your subscription to the paper expires. Please take note of this and before your subscription expires send us your renewal so that your name will not be taken from the list. Just mail us a dollar bill or send a money order or your check and a receipt will be sent you and the date on your label will be changed promptly.
