

LITTLE STORIES OF HUMAN INTEREST

PERSONAL PENCILINGS ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW

County Agent J. E. Trevathan, of Walnut Cove, who is ably assisting in the administration of the government farm loan and in the Red Cross work, is, to say the least, a busy man. He recently informed your correspondent that since Jan. 1, 1932, he has hatched in his incubators twenty thousand chicks, and is now hatching them at a rate of 2,000 to 2,400 per week. In his incubators now he has eleven thousand eggs. Mr. Trevathan is ably assisted in his work by his mother and his young son, both of whom thoroughly understand the work.

Prof. A. R. Phillips, who was principal of the Francisco school the past session, was among the visitors to Danbury today. Mr. Phillips, whose home is at Dalton, this county, may be a candidate for the lower house of the general assembly in the coming primary. His name has been mentioned frequently.

Mrs. E. P. Pepper visited Winston-Salem Wednesday.

Three Winston-Salem men, Sam Belton, Buck Reavis and Marvin Phillips, after being held in Stokes jail ten days, have just been allowed to pay the cost and go home, on the authority of Justice J. B. Joyce. The men were charged with assaulting an officer, Constable Henry Dunlap, when they took his pistol away from him and one of them shot at him. It was not learned just how the compromise was effected. The men were to have had a hearing Thursday.

In the Register's office at the Stokes court house Sunday morning occurred the marriage of W. E. Huffman, of Walnut Cove Route 3, and Miss Martha E. Collins, of Walnut Cove. The ceremony was performed by Justice Jas. B. Joyce. The ages of the participants were 24 and 28, respectively.

Attorney and Mrs. S. G. Sparger were visitors to Walnut Cove today. Mr. Sparger is one of the Democratic candidates for the State Senate.

E. W. Carroll, prominent Stokes county Democrat, who is a candidate for the lower house of the general assembly, was among the citizens in Danbury today. Mr. Carroll asked this correspondent to correct the impression that he was running on a consolidation platform—that is, consolidating Stokes and Forsyth counties. He says that while ninety per cent. of the citizens of his community are for the consolidation he "is not running on that platform." Mr. Carroll believes in letting the majority rule in all cases.

Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Moorefield spent a short while in the Twin City Wednesday.

Mrs. J. Spot Taylor arrived home here today after being ill in John Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, for some weeks, having fully recovered from her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mitchell, of High Point, spent Sunday here with relatives and friends.

Henry H. Brown, of Pinnacle, was at the court house today attending to business matters. Mr. Brown was county superintendent of the road work done by the county before the last session of the Legislature turned all the road work over to the State, and his services were highly valued. In fact, a citizen here today said that he had made so few enemies during his regime that he might be able to make a successful run for Sheriff after John Taylor vacates.

Rev. John D. Smith, of Pilot Mt., preached to a large congregation in the Presbyterian church here Sunday night.

Pleasant visit acknowledged from D. M. Pyrtle and his attractive daughter, Miss Janet, Wednesday.

Mrs. Jesse Bradshaw, of Moore's Springs, was a Winston-Salem visitor Wednesday.

Miss Janie Martin has returned from a visit to her aunt, Miss Nanie Pepper, at Bethesda. She was accompanied home by Miss Pepper.

Miss Fan Stephens, of Martinsville, Va., is spending some weeks with Mrs. J. G. Bradshaw, at Moore's Springs. They were visitors to Danbury yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Glenn, John Gorrell and party of Winston-Salem people were here a day or two since making arrangement to occupy the Gorrell cottage at Piedmont Springs during the coming season.

Mr. John M. Taylor and a party of friends came up from Winston, Salem and spent Sunday at Mr. Taylor's club house just south of Danbury.

Miss Luna Taylor, teacher at Madison, accompanied by Ben Basley, of Reidsville, visited friends here yesterday.

Reminiscent.

Ben Adkins, who holds a government position in Washington, D. C., was a visitor here today for the first time in 25 years when he accompanied a large posse of revenue officers on a raid into Smithtown, 10 miles north of Danbury, when Walter Hendricks was killed by one of the blockaders in that section. The shooting became so severe between the officers and blockaders that the former were compelled to retire. A number of men were arrested later and one or two were tried for killing officer Hendrix but the government was never able to convict anyone of the crime. That was in those days when blockade distilleries were not found in every locality almost as they are today. Smithtown at that time had a reputation of having more blockaders than any section of the country probably. Now, it is probable that more blockading is going on in any other section of Stokes than in Smithtown.

