TOBACCO PLANTS KILLED IN COUNTY

Many Beds Being Resown, Which Will Mean Late Crops.

Farmers visiting the court house today stated that tobacco plants in most sections of the county were killed during the recent cold spell. Hughey Fulp, of Meadows township, said that most beds in his community had been resown. Some of the plants had four leaves and were well advanced when the cold weather killed them. Where the plants were killed it was the opinion of farmers that the crop would be late at best.
