TO ELIMINATE DANGEROUS CURVE

ENGINEERS MAKE NEW SURVEY OF ROAD LEADING THROUGH WALKERTOWN — SURVEYORS OFF FOR LEXINGTON.

The sharp dangerous curve in Walkertown on the road leading from Stokes to Winston-Salem, is to be eliminated.

Engineers have been at work for several days re-surveying this part of No. 89 State highway, endeavoring to get a more gentle and less dangerous turn for traffic.

The work of the survey is being done by the group of engineers who have been at Danbury for several months, viz., B. D. Gentry, R. F. Barnes, H. F. Lucas and H. C. Easley, whose task of surveying and overseeing the building and surfacing of the road from Buck Island ford to the Virginia line is completed.

These engineers, who still retain their office and headquarters here pending removal to other jobs by the State, expect to start a surveying project at Lexington this week.

The Evils Of Liquor.

Francisco, Jan. 1.

Mr. Editor:

Liquor has come in a big way, I suppose. But, boys, why can't you say "No," just once in a while when the bottle goes around.

And old men, whose wives and children are at home in want, serious want, need Red Cross help, are seen out drunk. Drunkenness is degrading. You have to live with yourself and so, why can't you be fit for yourself to know?

Boys and girls, how about a present for dad and mother? I hear somebody say: "I've got to get my sweetheart a present and that is all I can do."

"But, sister, you can get another sweetheart, but there's only one mother the wide world over. Please don't forget her. I always gave my mother something if it was only an apron or handkerchief or maybe a bit of extra cooking and I know every little thing was appreciated. Maybe I'm preaching folks, (memories are all I have now), and I'm happy to think of everything I ever did to brighten her life. Let's don't wait until after she's dead to give flowers.

J. Luther Mitchell and R. W. Inman, of Walnut Cove, visited Danbury Tuesday on their way to Lawsonville on a business trip. Mr. Mitchell is one of the largest cattle dealers of this section of the state. Mr. Inman represents the Tuttle Motor Co., of Walnut Cove. He says the automobile business is good.

Robbery In Winston-Salem

Safe in Brown-Rodgers Co., Winston-Salem, was cracked Saturday night and several thousand dollars taken.

YOUNG AND OLD DANCE AT FRISCO

THE YOUNGER ONES HOLD ON TIGHTER THAN THE MARRIED FOLK—ALBERT PHILLIPS RECOVERING FROM WRECK — MOSE OWENS DIES ON THE WAY TO THE HOSPITAL — OTHER FRANCISCO NEWS.

Francisco, N. C.

The young folks are having quite a few dances and some of the folks not quite so young like to dance too. They usually try to get in at least one reel of married folks. The younger folks think it funny to see the older ones swing. The only difference is the married ones don't hold quite as "tight a position."

A. R. Phillips, of Dalton, who has been principal of Frisco for the past two years, is laid up with a broken leg. He was in a wreck Dec. 24th near Rural Hall. Will George and W. E. Collins, of Frisco, visited him at the hospital. He was reported doing nicely. Since that time he has been removed to his home at Dalton.

Elbert Partridge, of Mt. Airy, will help teach at Frisco during Mr. Phillips' absence.

Will Collins is planning to open up his filling station again after Christmas.

Mose Owens died on the way to the hospital Saturday night, 24th, as the result of a shooting scrape over in Va. Roy Cook is held in Stuart jail pending trial.

F. P. Stone's family ate Christmas dinner with him Monday, at his home near Dobson. All reported a "full" time.

Christmas is here and let's hope old Santa brings us a great big snow. Christmas without snow is as bad as Easter without Eggs.

Asbury Sunday school gave a play at the Presbyterian church last night, presenting the birth of the Christ child. The play was gotten up under the supervision of Miss Virginia Hart. Miss Hart is doing great work among the churches. Everybody loves her. She is having a Christmas tree and play at Hill's Friday night.

Donnis Nunn and family have moved back to his father's, V. S. Nunn's. Don is operating a filling station, formerly run by Percy Goins.

1200 Arrests.

Raleigh, Jan. 1. — Captain Charles D. Farmer said tonight that there were about 1,200 arrests today of drivers who have not put on their 1934 tags, but the revenue department under which the patrol works is not insisting on fines and the offenders go with the costs.

Ola Campbell and J. J. Booth went to Winston-Salem Monday.

In the first move to rebuild the Republican party since the overwhelming defeat of 1932, Senate McNary, senate leader, today named a committee of nine to conduct the campaign for election of Republican senators next fall.