In this connection a joke is recalled as told on a couple of the Smithtown distillers. The still sloop which was then made of corn meal instead of sugar was fed to the hogs and cattle, and was very beneficial in adding weight. Two of the operators of a plant had a large steer which they wanted to sell. It was stated that the steer could drink a full barrel of sloop at one time. So on the day they started with the steer to market they carried along a full barrel of the sloop, expecting to let the steer drink it just before reaching market. When almost there the sloop was offered to the steer but he refused to drink a drop of it.

Ed Taylor was in Winston-Salem Wednesday.

Stokes Couples Marry In Virginia

Stokes county is now issuing only a few marriage licenses. A majority of the couples go to Stuart or Martinsville, Va., to wed. For instance, during the past few days the following named couples have gone to Stuart to get marriage licenses: Homer S. Shelton, of Moore's Springs, and Miss Daisy H. Mickey, of Yadkin township; W. T. Hayden and Miss Nellie Sams, both of Kings; Harley R. Hopkins and Miss Annice P. Clark, of Lawsonville.

Couples from other sections are also going out of North Carolina into Virginia to get license to marry. Note: Robt. F. Soots and Cleo Byrd, both of Winston-Salem; Willie R. Stephenson and Harriett Molay Smoke, both of Winston-Salem; Joseph H. Owens, of Westfield, and Ralda M. Cain, of Pilot Mountain; Samuel R. Smith and Katie R. Johnson, both of Mayodan; Charlie H. Love and N. Louise Holliman, both of Winston-Salem.

It might be appropriate to note right here that Stokes county has a candidate for the lower house of the next legislature—Mr. E. Carr Gann—who proposes to use his best efforts to have the law repealed which requires that couples proposing wedlock shall undergo a physical examination before obtaining a marriage license. It is not that they can't pass the examination, Mr. Gann says, but they had just rather go where it is not required and they are doing it every day with the result that North Carolina is losing the fees.

Stuart Fixing To Play Ball

It has just been learned here from prominent citizens of Stuart, Va., Patrick county, that the base ball team there expects to put itself on the map this season, and a call for the players to assemble in Stuart on April 20th has already been issued. The Patrick team is known as The Camels, named after the famous Camel cigarettes made in Winston-Salem, whose makers are natives of Patrick county. Last year the Stuart team made a most excellent showing, but this year everything points to an even better season. Recently the team received a very liberal donation from Mr. W. N. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, showing that he still has an interest in the county of his ancestors. With this incentive, well may Martinsville, Piedmont, Rocky Mount, Reidsville, Madison and other towns watch Stuart during the coming ball season. They are going to play ball.

R. F. King, of Germantown, who is said to be the liveliest horse and cow trader in Stokes, was in Winston-Salem Wednesday. Mr. King says the tide of the Hoover depression has ebbed, as far as he is concerned. He pays no attention to flurries in the financial firmament, but goes on with his yearlings and mules, and never minds the "weather" so "the wind don't blow."

Today a car-load of the flour being distributed to those who need it was noticed passing through Danbury. It was noted that on the 24-pound bags the following printing was in large letters: "Government owned wheat—By authority of Congress—Distributed by American Red Cross—Not to be sold."

Card From E. W. Carroll

Danbury, N. C., April 13, 1932. Editor Danbury Reporter, Danbury, North Carolina.

Dear sir:— In your issue of April 6th, you published the following article: "E. W. Carroll, of Germantown, was here this week. He is a candidate for the lower house of the general assembly on the Democratic ticket. It is understood that Mr. Carroll's chief platform plank is for consolidation of Stokes and Forsyth."

It appears to me that you are taking a lot of privilege in telling the people what my platform is without consulting me. Look at your files and see what my announcement said regarding my platform, and since you have put me in a false light before the people I think you should publish it again. Where did you get this information? And why publish it without consulting me? I call it a raw deal. And if you want to do the right thing you will correct it. Personally I favor consolidation. And every man in the county is either for or against it. One faction or the other will represent this county in the next Legislature, and no matter which if he (or she) be honest and endeavor to do the wishes of the people. If I should be elected and the question of consolidation should come up (which there should be no need until Forsyth says they want it) I would try to ascertain the wishes of the majority of the people, and should it show that a majority favored consolidation, I would try to put it over—submitting it to an election. Should the majority be opposed to it I would fight to defeat it. Now since you have been generous enough to give the public a platform formulated by my enemies, I think you should put me in the right light. Very likely I will have a further statement to make later.

Very truly yours,
E. W. CARROLL
