AT GREENSBORO NEXT TUESDAY

North Carolina Tax Relief Association Invites Stokes To Send Delegation To Meeting Of July 1.

A State meeting of the N. C. Tax Relief Association will be held at the court house in Greensboro, Tuesday, July 1. In a letter to the Reporter, the Vice-President and Executive Secretary, J. Frazier Glenn, of Asheville, says:

"I want every tax-payer in Stokes county to meet at his county court house on June 28, and form a county Tax Relief Association and send delegates to the State Convention at Greensboro on the following Tuesday. This is a vital matter if the realty owners of this State are to continue in possession of their property. Tax sales are multiplying rapidly and in a few years, at the present rate, most of the real estate in North Carolina will pass out of the hands of its present owners, who will be rendered homeless and penniless. Tax reform in North Carolina must come about at once or the State is going to be ruined. No definite forms of relief have been settled upon as yet, and this Stat meeting is called for the purpose of getting our heads together and devising plans to be presented to the Legislature whereby the real estate owners of North Carolina may save themselves from their utter undoing. If, for any reason, an organization cannot be perfected on the 28th, we want as many tax-payers as possible from Stokes county to come anyway, and they will all be seated as delegates. Appropriate speakers will be present who will lay the existing tax situation in North Carolina before you. We want to then take action for the benefit of the coming Legislature."
