THE GREAT DRIVE IS NOW STARTED

Tremendous Offer of 300,000 Extra Votes Made to Stimulate Early Work—Take a Spurt and Get On the Winning List—Plenty of Excitement and Thrills Ahead.

Interest is rising high in the Danbury Reporter's Great Circulation Campaign, now launched. The premiums offered to the candidates in this contest are such as to enlist the best efforts of any person who desires to own a handsome and costly testimonial of the esteem and admiration of loyal friends.

The great contest begins with every candidate on the same footing, the vote register of each contestant showing zero. But this will not be the case for long as about 20 of the most attractive and popular young women of the county this week are getting busy, and each will do her level best to win the first minor prize—a bunch of 300,000 votes which that will be given for each and every $50 group or club of subscriptions turned in to the Campaign Manager on or before Saturday evening at 4 o'clock, April 26. These are extra votes and in addition to the regular votes allowed according to the schedule as shown on the back of the receipt books. Bear in mind, you can get a tremendous boost to your first efforts by winning these prizes—or at least one of them. By going out and securing a club of one 10-year subscription and two 5-year subscriptions, you will win 300,000 extra votes. And you are not limited to the number of groups or clubs that you may secure. Here is a beautiful opportunity for some fine Easter work by the candidates. Of course you can get a large number of smaller subscriptions, counting the resulting votes as shown on the outside cover of your receipt book, and as printed elsewhere in the Reporter.

This opportunity for the extra votes puts you in line for winning, as early starts are hard to overcome later. Remember that this offer expires Saturday evening, April 26.

Get Busy.
This race is going to be to the swift and the strong. Hard work and earnest effort will carry you through. Don't forget that.

Don't listen to reports of what other candidates are doing. Remember that in yourself are the qualities for winning, and that you will develop them as the contest proceeds.

Social Features.
There will be pleasing social features developed as the campaign proceeds, as the Reporter management is planning to give all the contestants a nice time in every way possible. In about two weeks—a banquet or luncheon will be tendered by the Campaign Managers to the contestants, to be given at Danbury, at which musical features, speeches, and stunts will be incidents, followed by a reception. All the candidates will be invited with their escorts, a group photograph will be taken, to be published. It is hoped to make this event one of the pleasantest social features of the campaign.

Other candidates are entering this week, and still others expected for next week. Elsewhere in the Reporter is published a list of all the candidates who are now in the race. The readers and friends of the Reporter are invited to look over this list and to give this fine crowd of young ladies and gentlemen their support and co-operation. They are among the county's best citizenship, and representative of our county's finest people.

Watch the figures in the voting after this week—see them rise as the workers get in

SHOOTING AFFAIR OCCURS AT KING

Circumstances Surrounding the Affair Are Mystery—Surprise Birthday Dinner—Other News of King.

King, April 16.—Roy Gentry, of Winston-Salem, was shot by Dewey Newsum at Newsum's home Sunday morning about six o'clock. Luther Newsum, a cousin of Dewey, was the only eye witness. It seems to be very hard to get any details as to just how the trouble started. Both parties are single men and Newsum resides alone on his farm two miles south-west of here. Gentry was shot with a 38-caliber Colts special revolver. The ball entered the breast just above the heart ranged around severing the spinal cord and lodged in the backbone. His condition is regarded as very critical. He was rushed to the Lawrence Hospital where the doctors stated that if the wound did not prove fatal that he would never be able to walk, as he is already partially paralyzed. Newsum was carried and placed in Danbury jail to await a preliminary hearing.

The close friends and relatives of Mrs. Johary McGee gave her quite a surprise when they gathered at her home on Pulliam street Tuesday in honor of her nineteenth birthday. The central decoration of the large table filled with good eats was the birthday cake with nineteen candles. These enjoying the occasion were: Mesdames C. S. and C. R. Newsum, Anne Grabs, and J. T. Love, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Love, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGee and small son Jack, Mrs. C. T. McGee and children Betty Lou and Thomas Williams, Misses Gertie Grabs, Thelma and Dorothy Newsum, Messrs. Johnny Grabs, B. L. Love, Claddie Newel Newsum and Porter McGee. The guests departed wishing Mrs. McGee many more happy birthdays. The honoree was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

An Easter service will be held at the Moravian cemetery next Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. The Bethania Brass band will make music for the occasion and immediately after the service at the cemetery a program will be given at the church on Main street.

Lester O. Pulliam, of Greensboro, spent Sunday here visiting relatives and friends.

Ernest Roberts, of Winston-Salem, was given a hearing here Thursday before Justices of the Peace J. R. Caudle and L. J. Kiser on a warrant sworn out by Thomas James charging him with the larceny of a number of chickens which were found at the home of Roberts. He was acquitted.

The King Tigers lost to Pinnacle in a game of ball played on the Pinnacle diamond Friday. The final score stood nine and eight.

Press Sally has purchased from J. E. Newsum his farm containing 125 acres which lies just west of town. The price paid was $5,100.00 and other considerations.

JOHN F. REYNOLDS IS NOMINATED

Republican Candidate For Congress In Fifth District—M. O. Jones Was Close Second For Place.

Greensboro, April 16.—Senator John F. Reynolds, retired business man of Wentworth, who developed as an unheralded and surprise candidate and whose vote on the first ballot was slightly less than that of M. Odell Jones, of Danbury, showed greatly increased strength on the second ballot, securing the fifth district congressional nomination at the biennial assemblage of Republicans of the district at the Guilford county courthouse yesterday. The vote on the second and final ballot was as follows:

Reynolds, 152.9.
Jones, 124.1.

On the first ballot Mr. Jones received 132.4 votes; Mr. Reynolds got 128.9, while Junius H. Harden, of Graham, Republican congressional nominee in 1928, was given 15.7 votes in spite of his emphatic statement, prior to yesterday's balloting, that he would not make the race this year.

It has been generally expected that Mr. Jones would be nominated without serious opposition in the convention. However, at the proverbial 11th hour friends of Senator Reynolds were definitely advised that Mr. Harden would not be a candidate. They had shown no disposition to enter the Wentworth man so long as Mr. Harden was a possible candidate. The senator was found to have a strong following when his supporters, assured finally that the Republican candidate in 1928 would not be an aspirant this year, groomed him for the nomination.
