Stokes Superior court for the trial of civil actions opened here Monday with Judge J. H. Clement presiding. The first case called was that of Commissioner of Banks against D. W. Kanoy, Mrs. Nellie Kanoy and Mrs. Lula Anderson. It was alleged in the complaint that the Kanoy's and Mrs. Anderson had borrowed money from the defunct Bank of Stokes County. Mrs. Anderson deeded that she signed the note but the Superior jury rendered a verdict to the contrary. The case was strongly contested with several attorneys on each side and as stated required a full day for its trial.

Two Texans Have Important Roles In Drive for Business Recovery

Jesse H. Jones of Houston, Texas, a Director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Melvin A. Traylor, President of First National Bank of Chicago.

TEXAS has a double interest in the success of the new Reconstruction Finance Corporation which has become an important business factor under the leadership of General Charles G. Dawes, former Ambassador to Great Britain. Selection of Jesse H. Jones of Houston as a director of this $2,000,000,000 credit corporation is generally regarded as recognition of Mr. Jones' talent for tackling large business problems. Of equal interest to Texans and many others in the Southwest is the fact that Melvin A. Traylor, a native of Kentucky and a former Texan, made one of the most important contributions to the organization of the Reconstruction Corporation. Mr. Traylor, who is now a Chicago bank president and often mentioned by his friends throughout the country as a potential Democratic candidate for the Presidential nomination, went to Washington and gave a Senate Sub-Committee the benefit of his exceptional experience in agricultural banking. One of his outstanding suggestions was that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be authorized to make loans to the receivers of closed banks as a means of alleviating distress of thousands of depositors in small financial institutions throughout the country. Mr. Traylor's suggestion made such an impression that it was embodied in the Bill as finally passed by Congress. He, more than any other man, is responsible for the timely assistance that will now be possible for many depositors of small banks throughout the country.

Let's Use Southern Trees and Shrubs

"One of the greatest assets that any country or natural part of it can have," as has been well said, "is a strong national or regional character, especially in the homes of the common people." In the same spirit a writer in Country Life has said: "The best ideal for any country is to look like the rest of the world, but to develop a strong personality of its own. Your local color lies in the two or three things that are commonest in your neighborhood—in the commonest shrubs, vines, and wild flowers within ten miles of your home." "Certain" it is that more of us in the South should make use of the characteristically Southern trees, shrubs, and flowers—the longleaf pine, pecan, live oak, magnolia, mimosa, grape magnolia, redbud, dogwood, yellow jasmine, and yucca, etc. And now is the time—any time when the ground is now frozen from now until the sap flows next spring—to beautify our homes by transplanting trees, shrubs, or vines from nearby woods or borrowing from neighbors who have a surplus of any of them. —The Progressive Farmer-Ruralist.

WILL DICK SISK GETS THIRTY YEARS

Murderer of Val Hall Happy Because He Wasn't Executed — Shook Hands With the Court, Etc.

In Stokes Superior Court Thursday night of last week the jury in the case of Willie Dick Sisk, tried for murder in the first degree, for the killing of Valley Hall, rendered a verdict of murder in the second degree after being out only about an hour, and Judge J. H. Clement sentenced Sisk to the State prison for a term of not less than 25 or more than 30 year. This was practically the limit, as the law provides for 2 to 30 years for murder in the second degree. The case was a most aggravated one and Sisk was so happy when the jury said murder in the second degree that he went up and shook hands with Judge Clement, Solicitor Kooz, his attorney and all the jurors who sat on his case. According to the evidence Sisk stabbed Hall in his own home while a dance was in progress, and apparently without any cause. The only defense the defendant offered was that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing. The trial of this case consumed practically all of Thursday.

REPUBLICANS HOLD CONVENTION

Jacob Fulton Elected Chairman Executive Committee—Resolutions Passed Demanding Elimination of Ad Valorem Tax for Schools, and Cut in County Salaries—Declare For Two-Term In County Offices.

Stokes County Republicans meeting in convention here Saturday afternoon went on record as opposing the fifteen cent ad valorem tax for the maintenance of the schools and recommended that these funds be collected from other sources; that all real property be valued at its true value in cash; that the office of county farm demonstrator be abolished; that the office of county accountant be abolished; that the salaries of all county officers be reduced commensurate with the ability of the tax payers to pay. It was recommended that our State Senator and representative use their influence for a like policy in State affairs. The act of the last legislature in increasing the Clerk's salary was condemned.

The meeting of the Republicans here Saturday was attended by a large delegation who were very enthusiastic over the prospects of the party in the coming election.

In the reorganization today Jacob Fulton, of Walnut Cove, the present chairman of the board of county commissioners, was unanimously elected chairman of the executive committee and M. T. Chilton, of Walnut Cove, was made secretary.

Members of the executive committee selected at the meeting were as follows: J. R. Nunn, H. F. Wright, H. McGee, C. O. Boyles, Caleb Joyce, Paul Fulton, L. D. Hole, S. G. Priddy and R. O. Wood.

