Items from Lawsonville

Lawsonville Route 1, Oct. 1.—People of this community are very busy winding up their crops from Jack Frost. Seems that he will be around very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williams visited Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. Lia Fry, Sunday. They were accompanied by Mr. Williams' mother, father and sister and husband, all of High Point.

Miss Gracie Priddy spent Saturday night with Miss Carrie Shelton.

Miss Madgaline Robertson visited Miss Hallie Spencer Sunday.

Mrs. J. A. Shelton and son, Curtis, of Pinnacle, spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fry.

Mr. Marvin Rogers called to see Miss Winifred Shelton Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hazelwood and family visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shelton Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Darnell Martin called to see Miss Mertie Sisk Saturday.

The North View school will not open within the next two weeks, which will be taught by Miss Clarice Morefield.

Among those who visited Misses Sarah and Paulina Robertson Sunday were: Miss Bernice Shelton, Miss Winifred Shelton, Miss Jettie Fry, Mr. Lincoln Williams and Mr. Perry Fry.

Wallace Moore called to see Miss Sadie Mae Fry Saturday night.

Willis Shelton was among those who visited Miss Bernice Shelton Sunday night.

Brockley Moore visited Misses Carrie and Essie Martin Saturday night.

Goprey Smith was sporting a new Ford Sunday which he has lately purchased.

Ed Clark and family visited Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Morefield Sunday evening.

Most of the inmates of this section have got their hunting license and now what they want is a price cut shell and a cure for yodeling fits.

A "Friendly Tariff"

In the past most of us have been interested in the tariff only in its relation to domestic industrial and agricultural conditions. Now we must likewise look at it in the light of international relations.

Prosperity and progress in the future will be largely determined by the volume of business carried on between us and other nations. What is wanted is a tariff that, while protecting American living standards, wages and industries against unfair foreign competition, will likewise allow development of our trade relations with the rest of the world.

The Fire Department

The first line of defense against fire in any community is the fire department. Its efficiency may determine whether a blaze shall be quickly subdued, with a minimum loss, or whether it shall become a roaring, destructive conflagration.

Our modern fire departments present an interesting contrast to those of ancient times. It was not until after the great London fire of 1666 that fire fighting was given serious study and organized fire departments created.

In this country the first public fire fighting organizations of importance were the volunteer "fire societies" which combined preparedness for fire with social diversions. The first successful steam pumping engine was adopted and used by Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1853.

Nowadays the up-to-date fire department is equipped with deluge sets, turret pipes and water towers capable of projecting streams of water as high as eight stories above the ground. Vast progress has been made in the perfection of our fire fighting facilities, and they are still in a process of evolution. Every American community, large or small, has found that a high-class fire fighting organization, well equipped, is one of the best possible investments.

Considerable frost was seen here this morning. However, very little, if any, damage was done by the frost.
