

LITTLE STORIES OF HUMAN INTEREST

PERSONAL PENCILINGS ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW

Former Solicitor Geo. A. Younce, of Greensboro, was a visitor here today shaking hands with friends. Mr. Younce some days since announced that he would not be a candidate for Solicitor in the next primary.

Rev. and Mrs. Ellsworth Hartsfield and Mrs. W. E. Joyce returned yesterday from attending a district conference of the M. E. church at Elkin.

Attorney Gilmer Sparger and S. P. Christian attended Surry county Superior court at Dobson today in connection with the trial of Colonel Moore, negro, charged with killing his brother some months since on the farm of Mr. Christian, near Westfield, in Surry county.

Dr. Reid Joyce, of Wheatland, Oklahoma, who is attending medical college in Philadelphia, is here on a visit to relatives. Dr. Joyce will finish his course this term, and will go to Toledo, Ohio, and do intern work in a hospital there.

Robert Mabe, one of Stokes county's finest tobacco growers, here today from the Buck Island hills, stated that some insect was making serious ravages on tobacco plants in his community. In fact this report is coming in from a number of sections of the county.

Wesley Linville, of Walnut Cove was here yesterday returning from a visit to the parents of his wife at Stuart, Va.

Attending the funeral of Dr. W. V. McClesse here Monday as honorary pall bearer was Eugene E. Gray, one of Winston-Salem's most beloved citizens. Dr. McClesse had for years held Mr. Gray in highest esteem and never failed to visit him when he was in the Twin City.

M. J. Fagg, one of the avowed candidates for Sheriff in the Republican primary, was in town yesterday shaking hands with friends.

Mrs. S. S. Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Smith Oliver, of Roanoke, Va., were here last week visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Clovis Robertson left yesterday to spend some time with relatives in Forsyth county.

J. H. Carter, of Pine Hall, was here recently and filed notice with the county election board of his intention to run for Sheriff in Stokes county in the Democratic primary. Mr. Carter had the distinction of being the first candidate to file in Stokes, according to S. P. Christian, secretary of the board.

Harry H. Williamson, former county commissioner, was here today from Pine Hall.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Friendship Baptist church will present a program on "Mother" on Saturday night, May 7th. Mr. Bridgers, of Germantown, will speak on the same subject, after the presentation of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Wheeler, Walnut Cove, were here recently and Mr. Wheeler qualified as administrator of the estate of his father, the late E. M. Wheeler, who died at his home in Walnut Cove recently. Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler were accompanied by H. R. McPherson.

R. T. Joyce, of Westfield, visited his brother, H. M. Joyce, here this week. Mr. Joyce is a former member of the State Senate, having held the distinction of being elected to that body after he was seventy years of age. He represented Surry and Stokes counties.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Joyce are occupying a cottage at Piedmont Springs.

JUST ONE THING AFTER ANOTHER

CARL GOERCH
This same man, David Lesofsky, of Belhaven, about whom I wrote last week, came into my office a day or two ago to censure me severely in connection with that story about the fur business. After the censuring had been properly attended to, we sat and chatted about this and that—mostly that—and it was while we were talking that he told me about the stunt that Dr. Gibbs and two or three other friends down at Belhaven pulled off on him about three years ago.

There was a certain lady in Belhaven who was seriously ill and about whom the entire town was greatly concerned. It was while she was in this condition that Mr. Lesofsky had to leave on a trip to New York city to buy merchandise for his store. While he was gone, the lady died, but David didn't hear about it.

"How is Mrs. Blank," he inquired of Dr. Gibbs a day or two after his return from New York. Doc started to say something and then suddenly changed his mind.

"Poor Mrs. Blank," he murmured. "She is very, very sick. They just phoned around here and wanted to know if I couldn't get a little whisky for her. Haven't you got some that you could let me have, Dave?"

"Sure!" was the hearty rejoinder of the liberal Lesofsky. "You just wait a minute and I'll bring you a pint. I got some real good stuff."

In a few minutes he returned with a bottle. Doc thanked him for it and assured him that it undoubtedly would do Mrs. Blank a lot of good. Later in the day, Doc got two or three friends together and they all drank to the health of Mr. Lesofsky. Of course, David didn't know of the honor that was being bestowed upon him.

Early the following week, Doc saw David again.

"How are you, David?" he inquired in a somber tone of voice.

"I'm all right, Doc," Mr. Lesofsky told him. But what's the matter with you? You look kinder down and out."

"I'm worried about poor Mrs. Blank," replied Doc.

"How is she getting along?" asked David, anxiously.

"Very, very sick. I'm just looking around, trying to find some whisky for her."

"You just wait a minute", David counseled him. "I'll get you a pint."

"And do you know," Mr. Lesofsky told me, "that them darned scoundrels kept getting whisky from me for about two weeks before I found out that the lady had died while I was in New York. If I hadn't accidentally found out about it, there's no telling how long they would have kept it up. A sorry trick, I call it."

But just the same, he laughed heartily about it while telling the tale.

Attorney Gaston A. Johnson, of High Point, candidate for Solicitor in the 12th judicial district, was at the Stokes county court house yesterday afternoon, shaking hands with friends and meeting citizens of this county. Mr. Johnson was accompanied by Lee Gibson, prominent business man of High Point. Mr. Johnson, who is the only opponent of the present Solicitor, U. L. Koontz, of Greensboro, in the coming primary, is a young man, having practiced law in High Point for the past 7 years. It will be recalled that Attorney McAnally, who entered the race some weeks since, has withdrawn, leaving the field to Mr. Koontz and Mr. Johnson. The time for filing for Solicitor expired yesterday, so that the two candidates mentioned will be the only two to be voted upon in the June primary.

Mesdames S. P. Christian, J. W. Hall, W. E. Joyce and N. E. Pepper will leave tomorrow to visit Monroe, and attend the commencement of the Monroe High School where Miss Miriam Hall, of Danbury, graduates. They will return Friday accompanied by Miss Hall.

Robt. Sisk spent the week-end in Winston-Salem.

CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION.

To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

WHEREAS, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Bennett Mercantile Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the town of King, County of Stokes, State of North Carolina, (T. G. New being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "corporations", preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, J. A. Hartness, Secretary of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 2nd day of April, 1932, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 2nd day of April, A. D., 1932.

(Signed) J. A. HARTNESS, Secretary of State.

Sam P. Heath, former Danbury-Walnut Cove boy, now located at Greenville, was here this week. Mr. Heath buys tobacco for one of the big export companies. During the past season Greenville and Wilson had quite a contest to see which could sell the most tobacco, with Greenville winning, making it the largest leaf market in the world. Wilson had held the title for some years.
