

Favored By Tourists

North Carolina is listed as the favorite touring state by 78 per cent of thousands of motorists who answered a questionnaire of the National Touring board of the American Automobile association. Coleman W. Roberts, vice president of the Carolina Motor club was advised today. The questionnaire, which was mailed to several thousand car owners in every state in the Union, disclosed that 23 percent of those stating their preference for Tarhelia have visited the state. Among the interesting features brought out by the results of the wholesale referendum was the fact that 50 per cent said they preferred touring in this state on account of the roads while only 24 percent listed scenery as the primary attraction. An average speed of 35 miles an hour was preferred by 36 percent of the answers while 71 percent said they did not drive at night.

Hotels were favored by 68 percent of the motorists, disclosing that tourist and way-side camps are losing their appeal and 81 percent of those visiting hotels said they were guided in their selections by A. A. A. signs and advice and publicity from touring counters of clubs affiliated with the national organization.

Not a single complaint of discourtesy or bad treatment at the hands of municipal, county or state officers in North Carolina was reported on the questionnaire, which was a striking contrast to the answers filed regarding treatment in some states. Florida and Pennsylvania, in the order named, followed North Carolina as preferred favorite touring states, according to the questionnaires.

According to the statistics furnished the Institute of Foreign Travel by the Norwegian Government, approximately 20,000 American and British tourists visit that country annually, which is an increase of 150 per cent in three years.

The American tourist who gets stranded in Paris and is unable to get back to this country can now have recourse to the kind offices of the American Aid Society, which was first established for War Veterans. Last year nearly a thousand asked for aid and about two hundred were provided with passages back to America.

Peaches—This Month's Economy

BECAUSE the California peach pack of last year was immense the price of peaches is far from immense—in fact, it is very low. So the economical housewife will see to it that the peach, either in halves or slices, is featured in her springtime menus.

When spring comes, one of the first things which is considered is salads—something to accompany the crisp lettuce and celery and chicory which fairly cries to be used. And under the circumstances, what could be more delectable than the peach? For your information, here are some recipes for

Peachy Salads

Jellied Peach and Cheese Salad: Soften two tablespoons of gelatin in one-fourth cup cold water and dissolve in one and one-half cups boiling peach syrup. Add two tablespoons sugar, three-fourths cup diced, sliced peaches and one teaspoon lemon juice. Pour half the mixture into a mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Make small balls of cream cheese mixed with diced green pepper and paprika and arrange the balls on the gelatin. Pour the remaining semi-fluid gelatin into the mold and chill until firm. Turn out on a bed of lettuce and serve at the table.

Peach Cross: Mix chopped dates, raisins and nuts and fill the holes of eight canned peach halves with the mixture. Place peaches on lettuce, with the round side up. Garnish with a spoonful of mayonnaise and lay two strips of pimiento on the mayonnaise to make a cross.

Another stuffing for peach salads is boiled rice mixed with chopped pecans and Russian dressing. Russian dressing is served on the peaches.*