Delegates elected to the state convention which meets in Charlotte on Tuesday, April 14th, were as follows: C. M. Jones, H. McGee, T. J. New, Dr. R. H. Morefield, J. M. Fagg, R. O. Wood, M. J. Fagg, V. O. Simmons, J. W. Talley, W. G. Petree, W. R. Bowles, M. O. Jones, C. C. McGee, S. F. Shelton, O. J. Bowles, Jacob Fulton, J. R. Nunn, Edwin Kiser. Alternates: Geo. H. Fulton, L. J. Fowler, C. M. Tuttle, James B. Joyce, Caleb Joyce, P. W. Morefield, Alex. Filinchum, J. M. Simmons, J. O. Pyrtle, S. F. Fulk, R. N. Browder, R. W. Barr, M. T. Chilton, S. A. Filinchum, E. R. Nelson, Mrs. Sadie Lovin, Dr. R. S. Holsabeck, R. T. Spencer.

The convention adopted the following resolutions: We observe many changes in business conditions and realize the importance of exercise of cautious judgment in the management of business affairs of our county to the end that we may avoid any embarrassment to the tax paying public.

Real estate has depreciated in value to the extent that in some cases it is considered an encumbrance instead of an asset. Farm products are not bringing on the market one-half the cost for production. Fifty to sixty per cent of the total population of our country and practically the total population of Stokes county is toiling upon the farms under these conditions. The tobacco crop, which is our chief source of income, did not bring on the market during the last season much more than enough to pay the fertilizer bill; we are left without any money with which to pay taxes and pay our just and honest debts in many cases, yet gigantic tobacco companies have raised the price of cigarettes and declared large and increased dividends for the past year.

We are reminded that the congregation of capital in the hands of a few has made it possible for the large corporations in every line of business to control both output and prices and thereby leave the masses subservient.

It devolves upon us to meet the conditions by the exercise of business economy both in every day life and in the management of county affairs. The necessity of reducing expenses is outstanding and our taxes should also be re-

FRANK HANCOCK MAY HAVE OPPOSITION

Stand On Prohibition and Sales Tax Causes Talk—Will Folger Of Surry Be Candidate?

The following story comes out of Raleigh to the Winston-Salem Journal:

Raleigh, April 12.—Reverberations from the new fifth district and over the State in general resulting from the stands taken by Representative Frank W. Hancock, Jr., Oxford, in support of the general and luxury sales taxes, the referendum on the prohibition question and other matters in Congress, begin to indicate that there is a sentiment developing in the district to bring out a candidate against him, and that sentiment apparently is heading toward John H. Folger, of Surry county.

Reports coming to Raleigh are that there is apparently a wave of opposition to the stand taken by Congressman Hancock, not only on his vote to submit a referendum on prohibition, but particularly on his sales tax vote and statement, which is expected to take the form of opposition to his candidacy for re-nomination.

Folger Opposes Sales Tax. Mr. Folger, is pointed out, is unalterably opposed to any form of sales tax, and was considered the leader of the sales tax opposition and was in large part responsible for its defeat in the Senate in the long General Assembly session of last year. Some papers in the state, within and outside the fifth district, including the News and Observer, Raleigh, and the Winston-Salem Journal, have recently had editorials regarding recent votes and statements of Congressman Hancock.

Heavy Vote in Surry. Mr. Folger, senator from Stokes and Surry counties, would be expected to get a big vote in those counties, the bulk of the vote in Forsyth and probably have a chance to carry Rockingham, it is claimed. Even if Mr. Hancock carried the other three counties in his end of the district, Granville, Caswell and Person, the vote in these is considerably less than the vote cast for him in the last election in Surry county alone.

Indications are that there will be an effort to get Mr. Folger to enter the race, and if he does, an interesting contest in the fifth may be expected.

Government Loans To Stokes Farmers

Walnut Cove, April 9.—The County Loan Committee for Stokes County, forwarded three hundred twenty-three applications for fertilizer loans to Washington this week, totaling $24,745. This brings the total loans approved to date to 786 with a total amount of $62,965.

More than 60 applications have been returned to the applicants for corrections. These are not included in those approved.

Checks are coming in quite rapidly now, and the fertilizer business is taking on new life.

The Reynolds Cut

The Reporter is advised that the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem, this week cut its manufacturing forces to a 24-hour basis. This concern has been working its hands 4 1/2 days a week.

As the Reynolds pay-roll constitutes the life-blood of Winston-Salem, the drastic cut put in effect this week is generally recognized as a serious proposition for the Twin City.

Home-Grown Beauty

Before it is too late, let's make plans for transplanting from the woods near by some trees or shrubs or vines that would add beauty to our home grounds—moving them before the sap rises, saving all the small roots possible, and keeping the roots damp till they are replanted. —The Progressive Farmer, Ruralist.
