

The Great Safety Movement

The annual Safety Congress is to be held in Chicago from September 30 to October 4. With an expected attendance of 7,000, it will be the greatest world gathering ever formed in the interest of accident prevention and conservation of life.

Three hundred and fifty-four safety authorities will address those present, and a total of 125 sessions, condensed university course in public, home and industrial safety, will be held. The past, present and future of the subject will be discussed in all its phases to prepare for intensive work during the coming year.

The importance of this Congress, cannot be over-estimated. If the United States has a srying need today, it is for safety knowledge and a safety consciousness on the part of the public. The terrible toll of accidents in the home and in industry, and because of automobiles, must be lessened.

Many of the best minds today are working toward an ideal of safety.

Carelessness, incompetence, ignorance—in these three words is contained the whole problem of safety. There are few unavoidable accidents. Practically every sudden death means that someone has failed in his duty, or has proven himself unfit, or has lacked necessary precautionary knowledge. It is a commendable endeavor to direct the public toward sound ideals of safety, and the least the public can do is to follow, for purely selfish personal reasons, if none other.

Rothrock Reunion

The Rothrock family reunion will be held this year on the second Sunday in October, October 13th, near the home of Zeb L. Rothrock, in the Memorial Reformed church, Banner Avenue, Southside, Winston-Salem. The reunion is held later this year than usual on account of the illness and death of John Madison Rothrock, of Walnut Cove, which occurred some weeks ago, who was the oldest member of the family.

In order to assure shelter and heat for the comfort of the people in case there should be cold or rainy weather, the Memorial Reformed church was chosen as the place to hold the reunion. This church has a spacious up-to-date basement where the dinner will be served (unless the weather is warm) it will be spread on a table in the beautiful lawn of the church. A Memorial service of the deceased members of the family will be held in the church auditorium. Rev. O. B. Michael, who is a member of the North Carolina Historical Commission and other Historical Societies of Church and State, will read a history of the Rothrock family. Quartette and special songs will be rendered appropriate for the occasion.

The Rothrock family is a descendant of the late George Rothrock who was born in Germany in 1777 and who came to America and settled on the South Fork Creek section in Forsyth county about 1798.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend this reunion and bring well filled baskets. The services and the dinner will be given between 11:45 and 2:30 p. m.

Get Cattle Ready For Show Ring

The show ring at county, district and state fairs is an excellent place for breeders and owners of pure bred dairy cattle to compare the merits of their animals.

"The comparative judging of animals brings to light the strong or weak points of an animal and helps the owner to advertise his stock," says John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist at State College. "Many times such advertising results in profitable sales by the breeder. Yet no person should attempt to take his animals without preparation to a fair. Preparations should begin at least two months before the cattle are to be shown. This time is needed to fit and train such animals as are in good condition at the beginning."

Mr. Arey says that it is not difficult to fit an animal that has had a good feed and care. Feed it a balanced grain ration with a mixed hay. If silage has been fed at home, make the change to best pulp two or three weeks before the cattle are to be shown because it is impossible to get silage when one is exhibiting on a circuit. If the hair is long, the exhibit cattle need to be clipped, allowing time enough for the hair to grow back out smoothly before showing time.

TOBACCO MONEY

IS NOW COMING INTO YOUR HANDS.

It's not the amount you get for it that will count next spring and summer. It's the amount you are able to save and bank.

After the old debts, the necessary family supplies, the taxes, the life insurance and other necessities are settled for, lay the rest aside in a checking account or on an interest bearing certificate until you need it. Pass up some of the luxuries and unnecessary items and prepare to live next year by banking your surplus cash. Make use of the bank that has stood by Stokes county farmers for a quarter of a century.

Certificate of Dissolution.

To All Whom These Presents May Come—Greetings:

WHEREAS, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Boyles Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the Town of King, County of Stokes, State of North Carolina (C. O. Boyles being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations", preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

NOW, Therefore, I, J. A. Hartness, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 26th day of August, 1929, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my office as provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 27th day of Aug. A. D. 1929.

(Signed) J. A. HARTNESS, Secretary of State.

ation ann gives a glossy appearance to the hair. Each animal should be brushed and rubbed thoroughly each day. Washing about once a week is another means of improving the hide and hair. Use plenty of water, soap and elbow grease in this operation, says Mr. Arey. Shapely horns, neat in appearance, and a clean, braided tail, combed out to present a fluffy appearance are two other important items.

Then if one loses in the ring, he should find out why and be prepared to come back next year and win. A courteous sportsman is always welcomed by his competitors, says Mr. Arey.

Cod Liver Oil Needed By Chicks

Where chicks are raised indoors and not in direct sunshine, they need cod liver oil in the ration. The material does not cause bowel trouble as many poultrymen seem to think.

"Inflammation of the bowels and similar troubles with chicks is due to one of four causes,—a virus, round worms, tape worms or chronic coccidiosis," says Dr. B. F. Kaupp, poultryman at State College. "Not only does our experimental evidence rule out cod liver oil as a cause of this bowel trouble but it seems to rule out feed altogether. We have found that cod liver oil is indispensable where chicks are brooded in batteries or indoors. It produces greater resistance to disease and promotes better health. This means better growth and more eggs. To date no substitute for this material in the ration has been found."

Dr. Kaupp says that he has data on hundreds of tests made during the past 15 years. In no case has serious bowel trouble developed where cod liver oil was used. In the tests, oil was mixed with the mash at different times. Some of it was held out to six months before the feeding experiments were completed and in no case did the records show, either clinically or in post mortem, a serious bowel trouble.

The tests did show that there are too many flocks of weak constitutional vigor and high death rate. Yet when he vitamin deficiencies were supplemented with a good grade of oil and mineral supplements used along with proper proportions of protein, health with all its natural resistance to disease, vigor and strength ease was built up.

must be put into the chicks early in life by a rich, properly balanced starting mash, says Dr. Kaupp.