Mrs. Virginia Martin Joyce visited Winston-Salem Tuesday.

WEDDING BELLS IN PETER'S CREEK

FOUR COUPLES START THE NEW YEAR WITH PLIGHTED TROTH — VIRGINIA STILL THE GRETNA GREEN FOR STOKES MATRIMONIALS INCLINED.

The New Year starts right in Peter's Creek with four couples of the popular young men and women embarking on the sea of matrimony, as follows:

Georgia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lawson of Lawsonville becomes the bride of Watson Joyce, young business man of Patrick who operates a filling station near Five Forks.

Willis Mabe, son of Bob Mabe, takes unto himself as a helpmate Gladys, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bennett. The ceremony was performed at Stuart, Va.,

At Danbury, Justice P. C. Campbell officiating, Hardie Mabe and Edith Mabe were united in marriage. The groom is a son of Constable and Mrs. Rufus Mabe, the bride the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ed Mabe.

Married, also, by P. C. Campbell, justice, Johnnie Sisk and Della Shelton.

It appears that notwithstanding the repeal of the strict North Carolina law in regard to examinations for marriage, license is still largely purchased at Stuart and Martinsville, Va., and Virginia remains a popular Gretna Green for Stokes wedding couples.

All the above parties are of Peter's Creek township.

1200 STOKES FARMERS SIGN

THIS MEANS THREE-FOURTHS OF TOBACCO GROWERS HAVE COME ACROSS—KIRBY URGES EVERY FARMER TO HURRY UP AS THE CAMPAIGN SHOULD NOW BE OVER.

Contracts for slightly more than twelve hundred Stokes tobacco growers have passed through or come into the office of the County Agent. This represents approximately three-fourths of the land owning tobacco growers in the county. In several sections of the county practically every grower has already signed an Acreage Adjustment Contract with the government.

NON-SIGNERS HURT PRICE

It has been the hope of those in charge of the campaign in the State that growers of flue-cured tobacco would sign contracts prior to the date of the re-opening of the tobacco warehouses on January 8th. Such action on the part of tobacco growers undoubtedly would have a very wholesome effect on the price paid for tobacco during the remainder of the marketing season. The belief is held by many, that every person who either fails or refuses to sign a contract before January 3 will contribute his part toward pulling down the price of tobacco.

In Stokes the per centage sign-up is encouraging. The per centage of the growers signed here ranks

BIG FIRE AT COVE TUESDAY

W. F. BOWLES HARDWARE STORE AND T. D. MEADOR GROCERY COMPANY ARE THE LOSERS — WINSTON-SALEM FIRE CHIEF AND ONE OF THE C. C. C. BOYS INJURED BY FALLING WALL — AMPLE INSURANCE WAS CARRIED—ORIGIN OF FIRE UNKNOWN.

One of the worst fires in the history of Walnut Cove occurred Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock when the substantial brick building of W. F. Bowles went up in flames.

The hardware stock of W. F. Bowles and the grocery stock of T. D. Meador Grocery Co., which occupied the building, were consumed.

Assistant Chief of the Winston-Salem fire department together with five of the C. C. C. boys, who were fighting the flames, were injured, more or less seriously by a falling wall. The fire chief and one of the camp boys were carried to a Winston-Salem hospital for treatment of their injuries.

Immediately after the alarm was given, about 2:30 o'clock, help was summoned from Winston-Salem, and one of the Twin City fire companies quickly responded, reaching the scene in 20 minutes.

The blaze was first discovered in the rear of W. F. Bowles' hardware store. It quickly spread until the whole building was wrapped in flames.

It is not known definitely the amount of insurance carried by the losers, but reports are to the effect that the building and both stocks of goods were reasonably well protected.

W. F. Bowles carried a full line of hardware and house furnishings, while the T. D. Meador Grocery Co. was heavily stocked with groceries.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

as high as that for the Belt.

The time has arrived when the campaign should be over. Growers have been assured that they would receive the land rental checks by February 15, 1934, provided their contracts reached the Washington office in time to permit this. Then also, to continue to drag this work out into the New Year will not only postpone other activities which should claim our attention, but also will add to the expense of the tobacco work. The work must be completed at an early date.

Every man who is now eligible to sign the tobacco contract to adjust his acreage in compliance with the government plan and aid in the boosting both the price and the total income of the tobacco crop either fails or refuses to do so, will be for years to come trying to explain to his more than twelve hundred neighbors who already signed, why he did not stand by them.
