PREPARING FOR TONSIL CLINIC

Will Be Held in School Building At Danbury Aug. 27 to 30.—Large Number of Parents Expect to Bring Children Here.

The school building in Danbury has been selected as the place for holding the tonsil and adenoid clinic for Stokes county school children on Aug. 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Miss Lucile Pegram, an experienced registered nurse, arrived here this week as the representative of the State Board of Health, and is making the advance arrangements for the clinic. Miss Pegram is well known here, having been in charge of the clinic here two years since when a hundred children were treated.

A temporary hospital will be fitted up and the clinic will have two physicians, a surgeon and eight registered nurses. School children from six to twelve years of age will be received for treatment. Each child will be given a thorough physical examination before the operation and will be required to remain at the hospital for 24 hours after being treated. A nominal sum of $12.50 will be charged those children whose parents are able to pay. Those unable to pay will be treated free.

Quite a large number of applications have already been received by Miss Pegram and a good many others are expected between this time and the opening of the clinic.

MORE ORDERLY TOBACCO SALES

Big Companies Agree To Stabilize Prices On the Several Grades of Tobacco.

Danville, Va., Aug. 10.—The Tobacco Association of the United States has reached an agreement, it was learned this evening, with the large tobacco buying corporations in this country whereby tobacco prices during the coming season will be stabilized, thus eliminating those fluctuations which have for years been the source of complaint from the tobacco planters.

Under the terms of the agreement the big companies are willing to maintain the prices for the grades they handle from the beginning to the end of the selling season, this having the effect of assuring the grower of a reasonable return and obviating "glut" periods seen when tobacco, on reaching a peak price, brings the growers to the market centers by the hundred, overtaxing the marketing facilities. This invariably results in a sudden slump because of the inability to rehandle the leaf before it has suffered some deterioration.

John L. Tucker, president of the Danville Warehouse corporation, this evening admitted that the agreement has been reached and issued a statement urging farmers to realize that it will be to their interest not to rush their leaf to market. The principle, if carried out successfully, will mean, it is said, the establishment of "orderly marketing" and very probably an extension of the selling period instead of crowding it into a few months.

The price stabilization plan is expected to do away with the reclamation of tobacco. Farmers often add to the costs of marketing by refusing to accept the price bid on the auction floors and taking the tobacco to another warehouse in the hope of getting a better price. The agreement is viewed as one of the most important contributions of recent years toward placating differences between the growers and tobacco buyers.

Law Violators For July Were 177

Raleigh, Aug. 7.—There were 177 motorists convicted of traffic violations during July, according to reports received and compiled at headquarters of the State Highway Patrol. This brings the total number of reports received at the Highway Commission for the first seven months of the year to 1,253.

These reports are required by law to be made to the Highway Commission, but the commission has never been able to get officials in all counties to co-operate by sending in reports.

Reckless driving accounted for more convictions than any other single offense last month, 43 being convicted on this count, while driving while drunk, which usually leads with the highest number of convictions, was second for July, with 37 offenses.

Pride in Ownership

Not so many years ago there was keen competition between a number of motor car companies to see who could build the best automobile—one that would stand up for years under hard usage.

Of late years the fad has been to change models semi-annually and build cheaper and cheaper on a mass production basis.

Most automobiles today are good for a reasonable amount of use but few of them are built with the idea of pride in workmanship which causes an owner to prize his car as he used to prize some of the old familiar makes.

It is only fair to say, however, that the majority of cars are probably built safer today, with all-steel bodies and four-wheel brakes, than they were in the days of wooden body construction and smaller braking surface. Traffic conditions have made this necessary as a matter of self-preservation.

MEN AND CARS TAKEN NEAR HERE

H. K. Neal, Walnut Cove Man, Gives Bond When Captured With 45 Gallons of Whiskey On His Car.

Prohibition Agents Trexler, Battledge and Brandon arrested H. K. Neal and W. L. Lewis, Walnut Cove men, as they were driving south at a point near Piedmont Springs early Saturday morning. Investigation revealed the fact that Neal had in his Ford car nine five gallon cans of whiskey. Lewis was driving another car some distance behind Neal and he was also arrested but no whiskey was found about his car. Both cars were held by the officers and the 45 gallons of whiskey was poured out here on the street.

U. S. Commissioner N. A. Martin fixed bond for Neal at $1500 and for Lewis at $500. The men were released as soon as bondsmen could be brought here.

Who Aids the Criminal?

"All honest as well as dishonest men know that the machinery of law enforcement is defective and out of date," says the Saturday Evening Post in an editorial on crime. Here is a problem not in politics or academic theory or dialectics, but in practical organization, which is supposed to be just the field in which the typical American citizen is best.

"It is the job and the conditions which surround the job that need attention. If as a people we are incapable of improving the judicial and jury systems, of doing away with frivolous appeals, lessening the grant of continuances, expediting trials, simplifying indictments, and making the other necessary improvements in the actual technic of the job, then we have lost the art of self government."

Most of These Will Grow Fine Calves—A Description of the Work and the Results Expected.

Of the twenty-six boys and girls of Stokes county who have enrolled in 4-H Club work and during the past few weeks, twenty have elected to carry dairy calf projects. Some of these boys and girls are looking for registered Guernsey calves, while others are being satisfied with good grade calves that can not be registered. The State plan for Dairy Calf Club work is outlined as follows:

2. The State Club leader co-operating with the Dairy Specialists will assist in perfecting the club organization in selecting the calves and will furnish subject matter to be used by the club members.

3. Club members may select either pure bred or grade calves. (The grade calf must be sired by a pure bred bull.)

4. It is suggested that the county agent select the club members by calling personally on those whom he thinks will make successful members.
